THE CAMPAIGN

Ovation to Sir Charles.

AN IMMENSE MEETING.

Sir Charles Floors Mr. Pipes.

THE MERCIER GOVERNMENT.

AMHERST, Jan. 30.

A most enthusiastic welcome was given Sir Charles Tupper to-day. On his arrival at the station about 1,500 persons assembled, and his appearance was greeted with tremendous cheering. The mass political meeting of the two parties held to-night, and addressed by Sir Charles and Mr. Pipes, was a decided success for the Conservatives, who scored a substantial victory. It being the first instance Mr. Pipes meeting he demanded and was accorded half an hour more than Sir Charles. Sir Charles was first called upon by the chairman, and for the hour given him dwelt in his most masterly and most convincing manner upon the wisdom of some of the great principles embodied in the policy of the Government. Just as he appeared to be fully under way the chairman called him promptly to time. Mr. Pipes was then called upon to put in his hour and a half. It soon became evident that he was trying to kill time, and in so doing read his long extracts from newspapers. No complaint need be made of Mr. Pipes' speaking ability, but it cannot be denied that substantial subject matter was wholly absent from his speech.

Sir Charles, in reply, took up his speech point by point, and Mr. Pipes' countenance presented a picture of confusion and uneasiness as the tables were turned upon him and his utterances were hurled back in his teeth as a boomerang. The meeting is said to be the best of the kind ever held here. Better order could not have been expected nor asked for in such a meeting. Sir Charles has thoroughly inoculated the party with his energy, and we march to victory with a solid phalanx.

QUEBEC, Jan. 30.

Mercier completed the formation of his cabinet last night, and they were sworn in. The cabinet is generally looked upon as a makeshift for a few months, when it will be reconstructed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Sir,—The following extract has just been clipped from the columns of one of the leading Liberal papers of Old Canada, and I would like to ask the electors of Prince Edward Island to carefully consider of it; as the article most certainly voices the views of the Hon. Edward Blake and his Ontario followers:—

"The public treasury was thrown open to them, one and all. Let us sample a few of the Government's adventures. There was a scheme to carry ships overland, some fifteen or twenty miles, between the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy, not an insurance company in the world would have risked a dollar on it; but the Government of Canada stands pledged to-day to furnish a bonus of several millions to it. Another crank has a scheme for tunneling the Straits of Northumberland,—at the expense of the Canadian Government, of course, the cost to be four or five millions; and to-day the friends of the Government in Prince Edward Island are calling on the electors to support the Government because it is pledged to spend these millions on that work. And in this way the future revenues of the country are being mortgaged to provide enormous bonuses for wild cat schemes."

Now, regarding the ship-railway: let me say that at the time of the defeat of Sir John Macdonald, and the consequent accession of Alexander Mackenzie to power, arrangements were progressing most favorably for the construction of a canal to connect the waters of the Bay of Fundy and of the Straits of Northumberland. This work would doubtless ere this have been an accomplished fact but for the hindrances put in the way by the so-called Party of Reform. The Liberal Government appointed a sham commission whose sole object was to kill the project, and the obstructionists succeeded. Then Mr. Ketchum lauded this other scheme of a ship-railway, and obtained certain guarantees from the Liberal Conservative Government, and the work has the endorsement of eminent Engineers of England. For my own part, I am free to say that I hope, when Sir John A. Macdonald receives another lease of power, as he certainly will on the 22nd of February next, one of his first acts may be to offer substantial aid for the construction of a ship canal, such as was contemplated at the time of the Confederation of the Provinces, and which, had the Liberal Conservatives had their way, would long since have been in practical operation to the great advantage of our people.

As regards the "Subway" Scheme of the Hon. Senator Howland, I may say that it has the cordial support of the Liberal-Conservatives of the Province of New Brunswick, and I really believe of the supporters of Sir John Macdonald's Administration throughout Canada, as well. Indeed, the whole Party of Progress rejoice to know that in Mr. Howland we have not a "Crank," but a statesman of sound common sense, and we trust that his hands may be strengthened by the return of six members, pledged to support the project which promises to be such an inestimable boon to the commerce and comfort of the garden Province of our new Nationality.

Hon. Edward Blake has positively stated time and again, that he opposes Dominion aid for railways, and favors direct taxation. Surely, in view of the subsidies granted to railways in Ontario, and which now form a portion of the debt of our Dominion, he cannot expect the intelligent electors of your fair Province to elect supporters of a policy which is as selfish as it is unfair. Then, as regards the direct taxation plank of his platform, one can rejoice to feel that Mr. Blake will not have the power to hamper the prosperity of Canada in that way for the next five years at all events.

Indications are that the New Brunswick will send twelve out and out supporters of Sir John to the next Parliament, and that Quebec will send 31, Ontario 52, Manitoba 4, Northwest Territories 4, British Columbia 6, Nova Scotia 12, and Prince Edward Island 4 members on the same side. This will give the Liberal-Conservative Party one hundred and twenty-five supporters, or a majority of forty, in a House of two hundred and ten representatives. Wishing you all prosperity, and trusting that the Jubilee year may be celebrated by the commencement of your Subway, and that ere long iceboat travel may be numbered with the things of the past.
