SNOWDROPS IN BLOOM.—A snowdrop, plucked in the garden of Mr. T. L. Aitken, Lower Montague, from among a lot of others in full bloom, was left at THE EXAMINER office this morning. Mr. Aitken has had snowdrops in bloom since March 25th.

KILLED BY A FALL.—A Buctouche despatch says the wife of Maxime Cormier died there on Wednesday night as the result of injuries sustained by falling down stairs a few days ago. The despatch says the woman and her husband had been on a spree for a week or so, and a day or two ago the woman fell down stairs, injuring her head and breaking two ribs.

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT.—Daniel Dotton, of Rockland, lost a valuable young horse in Sackville the other day in a most peculiar way. While the horse was being harnessed it suddenly tossed its head in the air. The action was a playful one, but his head came violently in contact with a beam, knocking him down. In falling the animal broke its neck.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Summerside correspondent of the Guardian reports the sudden death on Friday morning last of Mr. John Mathews, a highly-esteemed resident of Wilmot Valley. It seems that Mr. Mathews, who had always been a strong man, was in his usual health up to Tuesday at noon. When taking his dinner on that day he suddenly fainted, and though consciousness returned, he remained in a comatose condition until death claimed him.

It was decided to celebrate Arbor Day on a date to be agreed upon by the Principals of the different schools.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

Edward Power, of Tracadie, in the Hands of the Law

A young man named Edward Power, belonging to Tracadie, was arraigned before a Justice of the Peace to-day on the charge of forging two orders, one on C. D. Rankin, druggist, of this city, and purporting to be signed by Mrs. J. A. McDonald, of Glendale, the other on Hon. F. Peters, purporting to be signed by Fred J. Macdonald, of the same place. The first-mentioned order was for $10 and the second for $25. Both orders have been repudiated by the persons purporting to have sent them.

The witness at the preliminary examination to-day were Hon. Frederick Peters, Mr. J. A. Macdonald, a student in the office of Peters, Peters and Ings, and two clerks in Rankin's Drugstore, viz., Messrs. George Macdonald and Thomas Malone.

Hon. Mr. Peter expressed his belief that the prisoner Power was the young man who presented the order to him, although he would not speak positively on the point of identification. Mr. J. A. Macdonald also thought the prisoner was the young man who called at the office of Peters & Peters, and to whom he gave a cheque for $25, by order of Mr. F. Peters.

Mr. George McDonald said it seemed to him that the prisoner was the young man who called at Rankin's store in connection with the $10 order, and Thomas Malone also believed the prisoner was the person who called at the store.

Power was remanded to jail until Thursday next, when it is understood that expert evidence will be submitted to prove, if possible, a similarity between what is supposed to be Power's genuine handwriting and the writing on the orders.

Power was arrested at Tracadie station this morning by Constable Bradley. He made no statement.

THE WEATHER.—Unsettled with some sleet or rain chiefly at night; not much change in temperature.

THE CATHEDRAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Those who promoted the entertainment given in the Opera House last evening are to be congratulated upon the success which attended their efforts, and the fund for the erection of the new Roman Catholic Cathedral must be considerably augmented in consequence. The audience was the largest ever seen at an entertainment in the Opera House, and included His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Bowlan, His Worship Mayor Dawson and His Lordship Bishop McDonald and a large number of clergymen. The programme prepared for the occasion was rendered in a most pleasing manner, and the appreciation of the audience was manifested by the generous applause which followed each number. The lengthy programme was carried out in its entirety, excepting the numbers opposite the names of Mr. Justice Fitzgerald and Mr. Geo. A. Dixon, both of whom were unavoidably absent. The interpretation of the vocal and instrumental music was sympathetic and true, and the thrilling story of "Jennie Macneill's ride," was cleverly told by Miss McLean. The statuary under the direction of Mr. May was exquisite, and the draping and arrangement of the figures in the various groups was beautiful. The statuary shown represented Liberty, Rumors of War, War, Peace, Evangeline, Simply to thy Cross I Cling, and the Mysteries of the North Unveiling to Dr. Nansen. Just before the last exhibition of statuary Miss Ida Byrne, daughter of ex-Councillor Byrne, advanced to the footlights and addressed those present, explaining the object for which the entertainment was given and thanking the audience and performers as well as all who in any way assisted the undertaking. During the intermission between the first and second parts candy was passed among the audience and a large quantity was disposed of.

