HORSESHOEING.

HAVING secured the services of MR. WIL-LIAM TUCKER, a native of this Island, who has had nine years' experience as a Horseshoer in the United States, I am prepared to supply a long-felt want in this line. Mr. Tucker has reduced horse-shoeing to a science, and is prepared to perform all classes of work in a common-sense and scientific manner. I need not inform the intelligent horseowner that the gait of the horse and condition of the feet must be understood to weight a horse properly and to successfully operate thereon. Numerous patrons already admit the merits of the work performed, and recommend his system of shoeing.
Customers can always depend on prompt attention and entire satisfaction.

Our Trottie.

A CORNISH PILOT'S STORY.

(The following touching little poem will, doubtless, find its way to many a bereaved parent's heart.)

Wouldst like me to tell thee something about our little pet?

Maybe I best can do it, the mother would surely fret?

But I like to talk of our blossom—a fair little flower was she.

The light and joy of our cottage, and the pride of my life to me.

We'd but the one, you see, sir, so we treasured her all the more.

By the one wee bird in an empty nest you needs must set great store?

And her curly locks and laughing eyes were a bonnie sight to see

When the little lass came trotting out, so glad to welcome me.

She was only a pilot's bairn, sir, reared by the grand old sea—

She heard its waves as her cradle song, and tossed in the boat with me;

And she'd shout with joy as the waves rode high, and clap her hands with glee, Saying "Trottie ain't one bit afraid to be out on father's sea."

So seven winters of storm and cold, and seven summers bright,

Slipped like the tune of a morning song when all the world is light,

And then—I must tell it short, sir, for the score has a smarting pain—

Our darling went from our cottage, and she'll never come back again.

A fall, and just a bit of a hurt, that wasn't much to see,

And then she drooped and faded, too sweet for the likes of we.

I think the Lord of the children wanted her up above,

So He stooped for our one wee blossom, and gathered it in His love.

And I'd carry her to the cove where the waves plash soft and low,

And I'd tell those waves that I know so well as I couldn't let her go!

And Trottie would talk of the lovely Home where there is "no more sea"

"No storms and wrecks!" and no empty boats!
—that's what it means," said she.

"And, father, dear when you've been out, and the storm so wild and black,

Mother and I asked Jesus to keep you and bring you back;

And the words He said in His little boat have often come quite true,

And Trottie wants to thank Him for His "Peace, be still," to you."

Sir, they tell me when a shepherd takes a lamb into his care,

The sheep will follow better when their little one's not there;

And the wife and me are pressing quicker along the road,

To end the journey surely at home with her and God.

ROSA WHEELER.

Cardigan Notes.

The weather is so mild that navigation is open yet, and the schooner L. & S. is loading a cargo of potatoes for the United States.

The quantity of produce shipped at Cardigan this year is far in excess of any previous season. An extended report is being prepared, and will be published when the navigation finally closes, or at the end of the year.

Although the prices given for potatoes, oats and turnips were very low, owing to the rot in the potatoes, shippers have not made much money. The farmers have had the satisfaction, however, of getting as much as those in other sections of the Island, and it will be necessary for them to consider carefully why so many of their potatoes had the dry rot that was so prevalent.

The Liberal-Conservative Convention in Georgetown, on Thursday last, was a great success. Scores of wagons passed Cardigan and the Grits were all in hiding to conceal their chagrin. If the day had been fine, no doubt the number who attended the Convention would have been largely increased. Enough, however, were present to show conclusively that the Liberal-Conservative Party in King's County, as Senator Howland so aptly said, are "numerous, intelligent and influential."

The annual meeting of the Three Rivers Fairymen's Association is to be held in New Perth School House on the first Tuesday in January, and interesting papers are promised by some of the members of that Association. This Society has done some useful work during the past year, notable among which is the ploughing matches that have been held. It is very important that our farmers should be skillful ploughmen, for without careful preparation of the land, less abundant crops will be raised; and when prices are low, it takes the very best yield to the acre to give farmers a living profit.

