HAPPENINGS

Mrs. D. K. MacLeod and Mrs. W. T. Weir were convener for a social hour following the annual meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion in honor of Mrs. W. G. Bruce who is taking up residence in Middleton, N. S., in the near future.

Mrs. Russell Roper, past president, presented Mrs. Bruce with two Island scenes as a memento of her work with the Legion.

Tea was poured by Mrs. A. B. Cosh and Mrs. Harry Tidmarsh. Assisting in serving were: Mrs. Sutherland MacLean, Mrs. Albert Wilson, Mrs. Ira Brown, Mrs. A. Burke, Mrs. Jack Garnhum, Mrs. William Teed, Mrs. H. R. Vessey, Mrs. Harold Drew and Mrs. Maurice Burgoyne.

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

and a full skirt ending in a chapel train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a matching bandeau and she carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations and orchids.

Miss Kathryn Logan, as maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Betty Scott, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Mountain, as bridesmaids, wore frocks of robin's egg blue velvet, with hats to match and carried bouquets of yellow gladioli blossoms.

Dr. Sei Isomura acted as best man for Dr. Scott, and the ushers were Dr. Edward Turner and Dr. Robert Gordeau.

Mrs. Logan, mother of the bride, was gowned in beige lace, and wore a beige hat and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

The reception was held at the Naval Officers' Club.

Later, Dr. and Mrs. Scott left for the Southern United States, the bride travelling in a 'frock of shocking pink boucle, under a black wool coat, trimmed with white mink, and wearing a pink hat, and black accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ralph Ramsey, Mrs. Weston Whitlock, of Summerside, P. E. I., Mrs. Berkeley Schaub, Mrs. E. R. Logan, and Mrs. Herbert Crockett, of Toronto, Ont.

Ernest F. Coles, North Milton, on January 6, 1959, where their family entertained for them in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary. About seventy guests were present, and when all were assembled, the Rector, Rev. A. E. Piercy read to them an address and two beautiful chairs were presented on behalf of their relatives and friends present. The immediate family also presented them with a gift and bouquet of yellow roses to mark the occasion.

Mr. Coles in a reminiscence of the past and a few sincere words thanked all for their gifts and good wishes.

Following a very pleasant evening of social chat and entertainment, a delicious lunch was served, and the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Coles the very best in the years to come.

Relatives and friends will be sorry to learn that Miss Donald Mills is a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital. Donald was returning to her studies at Mount Allison University when she was suddenly stricken. Returning to her home she entered the hospital where she underwent an appendectomy operation on Friday morning.

Summerside Girl Is Wed To Doctor In Montreal

The marriage of Sandra Mikell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson M. Logan, of Summerside, P. E. I., to Dr. Kenneth Edward Scott, of Montreal, son of Mr. Malcolm Scott and the late Mrs. Scott of Ipperly, Que., took place on Saturday morning, at ten o'clock, in St. Cyprian's Anglican Church, the Rev. Harold Ashdown officiating. Mr. Herbert Crockett played the wedding music and red and white gladioli arranged with Christmas trees were used as decorations.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white velvet, fashioned with a fitted bodice, having a sabbina neckline, long sleeves,

ELLEN'S DIARY

Seed Catalogues Arrived—Plans For Garden Is Near

"I'm taking this one", Jeannie, mistress of the house across the lane offered today, selecting one of the Dicken's family of books from the old bookcase in this kitchen.

"It's one of them I have never read. Not that I'll have much time for it" she smiled, "though there does come the odd quiet moment. And I find there's something restful in reading the old books. Modern ones are different—there doesn't seem to be any peace in them at all!"

But peace there was in this week on the farm with every tree and field and bush held in that wide stillness of winter.

"And it's not been a bad winter at all", James commented this morning.

"In fact it's been ideal in many respects. A bit frosty perhaps. But there's been no roads along fields to break, no snow to clear away from the yards or doors. And amazing for the time of year—the hauling is all being done by tractor yet! No, we can't complain about the weather" he nodded.

Now the January moon shines, its silver light tender on the fields, as it brings our workaday week to a close. A quiet but busy week it has been, work done against a background of mid-winter white.

But into this, in an intriguing glimpse of Spring, we thought was premature, but which Granddaughter hailed blithely and thought was "like catching sight of a first robin" the first of the seed catalogues came. It proved to be as always of irresistible appeal, full of color and charm.

"We must get some of those... and these" Granddaughter said choosing certain of the flower and vegetable seeds from the pages, envisioning the blossoms and color ahead.

"My father" a writer recalls, "grew vegetables as other men paint pictures. From the first day the seed catalogues came, he planned devised, forecast. He had the vision of his garden first in mind, and then he plied his brush with practiced hand. Scarlet, crimson and madder, he brought to life in radishes, tomatoes, and beets."

"His eye pleased in the blue-green of cabbage and cauliflower, the emerald of pod and ear; in the rich orange and yellow of carrot, the pumpkin's gold, the egg-plant's purple silk; in the rhythm of line found in the crook-neck squash and in the grace of an ear of corn. So far as his hand could govern, the canvas followed the vision."

So with the arrival of the seed catalogues, winter plans will be made to be perfected through the summery days.

Now we have the silver radiance of moonlight, the brilliant sheen of January stars. Now, we fancy, the folks of this valley, week of work completed, are gathered to that "fair region" of home, which has their best-loved ones within. It is an enchanted place.

"O, traveller, who hast wandered far, Neath southern sun and northern star, Say where the fairest regions are!"

"Friend, underneath whatever skies. Love looks in love—returning eyes. There are the bowers of paradise!"

Until Monday — — — Diary. Good-night.

A clean sweep
for a confident father

The youngster with the broom is making a clean path for the curling stone. Maybe he doesn't realize it yet, but his father is guiding him through life on a path as direct and as smooth. Life insurance is a way to meet the future and a way to save. By insuring his son now, this father is encouraging thrift, building an attitude of mind.

Many people who plan their life insurance programme through The Mutual Life of Canada, take out policies at low cost on the lives of their children; policies the children take over when they start earning. It's a good idea. An idea worth discussing with your Mutual Life of Canada representative — soon.