QUALITY OF OUR CHEESE

Opinion of Britishers on Last Years Make.

"There is a widespread feeling among British importers that the quality of Canadian cheese was not last year up to the usual high standard," says the Canadian Gazette. "In the summer many shipments were poor and hard, the result, no doubt, of drought; but, as experts here say attributable in part to defective make." Especially has this complaint of dryness been levelled against western cheese, while the reverse is said here and there of province of Quebec cheeses, and the shape of Quebec cheese is not liked. There are those, however, who attach little weight to these complaints, and say they arise from a dissatisfaction with bad markets rather than any real defects in the Canadian product. These merchants say that Canadian cheese shown a good average during the whole season, without any months of inferior shipments. As a whole, they say, the season was an improvement upon its predecessors. The Ingersoll make is especially commended in some reports."

Canada's place in the cheese trade of Great Britain is well illustrated by these figures:

OBITUARY.

The many dear friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Thos. Keefe, Morell, were filled with grief at the sad and unexpected news of her death, which took place at her home on March 25th, after a short illness. Always of good cheer, kind and affable, patient and persevering, she maintained a vigorous state of health until shortly before her death.

She was seventy-six years of age and reared the exceptionally large family of nineteen children, seven of whom together with a large circle of sorrowing friends are left to mourn the irreparable loss of a kind, virtuous mother and a sincere and charitable friend.

On Friday morning her remains were taken to St. Joseph's church followed by a large concourse of people where a requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. A. McAulay, thence to the cemetry and the last solemn rites of the Holy Catholic Church were administered.

A BUSINESS THAT PAYS.

A REMARKABLE REPORT.

The annual report of Lever Bros., Ltd., proprietors of "Sunlight" soap, was presented to the shareholders of the City Terminus Hotel, London, Eng., on March 12, 1896, and the following interesting balance sheet was submitted for the year ending 31st December, 1895:—

Dividend on preference shares at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum.....	$ 182,500 12
Dividend on ordinary shares at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.....	365,000 25
Bonus to customers.....	194,101 81
Carried to reserve fund.....	146,000 10
Balance carried forward to next account.....	121,597 82
	$1,009,200 10

The business has continued to increase in all departments, and it has been found necessary to extend the producing power of the works.

To meet the growth of the business it is proposed to increase the capital (which is now $7,500,000) by the creation and sale of additional 25,000 preference shares of $50 each and 25,000 ordinary shares of $50 each. This will bring the capital of the company up to ten million dollars. Considering that the original capital invested in Sunlight soap, about eleven years ago, was only $15,000, the standing of the company to-day is something marvellous.

It goes without saying that not only have Lever Bros., Ltd., displayed marked business ability, but also that their soap hold a secure place in the estimation of the public.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

PORK-PACKING ESTABLISHMENTS.

