

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.
SECOND DAY.
Parade of Prize Horses.

LARGE numbers attended the Exhibition to-day, and great interest was evinced by the spectators.

HORSES.
The exhibit of horses is admitted by all to be the finest ever witnessed in the Province. Over one hundred and twenty animals were exhibited. In all classes, competition was keen, and the Judges, in many instances, were severely taxed in giving correct decisions. At few exhibitions are so many beautiful specimens of horse flesh shown. The stock parade on the ground to-day was a grand affair. Those who witnessed it little wonder at the Island being a successful competitor against the whole Dominion in horses.

In carriage Stallions the show was a fine one. Nine of the most beautiful, well turned and symmetrical horses owned in the Province were brought into the ring. The competition was very sharp. Hernando, the beautiful carriage stallion imported from the celebrated farm of General Withers, Kentucky, and owned by Hon. Neil McLeod, was awarded first, and handsome Royal Harry, four years old, owned by Mr. J. A. McMillan, Brackley Point Road, was awarded second, and a splendid Royal Harry, called Royal Frenchman, owned by Mr. John T. Rodd, of Milton, received third. The owners of horses unsuccessful in competition against the three above named prize winners, had nothing to be ashamed of. The stallions to breed from for trotting or road purposes were a handsome lot. A "Royal Harry" owned by Mr. Henry Lane, called "Mount Mellick Boy," received, as he well deserved, first prize. He is one of, if not the handsomest stallion in the Province. He is a bright bay with beautiful black points and would show to fine advantage at any fair. In this class a splendid young "All Right" Stallion "Robbie," owned by Mr. Geo. Dockendorff, took second; and a "Jeff," owned by Mr. James H. Dingwell, Mare, carried off third. The carriage colts under two and three years were very good, while the carriage mares with foals were excellent. In the class—carriage fillies under three years—competition was keenest. Seventeen competed for the prizes, and in the whole number one could not be found which was not worthy of exhibition, if not a prize. A "Royal Harry" filly, owned by Henry Longworth, Esq., was awarded first, and a filly by Rodd's "Royal Harry Jr.," owned by Mr. Wallace Rodd, Brackley Point Road, got second, and Mr. Charles Stewart's filly received third. Some particularly handsome carriage foals were to be seen. The first prize was carried off against nine competitors by a foal owned by Henry B. Smith, Esq., of this city.

The show of foals sired by Hernando was fine indeed, and very creditable to their owners and the sire. Chas. Dockendorff's filly was awarded first, Mr. Norman McLeod's filly from the dam of Blackfoot, second, and Dr. Dodd's filly—Royal Harry dam—third.

The show of cart horses, colts and fillies, was an exceedingly good one. At no previous exhibition has such fine cart stallions and mares, and so many promising cart colts and fillies been seen. The get of Barrister, the superior cart stallion owned by Mr. J. D. McLeod of this city, stood out prominent, and was highly praised by the spectators. Barrister at this Exhibition has proved himself a most valuable stock horse. He was awarded first prize in his class without much deliberation. Mr. McRae's Brown Stout, another most valuable stock horse, second, and a fine stallion owned by Alex. Smith, of Margate, named Victor Hugo, third. The competition in cart colts under two and three years was not large, but the stock shown was excellent. In cart mares with foal, the competition was large and the show magnificent. For a time the judges seemed unable to make choice, but they gradually, and with difficulty, weeded them out until a judicious and final decision was given. Mr. Robert Glover, of Summerside, was awarded first prize for his Dexter mare with Barrister foal. Mr. John Holmes, of Winsloe Road, received second for his Stockman mare with Barrister foal, and Mr. William Carey was awarded third for his Champion Mare with Barrister foal. The Cart Fillies, under two and three years old, were very choice but not numerous. Cart Foals, however, brought forth a sharp contest, and three of Barrister's get were successful.—Mr. William Carey's taking first, Mr. John Horne's second and Mr. Robert Glover's third. These three were also awarded the prizes for best foal, sired by Barrister.

