VARIETIES.

Uniform of the Chinese Reformers.—The Reform army are dressed in all sorts of clothing, but principally in silks and satins, with a red or yellow cap—the body of the jacket being of the same colour. The Quang-tung men are said to be those with the red uniform; the Quangsi those of the yellow. Some youngsters dress like females. The older followers may be distinguished from the younger by their long, flowing hair. The new adherents, whose hair is still short, have a square piece of cloth sewn to the jacket, with the character Taipang (Peace) on it, and also a little wooden tally suspended from a button-hole, stating name and to what division the wearer belongs. After the hair becomes of equal length all round, they dispense with the tail, and secure the loose hair behind with a broad pin. Not having any whiskers, they have a very delicate and effeminate appearance.

To Cover Preserves.—The covering for preserves used by the trade, instead of a blader, is made by brushing over sheets of wet paper, of the thickness and length required, with linseed oil, which has been previously boiled. The sheets should be hung on a string and thoroughly dried before using. The material is also used for tulip shades, and as a substitute for glass, in workshops. It is perfectly water-proof.

Beef Stewed with Onions.—Cut some tender beef in small pieces, and season it with pepper and salt, slice some onions and add to it, with enough water in the stew-pan to make a gravy; let it stew slowly till the beef is done then add some pieces of butter rolled in flour to make rich gravy. Cold beef may be done in the same way, only the onions must be stewed first, and meat added. If the water should stew away too much, put in a little more.

An Exception.—A gentleman boasted that he had drunk two, three, or four bottles of wine every day for fifty years, and that he was as hale and hearty as ever. "Pray," remarked a bystander," where are your boon companions?" "Ah," he quickly replied, "that's another affair. If the truth may be told, I have buried three generations of them."

Lawyers.—" A lawyer," said Lord Brougham—in a facetious mood—" is a learned gentleman who rescues your estate from your enemies, and keeps it himself."

Some mischievous wags one night pulled down a turner's sign, and put it over a lawyer's door." In the morning it read, " All sorts of turning and twisting done here."

Sam Slick says, " I believe every critter in the world thinks that he's the most entertainin' one in it, and that there's no gettin' on anyhow without him. Consait grows as natural as the hair on one's head, but is longe in coming out."

Epigrams on the Victims of a Railroad Accident.—Sister, mother, aunt, and me. ‖ Were run over. Here We be. ‖ I should have had time to mizzle, ‖ Had they blown the engine's whistle.

The latest novelty in the way of business is furnishing a man with a hat, and his own daguerreotype on the inside of it. A batter advertises to do so.

What pies do we refuse to eat, except when made into sausages ?—Pup-pies.

When you resolve upon making a speech, copy the cook, who, preparing a sheep's head, never dishes up the tongue without the brains.

Mike, and is it yerself that can be after telling me how they make ice crame ?" —" In truth, I can; don't they bake them in cowld ovens, to be sure."

In giving a man the " cold shoulder," do you " cut" him when you " meet" him?

Has the " tide of events" anything to do with the " current of public opinion ? "

Spiritual Facts.—That Whiskey is the key by which many gain an entrance into our prisons and almshouses.

That Brandy brands the noses of all those who cannot govern their appetites.

That Wine causes many to take a winding way home.

That Punch is the curse of many unfriendly punches.

That Ale causes many ailings, while Beer brings many to the bier.

That Champagn is the source of many real pains.

That Gin Slings have " slewed " more than the slings of old.

That the reputation of being fond of Cocktails is not a feather in any man's cap.

That the money spent for Port that is supplied by portly gents, would support many a poor family.

That Porter is a weak supporter for those that are weak in body.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, while, at the same, presents an attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns, both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer), "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous fine editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Astonishing efficacy of the Oxygenated Bitters,

IN A CASE OF EIGHTEEN YEARS STANDING.
From Fitchenry Homer, Esq., of Boston, Mass.
Boston, September 28, 1848.

