The first snowstorm of the season came at noon to-day.
The Grand Trunk Railway authorities are preparing a most magnificent car for the Marquis of Lorne. It will receive him at Halifax. It is pronounced to be far ahead of anything of the kind ever attempted on this continent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.
A London despatch denies that Beaconsfield has had an epileptic attack, as reported. He is suffering slightly from gout, but otherwise is well.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 1.
During a fight at a restaurant near the depot Wednesday night between five railroaders and five tramps, two tramps were fatally injured and two railroad men badly beaten, one railroader and three tramps arrested.

LONDON, Nov. 1.
Russia intends to raise an army in Turkey of 200,000 men.
The steamer Helvetia which sank the revenue cutter Fanny proceeded uninjured for New York.
The score in the walking tournament at 11 o'clock last night stood: Corkery, 371; Brown, 368; Weston, 337; Hibbert, 329; Rowell, 318; Crossland, 308.

LONDON, Nov. 1.
A Paris correspondent says it appears that the discontent in Spain is not confined to a handful of agitators, but that a more serious element of dissatisfaction exists in the army.

It is said that the doctors who examined Moncasio consider him perfectly sane.

LONDON, Nov. 1.
Simla correspondent says it is no secret that the Indian Government has urgently and repeatedly remonstrated against according the Ameer further delay. The Viceroy has used his whole personal influence in favor of immediate action. The sending of an ultimatum is universally regarded as a cruel and humiliating mistake. The same correspondent says the ultimatum demands a full apology and the reception of a British Mission with other conditions. There is no expectation that it will be accepted. It is hoped that the Ameer will refuse to permit the emissary who started on Monday to cross the frontier, but that he will temporise.
Another Simla despatch says the ultimatum gives the Ameer a very short time to answer, at the expiration of which it is believed there will be a general advance.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.
The "Golos" rejoices over the delay in English operations against Afghanistan. It says as long as peace continues, Russia can give arms and money to anyone.
The Russian press is extremely hostile to England. The "Vedomosti" says a great struggle with England, which has been preparing for centuries, will occur in Afghanistan. The "Ruski Mir" declares that the hour has come when England will be held responsible for the past delinquences.

The "Golos" and other journals to-day deprecate giving direct assistance to the Ameer of Afghanistan and advocate benevolent neutrality.
The "Golos" treats the English ultimatum as a positive postponement of military operations to an indefinite period, and advises Russian diplomacy to endeavor to prevent and open collision between England and Afghanistan.

Miscellaneous News.

HON. MR. BACHAUD, Provincial Treasurer of Quebec, is seriously ill.

President Hayes has sent congratulations to King Alfonso at the latter's escape from assassination.

FIELDS, a photographer, shot Riddell, a tailor, at Clifton, Ont., on the 30th ult. The bullet lodged in Riddell's liver. Fields was arrested.

Mr. Ira D. Sankey, the Evangelist, arrived at Liverpool on the 15th inst. He contemplates making a religious tour of England.

Mr. Sydney Hall, of the London Graphic, has arrived at New York, to make sketches on the occasion of the arrival of the Princess Louise and Marquis of Lorne.

The Comte de Montalivet, Louis Philippe's Minister, has just celebrated his golden wedding in a pleasant, patriarchal way. He gave a dinner to 400 of his rich and poor neighbors, and gave dowries to four brides who were married on that day.

Don Carlos, in a letter to ex-Queen Isabella, congratulating her on the escape of King Alfonso, declares that the demagogue shrinks from nothing in its attempts to destroy even Princes whom it has itself placed on the throne, and who are forced, perhaps unwillingly, to be its slaves.

"One of the Founders of the Parti National" writes to a French contemporary:—"What is the duty to-day of those honest men and true patriots, the founders of the Parti National? There is but one thing for them to do—to separate themselves completely from those fossil 'Liberals' who have killed their party, and unite with the men whose patriotism is at once a guarantee of their honesty and of the prosperity of the country." The Rouge ship is going to piece.

Civilization in the nineteenth century is very far advanced, but there is yet work to be done in the cause of education. The following choice bit of conversation is vouchered for by a Boston paper as having actually taken place the other day on Tremont Street, in that city: Ashowly dressed lady was telling a friend about her reasons for visiting town, and said, "I do so want to attend one of Messrs. Handel and Haydn's concerts. I am told they are very fine—especially one piece they give called the Oratorio."

Lord Dufferin, when taking his departure from Canada, left behind him a large number of interesting souvenirs. His Grace the Archbishop of Quebec was the recipient from his Excellency of a very artistically bound copy of his work, "Letters from High Latitudes," translated and printed in Paris. This magnificent volume is bound in full white morocco extra in the highest style of the art, and bears upon its cover the arms of his Grace the Archbishop, beautifully illuminated in gold and colors. In finish it is as nearly as possible perfect, and the design of the scroll work is really exquisite. A similar volume to the above, except that it is in red morocco instead of white, and bears the arms and motto of the University instead of the Archbishop's, was presented by his Excellency to Laval University.

Well may gas stocks go down, and shareholders quake for their pockets, when a game of football can be played, as was recently done at the Bramhall Lane grounds, Sheffield, by the aid of the electric light. At a cost of only threepence halfpenny, or seven cents, an hour, a light was thrown on the grounds equal in illuminating power to eight thousand candles. Thirty thousand people were present to witness the novel experiment, which was entirely successful, except that the players were occasionally led to make strange blunders by the dazzling brilliancy. The light was thrown on the ground from four lamps thirty feet high, and the rays emitted were so powerful as to afford a view of the contestants nearly equal to that which could be had at noon-day. Behind each goal was placed a portable engine, each driving two dynamo-electric machines, one for each light.

A pleasant incident of Robert Collyer's visit in England is thus told by a local paper:—"The other Sunday the reverend gentleman preached at Mill Hill chapel, Leeds. Whilst the swell congregation was dispersing and as Mr. Collyer was also leaving the church to take his seat in the carriage which one of his well-to-do hearers had sent to convey him thence, a rough-looking workman accosted the preacher and said:—"Ta dusen't know me, Bob, dus ta?" "No, I think not," said Mr. Collyer, as with a curious twinkle of his eye he surveyed the man. "Why, am Joe Wright 'at used to strike thee?" Wasn't there a shaking of hands by these two old smithy friends? Mr. Collyer was to be the guest of the mayor (Mr. Carbust) that day; but having met Joe he begged to be excused, and accompanied his old fellow-workman to his home."
