St. Stephan Drama Festival Continues

ST. STEPHEN, N.B., Feb. 5.—The New Brunswick Regional Drama Festival continued today with presentation of J.M. Barrie's three-act comedy, "Alice Sit By The Fire," by the St. Andrews Music, Art and Drama Club.

Adjudicator Pierre Lefevre considered the play "did not go over as it should have... the cast did not feel their parts. There was too much drama and there was not enough comedy."

He attributed this to inexperience. However, Mr. Lefevre said that Lewis Day, as Col. Robert Gray, played the role with feeling and gave the best performance in the presentation.

Mrs. Robert Gray, played by Mr. Hazel Grant—was "not vivacious enough... too meek and mild."

Carmita Robinson, taking the role of the daughter, Amy Gray, "got better as the play advanced."

Meeting Of United Church Presbytery

"If the church does not make Canada Christian no other organization will," said Rev. W. S. Godfrey in his address to the Presbytery of Prince Edward Island which met in Hertz Hall, Charlottetown, yesterday.

The emphasis this year is on Home Mission work in Canada where at least one hundred and fifty new United Churches are to be built. About one-third of the churches in Canada receive aid from the Home Mission Board and the aim is to strengthen these fields. New churches must be built in the suburbs of Halifax, Moncton, Truro and Sydney. $1,500,000 is needed for the work of expansion.

He spoke also on the increase in ministers' salaries saying that the ministers at General Council approved the increase at the present time but the laymen of the church demanded that the salaries be advanced. Most of the churches have met the increase, some rural churches in the province advancing by $400 in one year.

Rev. W. B. MacPhail called the meeting to order. Rev. J. R. Skinner led the worship service. Rev. R. A. MacLeod was appointed assistant secretary. Rev. C. D. Matheson of Summerside and Rev. W. G. Berry of the Board of Evangelism were welcomed to the meeting. The names of Rev. W. T. Mercer and Rev. K. G. Sullivan were transferred from the Presbytery. A letter concerning the new United Church training school for women workers was read and Presbytery endorsed the financial campaign.

The treasurer, Rev. A. S. Weir, reported a balance of $865 on hand in the Presbytery Fund. Rev. H. E. D. Ashford reported that the objective for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund was in sight and commended the changes that had done good work.

Rev. John MacKay was appointed new convener of the Missionary and Maintenance committee.

Mr. Allison Profit of Freetown spoke on the Mt. Allison campaign, urging the congregations to buckle down to work as time was running out. "Our college is our responsibility as a church so let us see it out of debt."

Rev. W. B. MacPhail gave the Home Mission report commending the charges that have become self-supporting. Grants were recommended to Covehead, Dundas, Georgetown, Hampton, Wellington, West Cape and Winsloe; also aid was to be given to Alberton, Bidford, Cavendish, Margate and Richmond Bay East.

The committee on boundaries recommended that Lot 14 be made part of the Bidford charge and Lot 16 constitute a charge by itself to be supplied by a retired minister; that Eldon become part of Orwell-Vernon charge and Belle River of Murray Harbour. In each case the congregation were to be consulted.

A delicious supper was served by the ladies of Trinity Church. Rev. W. G. Berry, the associate secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service, addressed the supper meeting. He explained the campaign for voluntary abstinence in the church did not force people to sign pledges but was an opportunity for those who wish to, to do so. The church is not a fellowship of good people, but of sinners, who need Christ as a Saviour and who meet to worship Him as Lord. He emphasized the value of the booklet "The Means of Grace" and encouraged its use.

Rev. Howard Christie was appointed press reporter in the absence of Dr. Steele. Rev. W. A. Paterson reported for the Evangelism and Social Service committee, recommending that a layman be appointed in each congregation to promote temperance, and that Feb. 24th be observed as abstinence Sunday on the total abstinence question. Rev. R. L. Bacon, reporting for overseas missions, said that the church was considering the establishing of a new mission in Northern Rhodesia. Rev. L. M. Murray reported that ten students from the Presbytery are studying for the ministry; two will graduate this spring. Permission was given by the court to remove the old manse at Georgetown and erect a new hall.

Rev. Howard Christie, in reporting for the Christian Education Committee, recommended the discontinuing of the broadcasts of Sunday School on the air as little interest was shown; that the Presbytery support the new Christian Life Training School at Berwick Camp in July; that communicant classes be held in each church. The Presbytery nominated Rev. J. R. Mutchison as moderator of the next General Council. The next meeting of Presbytery is to be held in Bordentown United Church in May. On motion the meeting adjourned after a day of inspiring fellowship and much discussion.

