MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM J. FORAN

St. Dunstan's Basilica Has Vey Pretty Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Saint Dunstan's Basilica, Charlottetown on Tuesday morning, April 8 at 9 o'clock, when Mary Alida, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Basha became the bride of William John Foran, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foran of Dalhousie, New Brunswick. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a beautiful floor-length gown of white. She was attended by her sister, Justine, who was attired in pink with matching headdress. Mr. David Foran supported the groom. Following the ceremony a reception for many relatives and friends was held at the Queen Hotel. Many out of town guests attended.—Photo by Craswell.

Island Man Quotes Sir Andrew Macphail

"Letters from Our Readers" column on the editorial page of the Montreal Gazette contains the following letter dated Ottawa, April 18, from Mr. H. R. Stewart. The heading is "Churchill and the Historians" and the letter reads as follows: Sir.—Your interesting and valuable Leader on April 18th under the caption "Churchill and the Historians" has reminded me of the following words written by that master of language, the late Sir Andrew Macphail: "History is something more than record and something less than praise; it demands selection and judgement judging events as if they were far in the past; and men as if they were already dead; it implies censure as a warning, lest those who read may be misled. History is for the guidance of that posterity which follows and finds itself involved in historical circumstances, which always recur in identical form; for history is the master to which all must go — history with its pensive and melancholy face."

three will be chosen and put on exhibit at the District Convention. Sick committee reported one treat had been given out. The new sick committee appointed was - Mrs. Dan Gallant, Mrs. Maurice Doucette, Mrs. William Cahill and Mrs. Earl Peters. It was decided to scrub the school on Wednesday evening April 23rd. Fr. Charles Gallant was present and gave an inspiring talk which was enjoyed by all. A delicious lunch was then served by the hostess and committee in charge. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Maurice Doucette.

C.A.C. Tries To Represent All Types Of Consumers

Mrs. T. B. Earle, national publicity chairman of the Canadian Association of Consumers, has sent out the April-May CAC bulletin. Mrs. Earle reports in the following way:

One of the more complex jobs the Canadian Association of Consumers undertakes is that of representing the consumers' point-of-view to government bodies. A short brief recently presented to the tariff board on the subject of waterproof and rubber-soled canvas footwear is reprinted in this April-May bulletin.

Another example of this work was the brief on wool textiles condensed in our January bulletin. There are several others coming up, particularly to the tariff board and the recently appointed Prince Spreads Commission, so you may be interested in knowing the basic thinking behind this phase of our work.

CAC does its best to represent all consumers, not only those who have paid a membership fee. Many of these consumers are manufacturers or farmers or labourers at the same time, so that really the whole economy is involved. That means it is necessary to consider many points of view before a brief is submitted. It also means that our briefs are hard to report because a section taken out of context may make a completely false picture of the work as a whole. In the case of wool textiles, for instance, it was widely reported that CAC supported requests by the wool industry for large increases in tariffs. This certainly would not be in the best interests of most consumers and is not true. We hope these briefs from CAC may provide you with some interesting stories in the months to come.

NEW ACADIA W. I.

The New Acadia W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Dan Gallant on Tuesday evening, April 22nd, to hold their regular and monthly meeting. There was an attendance of twelve members and one visitor.

The president called the meeting to order and meeting opened with members reciting the "Institute ode" in unison. Roll call was answered by each member donating a greeting card.

Correspondence consisted of a letter from C.A.C. organization. And rules for a Tea Apron Competition by which each member was asked to make a tea apron for the next meeting, and the best
