

The Old Home.

It sleeps beneath the sunny hill As in a tranquil dream; The giant elms are spreading still Above the meadow stream.

Wild birds that join in music sweet, And quiet sheep and cows Find grateful shelter from the heat Beneath those leafy boughs.

All day among the scented grass The crickets leap and sing, And green and golden shadows pass Like swallows on the wing.

How calmly in the sheltered nook The summer hours may go, Yet bright and joyous as the brook That sings with deepening flow.

O world, with all thy cities' pride, Thy plains and valleys green, Thou hast not in thy boundries wide So sweet, so fair a scene.

—Philadelphia American

Cheerfulness.

Next to the sunlight of heaven is the cheerful face. There is no mistaking it—the bright eye, the unclouded brow, the sunny smile, all tell of that which dwells within. Who has not felt its electrifying influence? One glance at this face lifts us out of the mist and shadows into the beautiful rest of hope. One cheerful face in a household will keep everything bright and warm within. A host of evil passions may lurk around the door, but they never enter and abide there; the cheerful face will put them to shame and flight. It may be a very plain face, but there is something in it we feel, yet cannot express, and its cheery smile sets the blood dancing through our veins for very joy. Ah, there is a world of magic in the plain, cheerful face! It charms us with a spell of eternity, and we would not exchange it for all the soulless beauty that ever graced the fairest form on earth. It may be a very little face, but somehow this cheery little face ever shines, and the shining is so bright that the shadows cannot remain, and silently they creep away into the dark corners when the pleasant face is gone. It may be a wrinkled face, but it is all the dearer for that, and none the less cheerful. We linger near it and gaze tenderly upon it and say: "God bless this dear happy face!" We must keep it with us as long as we can, for home will lose much of its brightness when this sweet face is gone. And after it is gone, how the remembrance of it purifies and softens our wayward natures. When care and sorrow would snap our heartstrings asunder, this wrinkled face looks down upon us, and the painful tension grows lighter, the way seems less dreary, and sorrow less heavy. God bless the cheerful face! What a dreary world this would be without this heaven born light! And he who has it not should pray for his daily bread.

MRS. SOPHIA POTTER'S Bone Rheumatic Liniment

It is a fact worth knowing that Mrs. Sophia Potter's Bone Rheumatic Liniment cannot be excelled for removing pain and soreness. It is no worthless trash, as some may suppose, simply because they have been imposed upon by others but is positively the "King of Pain." Sore throat cannot stand before its power. All we ask is a trial that you may be convinced of the truth of our statement. Our experience is that one bottle tried also sells many more. See circular for particulars and testimonials, and try a bottle—it will not fail to do all that is promised. R. V. BARKER, St. John, Wholesale Agent. W. R. WATSON, Charlottetown, P. E. I. J. A.
