

Worth Knowing.

It is bad manners to dip tea in bread or coffee at table. Never do it unless when alone in a sick-room.

It is not proper to tilt a soup plate or use a teaspoon to gather up the last drops. It would be very inelegant.

In introducing a lady and gentleman always introduce the gentleman to the lady. Say "Mrs. Carey, allow me to present Mr. Lewis, or simply, M. S. Carey, Mr. Lewis."

The fashionable cards for ladies are now nearly square, though these have not superceded the larger cards—lately used, as many ladies prefer the latter. The name is printed upon them in script.

The nursery baby cries oftener from thirst than hunger. Don't forget to give the little one a drink of water three or four times a day.

Never enter a sick-room in a state of perspiration, as the minute you become cold your pores absorb. Do not approach contagious diseases with an empty stomach, nor sit between the sick and the fire, because the heat attracts the vapor.

Hair is taken off ladies' faces by means of electricity, and it never returns. A shock is given to the roots of the hair by an electric needle.

The Needle.

How often have I blessed my needle for rescuing me from the temptations which assail the other sex! Bright and innocent little implement! Among the minor blessings of woman's lot, thou shalt not be forgotten. Still come, and let thy fairy wand shine on her; still lend an ambitious joy to the playthings of the girl; still move unconsciously under the glittering smile of the maiden planning thy triumph results; still beguile the mother whose thoughts rove to her boy on the distant ocean, or the daughter watching by the sick bed of one who has hitherto toiled for her; still soothe the long dreary moments of faithful love; and though a tear sometimes fall on thy shining point, it shall not gather the rust of despair, since employment is thy owner.

An Appropriate Cane for a Bude.

Young Lady (buying a cane for a young gentleman friend)—I think I should like one with a head.

Clerk—Yes, miss; what sort of a head you would like?

Young Lady—Well let me see. I suppose it would have to match—everything does nowadays. Have you got one with a goose's head?

A LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN On the Loss of MANHOOD.

A LECTURE on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhoea, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M.D.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, tonics, instruments, or any of the cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