DEAR SIR—It is now eighteen years since I was first troubled with the water-brash and derangement of the stomach. I have taken advice of the best Physicians in this city, and New York, in London, Paris, Germany, and Italy, followed their prescriptions, and visited the several sulphur and other springs in this country, the watering places of Germany, and elsewhere in Europe, and have not found any relief. Since taking the Bitters I have never had a return of the Water-brash, which daily troubled me of late years to a very great degree. My appetite has returned; the extreme flatulence, severe constipation of the bowels, general debility, and sleepless nights under which I suffered, have entirely left me. Having found so great relief from those discouraging disorder. I have recommended a trial of your medicine to many of my friends, who are now using it to great advantage. And I cannot refrain from writing to you in its favour and praise, for the good you have bestowed upon the community ; and trust that what little is in my scope to offer in extending the circulation of your "Oxygenated Bitters," will be done with grateful pleasure at all times.

Yours very respectfully,
FITCHENRY HOMER.

Never Failing Remedy!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A CRIPPLE SETS ASIDE HIS CRUTCHES AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist, La Prairie, Canada West, dated August 20, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR.—I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Ointment and Pills which has astonished every person acquainted with the sufferer. About 10 years ago, Mr. W. Commins, of Quinsey Street, in this town, was thrown down by the bursting of a powerful very serious injuries; he had the best medical advice at the time, and was afterwards an inmate of different hospitals, yet he grew worse, and at length a malignant running ulcer settled in his hip, which so completely crippled him, that he could not move without crutches for nearly 10 years; recently he began to use your Ointment and Pills, which have now healed the wound, strengthened his limb, and enabled him to dispense with his crutches, so that he can walk with the greatest ease, and with renewed health and vigor. (Signed) J. THOMPSON.

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A DREADFUL SKIN DISEASE, WHEN ALL MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Hird, Draper, of Keadby, near Gainsboro', dated March 1st, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR.—Some time since, one of my children was afflicted with dreadful eruptions over the body and limbs. I obtained the advice of several eminent Surgeons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless. At length I tried your Ointment and Pills, and without exaggeration, the effect was marvellous, for by persevering in their use, all the eruptions quickly disappeared, and the child was restored to perfect health.

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint, and gladly hailed the day I first came adopted your medicines, she would have been saved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer.

(Signed) J. HIRD, Draper.

ANOTHER SURPRISING CURE OF ULCERATED BAD LEGS, DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL HEALTH.

Copy of a Letter, from Mr. M. Clennell, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, dated September 20th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR.—I was induced by Mrs. Gibbon, of 31, Bailey Street, in this town, to inform you, that for a considerable period she had been a sufferer from debility, and general ill health, accompanied by a dis ulcerated bad legs, which rendered her unable to attend to her usual work. In this distressing condition she applied the use of your Pills and Ointment, and she states that in a wonderful short time, they effected a perfect cure. She has since enjoyed excellent health and strength; and that she is now enabled to walk about with ease and comfort. Several other persons in the neighbourhood have also received extraordinary benefit from the use of your invaluable medicines.

I remain dear Sir, yours faithfully,
(Signed) MORTON CLENNELL.

CERTAIN REMEDY FOR SCORBUTIC HUMOURS —AND AN ASTONISHING CURE OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY YEARS OF AGE OF A BAD LEG

Copy of a Letter from Messrs. Walker and Co., Chemists, Bath.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

DEAR SIR.—Among the numerous cures effected by the use of your valuable medicines in this neighbourhood, we may mention that of an old lady living in the Village of Preston, about five miles from this City. She had inherited wounds in her leg many years, and latterly they increased to such an alarming extent as to defy all the usual remedies; her health rapidly and may under the suffering she endured. In this distressing condition she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and by the assistance of her friends, was enabled to persevere in their use, until she received a perfect cure. We have ourselves been greatly astonished at the effect upon so old a person, she being above 70 years of age. We shall be happy to satisfy any enquiries as to the authenticity of this really wonderful case, either personally or by letter.

A private in the Bath Police Force, also, has been perfectly cured of an old scorbutic affection in the face, after all other means had failed. He states that it is entirely by the use of your Ointment, and speaks loudly in its praise. We remain, Dear Sir,
Your's faithfully,
