Imperial Federation.

As already announced a public meeting in the interests of Imperial Federation is to be held in this city in the near future. The principal speaker on the occasion will be Rev. Dr. Wilson, who perhaps more than any other man in this Province, has studied the question, and whose addresses thereon have been highly spoken of by the press generally. He is President of the St. John branch of the Imperial Federation League and is under engagements to discuss the question in several centres during the autumn. What Dr. Wilson's views are may be gathered from the following copied from the Methodist, of which he is the editor, but which in a lecture is dealt with more in detail:

"We believe our interest lies in closer union with our own kith and kin, with those who own allegiance to the British throne and nation. The best minds in the Empire have reached that conclusion, the ablest statesmen are seeking how to solve the problem as to the best means to bring it about. Irrespective of party, the question is being discussed, and a basis of union is being carefully worked out. We are not unaware of the difficulties to be gaappled with, the prejudices to be removed, or the obstacles to be overcome; but, we are satisfied that when the time for decided action arrives, the men for the hour will be in readiness. For practical sagacity and broad-thoughted statesmanship our national leaders have usually been equal to the greatest occasions. And history that is continually repeating itself in other lines will not fail to do so in this when the circumstances require it.

"And the signs of the times are everyway encouraging. The spirit of the age is opposed to isolation, kindred communities are coming more closely together, weak and petty states have now no chance to live, much less to succeed, and no statetman today advocates disintegration. Germany, France, Italy, all the great powers, are seeking an enlargement of their boundaries and new territories are being added from time to time. The causes that have kept widely-separated sections of the same Empire so long in ignorance of each other are rapidly passing away, electricity and steam are diminishing distance, and great highways for trade and commerce are bringing regions far apart to have a community of interests. And in our case the wonderful spread of the mother tongue is making the various races under our rule familiar with our superior civilization, the beneficial influence of our form of government is being more and more appreciated as the years go by, while the religious benefits that are inseparable from British citizenship are making us stronger.

Imitating our example, our fellow-subjects in Africa and Australasia are now seeking to group together in Colonial Federations the several dependencies of the Empire in their respective sections. Such unions will materially lessen the difficulties to be dealt with, and will pave the way for the greater union. Newfoundland and the West Indies should be brought into this Dominion, which would not only be a great step towards the unification of the Empire but would also solve certain commercial questions that are now somewhat perplexing.

"We trust therefore to see Imperial Federations more than ever active in the dissemination of their principles. Let branches be established in all our centres of population. Let our people be made acquainted with its objects and aims. And let all who appreciate the splendid heritage to which they have fallen hrs seek to preserve and perpetuate that heritage, and pass it down to their successors not only unimpaired, but improved and enlarged by their earnest and loyal endeavors. The interests of the world at large would be protected by the binding together of such a number of powerful and prosperous states. Every man with a drop of British blood in his veins or a spark of British feeling in his soul should wish well to such a scheme. Every one who wishes well to his race in the banishment of tyranny and the establishment of liberty on a sound and permanent basis should give his heartiest support. And every one who believes in the religion and institutions of the Anglo Saxon race should pray and labor for its realization."

The Finest Ever Seen.

A GERMAN OFFICER'S HIGH PRAISE FOR THE MOVEMENTS OF THE FRENCH ARMY.

The Paris correspondent of the Times gives the substance of a German officer's report to his Government on the recent French army manœuvers. This officer says that the infantry fighting in dispersing or surpassed anything hitherto seen. Referring to the movements in close order, he says that for regularity and compactness they recall the Greek phalanx. Continuing the German officer remarks that the cavalry, perhaps, are lacking in calmness, but their mobilizing would serve as a model for the cavalry of other countries.

The report mentioned, the German expert also says that in spite of certain faults in the tactic movements and supply arrangements there is no mistaking the exactness and skill of vision with which General Saussier dictates his plans, adding, "and in face of unexpected situations, his orders testify to an admirable clearness and rapidity of his judgment."

In touching upon the French artillery, this report refers to the "excellent discipline of the upper grades of officers" as being quite surprising. "They are," it says, "men who are indefatigable and full of zeal, fight and labor."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Scott Act at the West.

SIR,—A glorious and prosperous time seems to be at hand for the rum sellers of this end of Prince County. In Mr. F. Peters' type-written letter to Inspector Brodyrick, he says: "It is not prudent to get too many convictions against one person, as he may go to jail and not pay the fine." Why, now when a rum seller is convicted once he can simply appeal the case, and keep it in court as long as possible, and quite safe in selling away, as the advice to the Inspector is that it would not be prudent to convict him again until the other fine was paid. Evidently the Leader of the Government sets more value on the $50 fine than he does on the suppression of the liquor traffic. I am sure that the Attorney-General will find his "Scott Act" receipts from his Western end Inspector rather small according to his two first prosecutions, as the parties fined can now stalk around and snap their fingers. At the same time Brodyrick can, with extended arm, shake a type-written letter and exclaim, "see here, where the Leader of the Government endorses what I have done because the last fines were still unpaid." Verily, this is a great temperance country, where you can buy licenses at five dollars apiece.

The Potato Crop.

(Fredericton Reporter.)

The only crop in the province that has gone below the average this year seems to be the potato. From all over the province the reports come in that the rot has affected the crop to a far greater extent than for some years. The peculiarity of the disease is that it first effected the tops, and in a few days whole acres were black and wilted. The rains seem to wash the poison from the stalk down into the earth, where it effected the potato, causing not a dry rot as in some years, but a watery decaying rot, completely destroying the whole potato, after it became once affected. The ravages of the disease is not confined to New Brunswick, for all over Maine the reports are forthcoming of the same potato rot.

The Aroostook Republican deduces a lesson to the Aroostook farmers from the rust and rot that are effecting the potato crop. The Republican says: "It is possible that the damage to this year's crop will result in good, because, while it is of such a character as not to cripple the farming community, it is sufficient to teach them the meaning of the word "caution," and when they have learned not to depend entirely upon one crop, the better is the prospect for their ultimate success, when free from debt and interest load, they can pay cash down for their improvements and for their supplies." The Republican adds that "even with a partially damaged potato crop, the farmers of Aroostook are prosperous this season, because of the large crops of hay and grain." And the same can be said very truthfully of this province.

The Massachusetts board of agriculture reports no less than 800 abandoned farms in the State, exclusive of such property as that on which the buildings had been so long abandoned that they had disappeared and the land grown over by brush. And yet the farmers of Massachusetts have unrestricted access to the market of sixty-five millions about which the grit press had so much to say before the last election.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes.