SIR,—I was very much pleased when I saw it intimated last fall that the Government, through Prof. Robertson and Mr. Dillon, was about to start co-operative pork-packing factories on the Island. I hear nothing now about this matter. Surely so laudable an undertaking has not been dropped. The pork industry of our Province is certainly of equal moment with our dairy industry. Pork is, or has been, at least, the great cash product with which our Island farmers meet their money obligations. The hog is a necessary adjunct to the dairy. The more dairy produce the more hogs—and bacon. This is exemplified by that banner dairy country, Denmark, which supplies the English market with nearly all the bacon she consumes. I give an extract from an English paper, which should be considered and digested by every farmer in P. E. Island. There is no logical reason why there should not be a slaughter house annex to every cheese factory in this Province, and one big central packing house in Charlottetown that would purchase for slaughter and immediate shipment in a "chilled" state not only hogs, but sheep and cattle. Let not the dressed meat trade be confined to Montreal. Our P. E. Island cheese has already made a name for itself. Let a paternal Government stop here. Every farmer cannot take advantage of the benefits accruing from the Government's dairy policy. Let P. E. Island make a name for "P. E. I. bacon," "P. E. I. dressed mutton," "P. E. I. dressed beef," etc. Never before had the farmers of P. E. Island a better opportunity of getting the "dressed meat" trade started in motion on the Island. We have, what we did not have for a good many years, a representative in the Dominion Cabinet in the person of a farmer and an able man, Hon. Senator Ferguson, who knows full well the advantage that would obtain to P. E. Island farmers by having pork packing establishments and dressed meat depots and regular shipments of dressed mutton, dressed beef, cured hams and bacon to the English markets. Farmers of P. E. Island look to your interests and don't let this matter drop after reading this letter of mine. You want this new industry started as well as I do. You can write short letters on the subject to the Island press or to your representatives at Ottawa. As a clincher to this letter I am writing a note to Senator Ferguson on this very subject. Why can't you do likewise. I am agitating this matter entirely in my own interest, and my interest is yours. I want to get more than 4c. for my pork—that is what I got for a load of hogs last November. I want a market for my lambs and I want a better market than St. Pierre for the cow or two I sell annually. Then, ho! for dressed meat and the English market.

How The Danish Dairymen Manage Their Hogs.

[Extract from London Grocer, of recent issue.]

BACON CURING IN DENMARK.

The system adopted in curing and marketing of Danish bacon is thus described by a correspondent:

"The farmers of a certain district form, among themselves, a guarantee fund of, say £4,000, each putting down his name for the sum he is prepared to risk, and, on the strength of this guarantee, the bank advances them £4,000, or such other sum as may be required, for the construction of a bacon-curing factory for the district in question. The bank also advances a further £500 for the payment of the preliminary working expenses. The factory is then constructed, replete with all the latest methods in machinery, etc, and inclusive of large storage for the ice which forms so important an item in the work. In some instances a factory will have room for 50,000 tons of ice, which gathered in during the winter at the cost only of the requisite labor, and is so stored that it lasts until the next winter. The factory is put in charge of a special staff and the farmers devote their own energies solely to pig rising, for which purpose they have an excellent stock of animals, while swine fever seems to be practically unknown. The farmers sell their pigs to the factory at full market rates, being paid at first out of the £500 already referred to. At the factory the pigs are killed and turned into either bacon or 'mess pork' for ships, and these products are in due course sent to London, where they are sold, and the London agents send to Denmark a cheque for the amount due. The bank through which the whole thing is worked, deducts its charges, which may come to 8 per cent., and the remainder stands to the credit of the factory for the payment of expenses and for eventual division among the farmers, in addition to the market rates they have already been paid for their pigs. There are now about twenty of these factories in Denmark, and, generally speaking, they have been established without any actual call being made on the guaranty funds. Altogether, these factories will sometimes deal with 10,000 pigs in one week, and the total output has now attained such proportions that our imports of bacon from Denmark alone amounted last year to 1,000,000 cwts."

Below is extract from letter received from Liverpool, Eng., under date of Feb. 11, '96, by one of the leading pork-packing firms in Milwaukee, which they have kindly consented to allow us to print:

"I went to Denmark last week to see how things stood there, so as to give you all the information possible. The appear to have plenty of hogs and fine ones too. Each town has its own slaughtering house. The farmer's form a company, putting in a manager, who fixes the prices of the hogs each week according to the account of sales returned for the product. They are classed into No. 1, 2, and 3, and the price is paid for the hogs accordingly, so that each farmer knows what weight his hogs have to be so as to give him the best returns. You would be surprised to see how evenly in weight and quality the hogs run.