CATTLE.
The exhibit of cattle was altogether successful; though in some classes the competition was small. Thoroughbred Shorthorns were scarce in most classes, but the animals shown were superior. Ayrshires too were not numerous, but like the Shorthorns were of extra good quality. In grades Shorthorns and Grades (not Shorthorn) the show was large and competition quite sharp. Many fine animals were shown in this last class. Among the chief exhibitors of cattle were Mr. John Dewar, Lot 48, who exhibited in most every class, and secured a number of handsome prizes. Blake Bros., who always have a handsome exhibit, Mr. George Tweedy, who showed two handsome yearling heifers weighing 942 lbs. and 770 respectively, and one of which secured first prize in its class, Henry Longworth, Esq., F. L. Hazard, Bellview, and Louis Jenkins, Upton. The Stock Farm stock on the ground looked well. The fat cow which weighed 1,675 lbs.—one hundred and fifty pounds heavier than the heaviest at the Dominion, was among the attractions of the Cattle Show.

SHEEP.
The exhibit of sheep was large. All classes were well represented. Better sheep than those shown have been seen on exhibition here, but we never saw a better average exhibit. In ram lambs of all breeds the show was particularly large, and extra good—Leicester and Shropshires appearing in equal numbers. In the Leicester ram lamb, Albert Boswell, who had a splendid exhibit of all kinds on the ground, captured first prize. Henry Longworth, Esq., who is a most successful sheep raiser, and who had also an excellent exhibit, received first for Shropshire Ram Lambs. Among the most successful exhibitors of Sheep, were Messrs Longworth, Boswell, B. E. Wright, Henry Lane, and F. G. Boyer. These exhibits were highly creditable to them.

PIGS.
The show of pigs was an average one. Young pigs of various breeds were numerous, and some real good specimen porkers were to be found among them. The show of boars and sows was small, but superior. In the latter class Mr. John Court and Patrick Berrigan, Royalty, were prize takers.

POULTRY.
The show of poultry was not so good as expected. There was not a large variety nor a large exhibit. Some very good Plymouth Rocks, Leghorns, Hamburgs, and Brahmans, were to be seen however; and there was a good show of ducks, and a fine lot of common geese. The prizes for Toulouse Geese were not awarded, owing to a dispute regarding purity of the breed of those shown.

GRAIN.
Of grains and grass seeds there were about fifty samples; and taken for all in all they were the best ever shown on the Island, or perhaps in the Maritime Provinces. Good judges say the samples are, if anything superior to those forwarded from the Island to St. John. Messrs. Bulman, of Rustico, Charles Pippy, Lot 48, Daniel McNeill, Lot 49, B. Cole, Bedeque, Peter Murphy, Portage, J. G. Hughes, Covehead, John Dewar, Lot 48, Wallace McKenzie, Lot 48, and Leonard Wood, Lot 48, were among our exhibitors. Mr. Joseph Haslam exhibited a bag of wheat much admired by judges.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.
There are on exhibition seventy packages of butter. It is generally admitted that the quality of the butter exhibit is better than it has been in past years. Among the exhibitors in this class apart from prize winners, are Mrs. Wm. Prowse, Royalty; Mrs. D. A. McEwen, North River; Miss Amelia Haslam, Miss Fanny Haslam, Miss J. Haslam, Mrs. George Burnett, Mrs. Henry Chowan, Mrs. E. Chowan, Mrs. John McKinlay, Mrs. E. Lewis, Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. E. Lane, and Mrs. Donald Ferguson. To judge which of the different samples were entitled to prizes was a work of much difficulty; and it was not without some reason for it, that some of the exhibitors, who didn't get prizes, continue to think their butter better than that of those who obtained the prizes.

THE MILL VIEW CREAMERY.
The exhibit was a very fine one in both butter and cheese. Mr. Bourke is to be congratulated on his success at the exhibitions; and we trust the financial returns from the creamery will be handsome. All the cheese factories on the Island were well represented. Though all could not, of course, get prizes, the quality of the cheese exhibited by all was very good—as good, perhaps, as could be produced in Canada.

ROOTS AND VEGETABLES.
While the exhibits in this department were perhaps fewer in number than in former years, they were never better in quality.

