Prison Luxury

Haney, B. C., claims to have under construction the most modern penal institution in Canada, perhaps in the world.

For some time now penologists and other sociological experts have been placing much emphasis on the rehabilitation of prisoners.

Educational Problems

The seriousness of the teacher supply problem is strongly emphasized in the report of the resolutions committee adopted by the Women's Institute.

We are, of course, not singular in this respect, as even the wealthy provinces are finding difficulty in obtaining adequate teacher supply.

ency. The Commission could also make an analysis of the manner in which other provinces are seeking to meet their educational problems.

It is likely that a Commission inquiry in this Province today would show the need for increased taxes at the local school district level.

Chou's Humour

Like all other Communist leaders Premier Chou En-lai has not been noted for possessing an exalted sense of humour.

That surely is the funniest statement made by any government leader in a long time.

OTTAWA REPORT

Election Talk At Capital

By Patrick Nicholson

OTTAWA A surprise federal general election may be called...

1. He could call the election for June of next year, which has long been the expected date.

2. He could postpone the election until 1958, the late summer of that year being the latest date to which the present parliament could legally be prorogued.

3. He could request the immediate challenge of the opposition; but yet appear to assume the initiative and at the same time overcome the present parliamentary impasse.

then retire next Spring. A possible alternative would be for the Prime Minister to retire shortly for a convention to select a new Liberal leader.

NEW LIBERAL FACES Whatever course is chosen, the reconstitution of the inner circle of the Parliamentary Liberal party must soon be faced.

Walter Harris has now at last received the nod from C.D. Howe, to add to his previous support from the present Prime Minister and the promising Liberals.

St. Laurent, Gardner and Howe are all slated to retire. Mike Pearson, I continue to believe, will accept the challenge offered by the urgent need to develop NATO, and retire from politics to assume the leadership of that international organization.

Stuart Garson is expected to inherit the Chief Justiceship of his adopted province of Manitoba. Ralph Campney faces a dire electoral battle for his riding and may decide to retire.

White House Leadership

By George Kitchen Canadian Press, Washington

The United States appears to be suffering from a lack of White House leadership.

Basically, this is because of the two major illnesses President Eisenhower has suffered during the last 10 months—the heart attack which sent him to hospital last September and the abdominal surgery which put him back into bed last month.

Both of these illnesses, coupled with the periods of convalescence which they entailed, have left the country virtually leaderless.

his back and was being fed intravenously, was performing his duties.

It is true that bills have been signed, orders issued and other run-of-the-mill administrative problems resolved.

Reston included in the range of problems awaiting presidential decision the new atomic-age weapons being developed, the new post-Slovak post-hydrogen bomb manoeuvres in Moscow and Peiping, the rising strength and importance of the neutral nations and a host of political and legislative factors developing on the domestic scene.

Medically Speaking

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO IF A PERSON FAINTS

Here's a word of advice for you hosts and hostesses at summer house parties: Keep an eye on your guests; you don't want them to become ill.

An overheated room or one with inadequate ventilation may easily cause someone to faint. The bigger the crowd the greater the danger.

PROMPT ACTION Of course, you can't sacrifice your own fun just to stand guard over your guests.

LIE ON FLOOR In such a case, the best thing to do is to let him lie on the floor. Don't try to walk him out of the room into the fresh air.

TIGHT CLOTHING Loosen any tight clothing and let him inhale smelling salts if they are available.

THE AGE OLD STORY Be strong and of good courage. Fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God He it is that goeth with thee.

It is hardly accurate to speak of a "visit" to Canada by the Queen, because Her Majesty is Queen of Canada and this is her realm.

A Winnipeg man who is the Humane Society's chief inspector, demonstrated how to catch a skunk when one of these animals somehow got into the basement of a Winnipeg home.

The dental profession is to be commended for its almost solid backing of fluoridation campaigns.

Keep him lying down until he is sure he is okay. Then you can help him outside into the cool air.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS R.N. What causes the skin to crack around the nails, especially the index finger?

Answer: This is most often due to a form of irritation which may be caused by the use of some type of soap or detergent.

Be strong and of good courage. Fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God He it is that goeth with thee.

Walter Lippmann, the highly-rated columnist of the New York Herald Tribune, noted that three foreign statesmen who recently visited Washington were unable, with Eisenhower in hospital, to find a common ground with the U.S. on how to deal with the new Soviet overtures.

White House aides, with an obvious eye on the approaching general election, have done an effective job in convincing the public that all is well with the administration and that the ailing president, even when he was flat on