The attempt of the Patriot to throw ridicule on Senator Howland and the subway not only shows that the Grits are "cut to the heart" at the magnificent demonstration made by the Liberal-Conservative Party (against the influence of which they dare not say a word) but it also is calculated to have a prejudicial effect on the best interests of the Island. The article headed "The Grave Digger" in last Friday's daily is a dastardly attempt to make out that Senator Howland is only a crank who rides a hobby, and that, consequently, the Dominion Parliament should pay no attention to him. Every well-wisher of the Province, no matter on which side of politics, should resent an attack on a gentleman who is doing yeoman's work in the interests of this Island. How it is that so many of our people are blinded by the advice of the Patriot and the Grit Party can only be ascribed to the fact that "God has given them strange delusion that they should believe a lie."

The Marquette Nomination.

Hon. Thomas White has sent a letter to the Conservatives of Marquette declining the tendered nomination and urging them to support Mr. Boulton. He says:—"I feel deeply the compliment thus paid me, especially as it comes from a community with which my relations have been only official, and implies, therefore, that my efforts to administer the affairs of the Land Department in the interests of the people of Manitoba and the Northwest have met with the approval of those who have the deepest interest in them. I am reluctantly however, compelled to decline the proffered nomination. Conservatives of Cardwell, in 1878, nominated me without my knowledge or sanction, and although I was at the time an entire stranger to them they have since renewed their confidence in me by an increased majority at the elections which have occurred since that time, and they have done me the honor to request me to again become their standard bearer at the approaching election. Their kindness and confidence established a claim upon what service I can render them, which it would be most ungrateful to ignore, and I have therefore placed myself again in their hands."

Business in Montreal.

Speaking of the state of trade, the Montreal Gazette says: "According to precedent we should have a dull state of trade during the present month, but such precedent has been perceptibly moved aside to an extent which has admitted a very fair volume of business, considering the time of year. This is all the more satisfactory, as the demand at this season comes naturally and without any effort to create it, most merchants being intent on squaring accounts rather than in soliciting new business. The general feeling in the mercantile community is healthy and few complaints regarding payments were heard of. Our compilation of the value of goods entered for consumption at this port for the eleven months clearly reflects the improvement that has taken place in trade. The November statement showed a considerable increase over 1885. The grand total for the eleven months reached $34,206,661, against $31,762,056 in 1885, and $34,288,600 in 1884. Exclusive of coin and bullion, the figures were $34,102,- 814 against $29,433,404 in 1885, and $31,- 039,399 in 1884.

Warning Our Houses.

During our Canadian winter, we subject ourselves, some of us voluntarily, some of us whether we will or not, to an ordeal, to which the wonder is not that some succumb, but that any escape from it alive.
Mr. E. Y. Robbins, writing in the Popular Science Monthly, under the heading, "How to Warm Our Houses," describes it without exaggeration. "He" says, a "blizzard of unusual severity" were coming from the Northwest that would send the thermometer down 50° or 70° in three hours, we should expect a great increase of pneumonia and other respiratory diseases, resulting in many deaths. Now, instead of three hours, suppose the mercury were to drop three score degrees in three minutes—or, take another step in fancy, and suppose this great change to take place in three seconds—what would be likely to be the effect of health? And yet we bring about, artificially, changes to ourselves quite as sudden and severe as this.
We make an artificial climate of our houses.
We live in-doors in an atmosphere heated by stoves, furnaces or steam pipes to 70° or 80°; and we pass from our parlor or hall so heated into the open air. At a step, literally in a breath, the temperature of the air has, for us, dropped 50° or 70°.
It is in effect going from Cuba to Iceland—or at least to New York—at a dozen times a day."

Mr. Robbins would revolutionize the whole system of modern house-heating.
He would do away with the furnaces, close stoves and steam pipes, and substitute for them the open fires of a day that is gone.
The object of a fire, he argues, is to heat our bodies, not the air. Open radiation warms the objects in the house or room, and from them the air gets all the heat it wants. In the other case the air is heated first, and surrounding objects receive their supply from it.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected, and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when these diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness.
A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price 75 cents, large bottles.