MR. E. BAYFIELD'S.
The exhibit consists of eleven varieties of garden and farm produce. His mangolds are perhaps, the finest ever shown in this Province—finer than any shown in St. John, not excepting those which came from the Bill's Eye of the Dominion. His cucumbers, beets, etc., are also splendid of their kind; and the flowers very handsome.

MR. C. J. HAZARD.
Exhibits varieties of Indian corn, carrots, Swede turnips and flax seed—all excellent of their kind.

MR. JOHN DEWAR.
Exhibits white oats, peas, red clover seed, Swede turnips, mangolds, carrots, beets, melons, etc.—a very good exhibit.

MR. JAMES HOWARD, JR.
is an exhibitor of prize potatoes; he also shows an excellent sample of white wheat, and another equally good of its kind of Swede turnips. His good wife contributes three fine cheese.

MR. FRANCIS DUMONT.
of Charlottetown Royalty, exhibits table carrots, cucumbers, melons, tomatoes, etc.—a nice collection.

MR. FREELAND.
exhibits some choice varieties of roots and vegetables, and is the winner of several prizes.

MR. THOMAS RIDGEWAY.
shows a representation of the flowers produced in his conservatory. There are three varieties of double petunias and three varieties of fuchsias—all very fine; a beautiful hand bouquet and also a table bouquet.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.
makes a fine exhibit of roots and vegetables, consisting of long red mangolds, white field carrots, shorthorn carrots, red onions, table beets, parsnips, danvers, celery, etc., showing careful and successful culture.

MR. JAMES BOURKE.
exhibits a collection of vegetables in cabbage melons, tomatoes, squashes, etc., well worthy of his reputation as one of our leading market gardeners.

MR. RICHARD BOURKE.
exhibits mangolds, carrots, onions, beets, etc., in variety; and Mr. Angus McKinnon shows a large collection of splendid vegetables.

MR. GEORGE TWEEDY.
shows several baskets of very fine potatoes; and is one of the successful exhibitors.

ARTISTIC AND FANCY WORK.
MISS BOURKE'S.
collection of pictures is very nice indeed. Her bunch of mayflowers is admirable; and but one of the seven pieces she exhibits is at all unworthy of any amateur artist.

MR. C. LEWIS.
is the only photographer exhibiting. He shows a well finished collection which is greatly admired.

MR. JAMES LANDRIGAN'S.
ability as a turner is very clearly proved by his elegant collection; and

MR. EARLE'S.
collection of stuffed birds, though much smaller would compare favorably with the collection exhibited in St. John.

MR. WEBB.
exhibits a model of a full-rigged steamship which is complete to the minutest particular. Many leisure hours have evidently been expended in its construction; and it is justly admired.

MISCELLANEOUS.
MR. C. P. FLETCHER,
agent for the Genuine Bell Organ," exhibits one of these widely known instruments.

MR. G. H. HAZARD.
exhibits a pine apple plant grown in his garden at the east end of the city in the open air; also a young palm tree, and many other foliage plants, together with flowers in variety, and several very fine roots and vegetables. Mr. Hazard is the winner of seventeen prizes; and certainly deserves great credit for his efforts in the field of horticulture.

MRS. HENRY DAWSON, of Tryon, not satisfied with the many prizes she received at Summerside, is here with a good assortment of home made cloths, towels, etc. We regret that she was too late in making her entries; for she well deserved prizes.

DIED.
At Cow River, on the 3rd inst., John McDonald, formerly of Ban'well, in the 48th year of his age. Kind and courteous in his nature he won the respect of all who knew him. May he rest in peace.
At St. Peter's Bay, on September 14th, passed away from the shadows of earth to the glorious sunshine of Heaven, William Dingwell, of Charlottetown, in the 54th year of his age. His kindness, generosity and hospitality, endeared him to a large circle of friends. He was an affectionate husband, kind father and good neighbor, and he died expressing his confidence in the merits of his Saviour. His funeral was attended by an unusually large concourse of people who entertain the highest respect for his memory.