DIED.

At Tracadie Cross, Lot 36, on Saturday, April 4th 1896, after a brief illness of inflammation, Mathew McInnis, in the 77th year of his age, leaving four sons and four daughters to mourn their loss. May his soul rest in peace.

The deceased was a farmer, and was much respected by all who knew him. The funeral was held Monday morning to the R. C. Church thence to Tracadie Cross cemetery, where the interment took place. The large attendance was a tribute to the late Mr. McInnis from his own and his family's acquaintances.

At Souris East, on the 21st ult., John, eldest son of Thomas and Sarah Conway, in the 17th year of his age. Deceased was dearly beloved for his genial disposition and moral habits, and his demise at such an early age is a source of much regret to his parents, who looked upon him as the idol of their household.

He is gone; the one we loved dearest and best,
From this earth to the Heaven above;
There to mingle with angels and rest,
Ever happy in the sunshine of God and His love.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Edward Blake, M. P., has left London on a holiday trip. It is said that he is now in perfect health.

Dr. Anderson delivered his lecture on "Macbeth" at Halifax on Saturday evening last. The lecture is highly spoken of by the press of that city.

Dr. McNeill of Kensington has gone on a four weeks' holiday trip to the United States. During his absence Dr. McNeill proposes visiting the principal hospitals and colleges in New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

LATEST NEWS NOTES.

The latest returns of railroad earnings leave no room for question as to the improving condition of their finances and the growing activity of general business in the country at large.

The exports from Sheffield to the United States for the first three months of the present year amount to £166,444, as compared with £112,692 for the same period of the previous year.

A despatch from Boucharest to the Times says: "The papers here announce the conclusion of a military convention between Russia and Bulgaria, under which in the event of war, Bulgaria would cede to Russia, Marna, in the Black Sea, and Burghas, in Eastern Roumania, and also or the Black Sea, and would concentrate an army at Shumla."

The present Pope's advice to Father Zocchi, a famous Italian preacher, is worth reproducing: "Write articles for the newspapers. People read them who never go to hear a sermon preached." There is not a newspaper in any of our countries that would not be glad to receive a short and sensible article from "famous American preachers," or even from those who are not famous.

Montana makes a great showing as a metal produce. The assayer in charge of the United States Assay Office, at Helena, Mont., reports the production of gold and silver for 1895 to have been gold of the coinage value of $4,327,046; silver of the coinage value in silver dollars of $22,886,992. The copper product of the calendar year 1895 was 201,093,992 pounds, and of lead 24,139,504 pounds. Both the output of gold and silver show an increase.

The high rates charged for Pullman berths have long been a cause of complaint among railroad travellers. It looks, for the moment at any rate, as if there might be a permanent reduction before long. The Chicago Great Western Railroad has decided to accept second class tickets from Pullman travellers, which will make the rate for a Pullman not greater, if at all, in excess of the ordinary first class fare. What the Great Western can do other roads will be likely to think they can do also, and, to meet the situation, the Pullman Company may have to reduce its rates. If current reports about its profits are correct it can afford to do this.

President Diaz, in opening the Mexican Congress, declared his adhesion to the principles of the Monroe Doctrine in condemning as aggressive any invasion, by monarchical Europe, of the republics of America. The Gazette remarks that if there had also been a clause, in the famous message of President Monroe, condemning the invasion, by American republics, of the territory of American republics, and it had been observed, Mr. Diaz would have been the ruler of a considerably bigger nation and the President of the United States of a considerably smaller one. It is not European monarchies alone that hanker after other people's land.

The Newfoundland Seal Fishing

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 5.—Three sealing steamers arrived to-day—the Greenland with 22,000; Walrus with 12,000 and Leopold with 9,000, all full cargoes. Reports of other vessels were more favorable for improvement in the catch before the fishery ends. The total catch is likely to reach 150,000, as against 270,000 last year.
