Samuel Grube, of Wabash, Ind., while reading a newspaper recently, discovered that he had fallen heir to a fortune of 1,500,000 francs in Europe. Still there are people to be found who say that there is nothing interesting in the papers. This 1,500,000 francs item was certainly an interesting one to Mr. Grube. Read The Examiner carefully.

The storms on the night of the 24th and yesterday were the severest experienced this fall. More or less damage was done along the coast, the Souris breakwater coming in for a share. About 45 feet of the outer covering of the slope being carried away, timbers driven out, and otherwise damaged. Repairs are being made to this work, but they cannot be fully completed until after the ice forms.

The storm was very severe at Summerside yesterday. The railway wharf was damaged considerably, and is being repaired to-day. Holman's wharf was also damaged, and one of the abutments of Muirhead's wharf was washed away. A schooner at Holman's wharf had her bows damaged. A lot of lumber and other light articles stored on the wharves, was carried over into the sea and lost.

Capt. McLeod, in charge of the cargo of sheep on board the schooner William, which dragged her anchor as reported yesterday, desires to thank the resolute citizens of Charlottetown for the vigorous assistance rendered in saving the cargo of said schooner and individually, as known, to Captain Sullivan, Mr. Sweeny, of lower Water Street, and Mr. George Coombs. All others in friendly estimation.

We advise those intending to purchase Xmas presents to wait for the Apron Fair, when they can secure something pretty, cheap, and suitable for anyone. See advertisement.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A., last evening was largely attended, and deep interest manifested in the working of the institution. The President gave a financial statement showing a deficit of some $300 and asked all present to assist in meeting it, and in an endeavor to add to the list of subscribers. A committee of twenty was appointed to canvass the city for new subscribers and solicit donations towards paying off the debt. We hope they will meet a hearty response and thus enable the Association to continued with increased efficiency its valuable work.

[Special Despatches to The Examiner.]

Murder Most Foul.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 26.

A Times special says: "A report has reached here that the Poe family, thought to have been destroyed by fire in Knox County a month ago, were in reality murdered by a neighbor named Concubine. A mother and five children and two visiting young ladies were found buried in the ashes of the destroyed hut. The story of the murder is told by the illegitimate son of Concubine, whom the reputed father had threatened and made mad. The boy says the man cut from ear to ear the throats of each of the eight persons while they slept, and that his mother then dragged the bodies to the middle of the room and set them on fire.

Terrible Gas Explosion.

Wilkesbarrae, Pa., Nov. 26.

This morning an explosion of gas in the Conynghand shaft shook the earth for a distance of two miles, and the report was distinctly heard all over the city. Two hundred men were employed in the mine. About twenty-five of them were horribly burned, seven of them so badly that they will die.

Fire at Sea.

Dynamite in Canada.

An attempt was made to burn the driving horse and stable of Mr. Y. McLean, editor of the Expositor, of Seaforth, Ont., one night last week. Coal oil had been poured on the front door of the building, and a piece of newspaper saturated with coal oil had been stuffed in between the twe parts of the door, which divided in the centre and set fire too. A hole about a foot square was burned in the door, and a small piece of the paper, about an inch square, remained in the crack unburned. Fortunately, in sprinkling the oil on the door, the incendiary had evidently, in his hurry, missed the spot where the fire was kindled, and in this way the fire had not done its work as was evidently intended. The upper part of the building was filled with straw, and the lower part contained a horse and several vehicles. The empty bottle which had contained the coal oil was left behind. The only reason that can be assigned for this outrage is an article in this week's Expositor severely condemning a similar outrage perpetrated upon Mr. James Wanless, the police Magistrate for South Huron, a few evenings previous.