Ch'town Ministerial Association Meets

The February meeting of the Charlottetown Ministerial Association was held Tuesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. In the absence of the president, the Rev. Henry Barber, the chair was taken by the vice-president, the Rev. E. C. Evans, who conducted worship assisted by the Rev. E. A. Piercy.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mr. Fred Gamble, and the treasurer, the Rev. T. H. B. Somers reported on acknowledgments of gifts made to the Prince Edward Island Hospital and the Protestant Orphanage. The treasurer was authorized to send flowers to the Rev. G. C. Webster, who is now a patient in the Toronto General Hospital.

The paper for the day was entitled "The Exploitation of Youth in Sports" and was ably presented by the Rev. J. T. Ibbott. An interesting discussion, in which the Rev. M. D. Dunbar, the Rev. J. Vincent Crawford, Captain Leslie Titcombe, the Rev. J. D. Davison and others took part, followed on the subject of commercialized sport and Mr. Ibbott was thanked for his paper.

The next meeting will be held in March.

Expect New Packaging To Boost Cheese

Possibility of adding greatly to the sales of Island cheddar cheese through the new methods of packaging were seen by representatives of cheese factories when they met here this week. The cheese is to be packaged for the present only in one-half pound and one pound lots.

The attractive package is expected to add much to the eye appeal of the cheese and its flavor, ranging from mild through medium to old, is hoped to hold the buying public. The cheese is being cured in the Government plant here and will be held in the curing rooms for from three months to three years.

Mr. H. J. MacDonald, Provincial Department of Agriculture, expressed the belief that the new package would add approximately eight cents per pound to the value. However, Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, felt that some form of co-operative marketing should be arranged to permit all manufacturers to share equitably in the proceeds. This suggestion was not acted upon immediately by the meeting.

A highly successful marketing year was reported by Mr. Donald MacDonald who said the Association had disposed of all its cheese at good prices last year even though sales were slower toward year's end. Other speakers heard briefly included Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture; Dr. George Fisher, and Mr. J. Lincoln Dewar, secretary of the P.E.I. Federation of Agriculture. Presiding during the meeting was Mr. Leslie Hunter, Bridgetown.

The new type of packaging calls for the use of two types of film with the outer one stamped "Cheddar Cheese Island Brand, P.E.I. No Rind, No Waste." The mild cured cheese will be kept in the curing rooms for approximately three to six months, with the medium type being held from six months to a year. The "Old" type will be held anywhere from one to three years. Originally it is packed in twenty pound boxes and then cut to the desired weight when cured.

Arctic Water Colors Shown At Art Centre

The thirty-seven Arctic water-color paintings by Mrs. D. B. Marsh which were brought to the Island by the Prince Edward Island Arts and Crafts Guild will remain on display in the Art Centre until February 9th.

Mrs. Marsh is the wife of the Rev. D. B. Marsh, Bishop of the Arctic and all the paintings in this collection were done while she was living about 200 miles north of Churchill on the west side of Hudson Bay.

The artist, who signs her paintings with her maiden name "Wingfield Peichey," was born in England. She studied art at the Hornsey School of Art in London, specializing in industrial design and illumination. Following graduation she taught at Hornsey and later at Willesdon School of Art.

In 1933 she became the wife of Archdeacon Donald B. Marsh and went from England to Eskimo Point in the North West Territories.

Intending at first to concentrate on wood engravings, the extraordinary beauty and purity of color in the north forced her to paint in water color, and, as she came to understand and love the people, she painted the Eskimos.

Some of the paintings, interiors of igloos, summer scenes, etc. were done on the spot. Winter scenes were studied, drawn with colored pencils, memorized and then immediately recorded indoors. Several were painted through the artist's open living room window. Mrs. Marsh comments: "One scene was painted in a temperature 30 degrees below zero, with a wind blowing. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police invited me into their barracks at intervals for hot coffee. On several occasions I have stood in the wind and sketched at 40 degrees below."

In these paintings Mrs. Marsh has set down her impressions of the Eskimo life and region in a manner comparable to the great series of documentary paintings of Indian life which Paul Kane produced in the mid-19th century.

Delightful Concert At P.W.C. Hall Last Evening

Patrons of the Prince of Wales College Concert Series last night were treated to a delightful program performed by a group of Charlottetown musicians. The third concert in the series was highly enjoyable and it is to be hoped that there will be more concerts of this nature presented in future.

