Play Successfully Presented At Kensington

The "Arrival of Kitty" was successfully presented to a fairly large and appreciative audience at Kensington, on Thursday evening, May 7th, in the King George Hall, by the Lot 16 players, sponsored by the Young People's Union of the United Church, Kensington. This highly diverting play was in three acts; the scene was laid in an inn on the mountain side of the Catskills, whither Mr. William Winkler, a gentleman of parts, had betaken himself with his old-maid sister and his young and pretty niece, both "Janes."

Young Jane is in love with Bobbie Baxter, a personable though penniless young man who cannot give her up and who follows her to the inn. Mr. Winkler, the Guardian of his niece is to receive the sum of $10,000, according to her late parents will, upon the consummation of her marriage to one Benjamin Moore, whom she has not seen, and who, when she does arrive late and despair turns to her brother for resources, and invokes his aid—promising him $10,000 if he will procure her a husband!

Her brother promptly promises to get her a man and forthwith calls up the Matrimonial Bureau and engages one—a for a small sum! When Benjamin Moore unknown to all by sight, arrives at the inn, Mr. Winkler, saying he has come for his "Jane," Mr. Winkler immediately jumps to the conclusion he is the man sent from the matrimonial bureau and engaged for his sister, and promises to produce his future bride for his inspection, thereupon sending young Jane to her aunt's room with a message to make herself as presentable as possible, to meet her bridegroom. Upon the arrival of Kitty—an actress—out of a past which Mr. Winkler has always kept scrupulously hidden from his sister and his niece, complications arise, and the plot thickens.

How the colored porter and the bell boy play their funny parts in the scene of things, of how Bobby, young Jane's lover finds out Mr. Winkler's true character, how he denounces him and appropriates his own little Jane, how Benjamin Moore is finally persuaded to marry the old maid, how Mr. Winkler himself, concludes to reform and patch up his past with Kitty, is all delightfully amusing and should really be seen to be appreciated.

Mr. Maxwell Campbell as Mr. Winkler, the gentleman with the strange match-making tendencies, was exceptionally good, and kept the audience in gales of laughter. The scene of things, of how Bobby, young Jane's lover finds out Mr. Winkler's true character, how he denounces him and appropriates his own little Jane, how Benjamin Moore is finally persuaded to marry the old maid, how Mr. Winkler himself, concludes to reform and patch up his past with Kitty, is all delightfully amusing and should really be seen to be appreciated.

among other things that: "No person shall in the City of Charlottetown drive any bicycle which shall be owned in said City or regularly or frequently driven therein unless the same shall be then duly licensed and registered by the said City and shall have appended to it so as to be clearly visible from the rear a proper number of the motor motor, Coun. Hennessey said. It would mean a saving of about $150.00 and would provide a small amount of additional employment.

The possibility of providing a rest room and up to date toilet facilities in the Market Building was discussed by the council. Councillor Vandierstine was left to bring in a report at the next regular meeting of the council, outlining how much the project would cost, and how supervision would be provided. Public Utilities Resolution
The following is the text of the resolution regarding the payment by the city of one half of the expense of the Board of Public Utilities investigation. Whereas the City of Charlottetown is the complainant in an investigation now being conducted by the Board of Public Utilities of the Province of Prince Edward Island into the rate structure of the Maritime Electric Co., Ltd. And whereas the accepted practice in conducting such investigations in other provinces has been, except when a complaint has been shown to be utterly frivolous, and of such a plainly apparent unfounded nature as to cause the Board to decide that the filing of the complaint was unwarranted and mischievous, to assess the costs of the investigation against the public utility concerned.

And whereas this assessment can be made only after the completion of the investigation, while during the conducting of the necessary appraisal, audit, etc., there are certain current expenses to be defrayed. And whereas the Board of Public Utilities has asked both the City as complainant, and the Maritime Electric Co., Ltd., as the public utility concerned, to provide the money necessary to carry on the investigation. Therefore be it resolved that the City Council of Charlottetown hereby authorizes the Finance Committee of this council to provide the half of the sum necessary for the conduct of the investigation, provided the Maritime Electric Co., Ltd., undertakes to provide the remaining half of the cost.

And be it further resolved that in the event of the Maritime Electric Co., Ltd., refusing to provide one half of the sum required, this council hereby authorizes the Finance Committee to advance to the Board of Public Utilities a sum sufficient to conduct, and complete the investigation.
