16 RESCUED

due in large part to excellent survival training and discipline.
They made a shelter out of parachutes and stretched others out to signal search planes. One called for food and water, another for a doctor and a third said "all's well."

Lack of food was their main worry and morale was high except on the second day - Saturday - when bad weather kept search planes grounded.

Sunday a giant armada of American and Canadian planes took-off on a hunt extending from Labrador to the Southwest United States - the route the plane was to have travelled.

Sight Smoke
During the afternoon, an R. C.
A. F. Lancaster from Greenwood, N.S., piloted by F. O. J. M. Wallace of Halifax, sighted a thin whisp of smoke curling up into the chilly Labrador air.

Investigating, he found the encamped survivors and called in nearby United States planes to drop supplies. A Canadian plane from Rockcliffe, Ont., piloted by Fit. Lt. Richmond also dropped food, radio and medical supplies.

F. O. Wallace, bringing his Lancaster back to nearby Shearwater today, said the slender stream of smoke spelled rescue for the Americans.

"The Americans picked a good spot at an elbow of a small river," he said.

He was speaking from experience. He has been marooned himself and decorated with the United States Air Medal for his escape from the forests of Alaska after ditching his bomber. He also holds the Distinguished Flying Cross for continuing on a bombing mission despite a damaged plane.

Telling of the spotting of the Labrador survivors, he said they lined up "and we counted 14" when we went over. "Nearby we saw a tent made of a parachute."

Presbyterian
Moderator To Visit S'side

The Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Rt. Rev. F.
Scott MacKenzie, will be in Summerside on Friday, October 13 and will address the congregation at the Women's Missionary Society that evening.

The public and all friends of the congregation will be invited to be present. On Sunday, October 15 there will be held in the Church a thanksgiving and dedication service in connection with the improvements recently made to the outside and interior of the Church.

These improvements consist of general repairs and painting of the outside of the building which included the practical rebuilding of the steeple which in March last had been struck by lightning and badly damaged.

The console of the organ is to be moved outward which will make a general improvement and facilitate the directing of the choir.

OTHER ALTERNATIVE

the Farmers Union of Alberta, and J. F. Phelps, president of the Saskatchewan Farmers Union.

Mr. Phelps said that farm prices were so out of line with prices of commodities which the farmer must buy to survive that some Saskatchewan farmers had decided to hold back their crops from market in the hope of better prices in the future. Others were boycotting machinery producers. Still others were seriously considering the question of striking.

"Unless something is done, the Government is going to hear more from the Western farmer," Mr.
Phelps said in an interview. "They will not be satisfied with nothing."

At the roots of current trouble, said the farm leaders in their brief, was the 1950 Prairie frost - "one of the worst early frosts in many years." Killige millions of bushels of wheat and lowering the quality of others, the frost had done so much damage in some areas that farmers there would not be able to pay all their current expenses.

"As a result many farmers will be worse off financially, when interest and depreciation are accounted for after the crop is harvested, than they were before they put the crop in."

Other Requests
The brief made these other requests:
1. Lifting of wheat marketing from Mr. Howe's hands and transferring it to Mr. Gardiner.

2. Free choice of delivery points by wheat farmers, instead of current restrictions to Port William Port Arthur, Churchill and Vancouver.

3. Producer representation on the Canadian Wheat Board and the Grain Standards Board.

4. A change in grain-grading standards to include optional wheat grading on a basis of milling percentage and baking qualities.

5. Adjustment on a "more equitable basis" of price spreads between various wheat grades, but more particularly on grades 2, 3 and 4.

6. Elimination of the "costly procedure" of marketing coarse grains through the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.