Miss Suzanne Brenton, Lic. Music, pianist, was the soloist, and the rest of the program was composed of numbers by the Prince of Wales Girls Ensemble, a group organized and directed by Miss E. Lillian MacKenzie, Mus. Bac., and accompanied by Mrs. Elliott Full, F.T.C.S.L.

Miss Brenton opened the concert with the familiar Fantasia in C Minor by Bach, and Mozart's Sonata in C Major. Her fine artistic precision was particularly noticeable in the Bach Fantasia and the allegro moderato and allegretto movements of the Sonata in C Major, and she displayed a warm interpretation of the Andante Cantabile movement.

The girls' ensemble opened their portion of the program with two songs by Purcell, "Sound the Trumpet," from Orpheus Britannicus, a collection of favourite Purcell numbers published after his death, and "Shepherd, Shepherd, Leave Deceiving," from the opera, "King Arthur," and concluded with Beethoven's "Wanderer's Night Song." A great deal of careful training must have gone into the preparation of the ensemble for their concert, as nineteen voices blended into one harmonious whole, displaying a surprising degree of perfection. The director has imparted much of her own obvious enjoyment in the performance of fine music to the group, and a feeling of gaiety and lightheartedness was discernible in all of their songs.

A group of Chopin compositions played by Miss Brenton followed, the first the Nocturne in F Sharp Major, the second the magnificent, "Revolutionary" Etude in C Minor, and the third the Etude in G Flat Major, often called the "Black Key" Etude, a brilliant piece which drew a most enthusiastic ovation from the audience. The last was the Ballad in G Minor.

After the intermission, the ensemble opened with "Cherry Stones," a delightful composition by the Marquis of Blandford based in the rhyme, "Tinker, tailor, soldier, sailor, rich man, poor man." It was perhaps the most enjoyable unaccompanied, they carried the hitting melody beautifully. To the delight of the audience, "Cherry Stones" was repeated as an encore.

They continued with Maurice Jacobson's lovely song, "Midsummer," and ended the scheduled portion of their performance with Brahms' familiar and touching "Gracie Song." After singing the verses, they repeated the melody, humming it softly and truly with a lovely purity of tone.

Miss Brenton began her concluding group with a Shumann transcription of Liszt's brilliant "Dedication." Her three concluding numbers were all modern compositions, "General Lavine, Eccentric," a humorous little descriptive piece, by the impressionistic Debussy, "Pastourelle," a vivacious composition by Bouleenc, a contemporary French composer, and "The Harp," from "Alley Tunes," Three Scenes from the "South." The last is a descriptive composition whose gay tune enables the listener to visualize as well as hear the darkey playing his harmonica to an audience of dancing pickaninnies. Miss Brenton played "The Little White Donkey" by Ibert as an encore to what was a fine and enjoyable performance from start to finish.

The following are the members of the Prince of Wales Girls Ensemble, whose polished performance surprised and delighted the large audience which attended the concert.

First Sopranos: Betty Jean Beers, Maureen Blake, Muriel Hurst, Patricia MacDonald, Sheila MacInnis, Nancy MacNevin, Mary Whiteside, Gail Gillies.

Second Sopranos: Barbara Beck, Joan Bulmer, Nancy Hyndman, Marjorie MacLeod, Joan-Marie McGuire, Helen Massey, Mary Morrison.

Altos: Marjorie Hurst, Johanna MacDonald, Jill McKay, Barbara Rupert.

Ground Observer Corps To Include P. E. Island Units

The Canada wide organization of a Ground Observer Corps with headquarters at the R. C. A. F. Air Defense Command, St. Hubert, Quebec, will include five regional units in this Province, according to an announcement from the R. C. A. F. station at Summerside this week.

Headquarters for the Maritimes area will be at Halifax, it was stated. In addition there will be three filter centres in the area through which reports will be funnelled, and one of these will be at Charlottetown, under the command of Flying Officer Harry Waugh, DFC, DFM, of Summerside. He will have a small staff of RCAF personnel but the center will be manned mainly by civilians. In this connection it is learned that an option has been taken for accommodation in the Sterns Laundry building, second floor.

The purpose of the Ground Observer Corps in Canada is to augment the early warning capabilities of the R.C.A.F. radar network. Volunteers should, preferably, be persons not subject to military call up and may be men, women or youths.

Each of the five regions will be in the charge of a regional supervisor and in each region there will be 15 observation posts, manned by a chief observer and 30 official observers.

In this province the Summerside and Charlottetown wings of the R.C.A.F. Association have pledged themselves to give all possible support to this work. Recommendations have already been made in regard to some of the civilian officials but no appointments have been made.
