

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 28, 1896.

UNAVOIDABLE POSTPONEMENT.

As long as the straits makes crossing impossible, Mr. Craig could not be here to day to address our farmers and others on the subject of fruit-growing on P. E. Island.

CAN WE TRUST THEM?

The Liberal leaders—Laurier and Cartwright, Davies and Fielding, Tarte, Pacey and McShane—are not, just now, looking to the United States for "the sign by which to conquer."

"In one word, given free trade with Canada and you are within one stride from the position, in some respects, of a frontier city, with no great extent of trade territory secured to you to that of a central empire, with the practical monopoly of a great region behind you, whose commerce no man can take away from you."

"Even at this stage Canada and England have interests totally apart. And the time will come when in the very nature of things separation will take place."

Suppose it be admitted that Great Britain and Canada have some distinct interests, there are also many points in which their interests are identical.

"The St. John Telegraph calls attention to the splendid showing of the Bank of Nova Scotia at the end of 1895 when compared with that of 1896, and says: 'Without entering into a close analysis of the various figures contained in the statements, it may be pointed out that nine years ago the net profits for 1896 were less than $100,000, while in 1895 they exceeded $200,000. The deposits on call, and subject to notice, rose from $3,251,050 to $9,257,390. The total loans advanced from $5,100,000 to nearly $9,000,000. The reserve fund on 31st Dec., 1896 stood at $360,000, while now it stands at $1,375,000 a gain of over a million dollars.'"

"But the Telegraph is nevertheless striving to induce the electors of Canada to upset the fiscal conditions in which the 'solidity and prosperity of our monetary institutions' have been secured. Anything to upset the government and afford an opportunity to the bearers of the soap larders."

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Late advices from Ottawa state that Mr. Lepine's bill respecting the length of a working day on public works has the following provision: Eight hours shall be the length of the working day for all workmen and laborers employed, either permanently or temporarily, by the Government of Canada, or by contractors or sub-contractors, under or for it.

Mr. Chaucey Dewey says that two of the greatest pleasures for peace he ever saw were General Grant and Sherman, soldiers whose deeds in war all the world has heard of. On the other hand, some of the greatest slanders for war are men who never saw a sword drawn except at a grand review.

Up to noon on the 21st inst. a little more than $2,500,000 in gold has been engaged at the United States Assay Office for shipment. The gold is in bars, and may amount possibly to nearly $2,600,000.

Montreal Gazette: One of the charges against Sir Charles Tupper that he will not have to bother himself about the fact that the men are excessive optimists. This countenance lends and likes optimism. Hope was the inspiring cause of all its growth.

The Canadian Gazette, London, after referring to the fact that during the Transvaal crisis, owing to the fact that the cable via the east coast of Africa was broken, it was with great difficulty and after nearly two days' delay that even the British government could get news, continues thus:—

"What is the remedy? The empire must have its own cables—all British cables. The Pacific cable from Canada to Australia, touching upon none but British soil, will, we may expect, be an accomplished fact very shortly. Australia will then be safe from the telegraphic isolation of which she now stands in grave peril by reason of her dependence upon a cable open at point after point to the risk of foreign meddling. To add a spur line from Australia to the Cape via St. Paul must be the next step, and South Africa may be alike inviolate. We look to Mr. Chamberlain and South African statesmen to see that this moral of the Transvaal crisis is not forgotten."

The New York Herald's special from Buenos Ayres says: France, through her minister, has informed the Brazilian Government that she agrees to arbitration of the Amazon boundary question. She will, however, absolutely refuse to discuss the details of the affair of May 16, 1895, in which French soldiers were attacked in the Amazon territory. The British minister has handed to the Brazilian Foreign Office a note from Lord Salisbury in which are embodied the points held as the foundation for England's claim to the Island of Trinidad. The British Prime Minister says the Government is willing to accept arbitration as a means of determining the rightful ownership. The note further says that when the British Parliament meet on the 10th inst. the British Government proposes to announce in the Queen's speech, and that unless Brazil gives reason for delay in arbitrating the dispute by showing letter proof of ownership that has been already advanced, the island is lost to the republic.

QUILTED FIBRE CHAMOIS.

The most admirable lining for coats, capes, dressing gowns or undershirts is made by quilting Fibre Chamois with one layer of thin wadding to the silk, satine or other material used. This furnishes warmth enough to withstand every degree of cold and wind, yet it is firm and light, and the smooth surface of the Fibre Chamois makes the stitching wonderfully easy.

EVERTON LEAGUE.—The Rev. Mr. Sutherland's paper on George Eliot, read last evening, and the quotations from the gifted author's works supplied by Mrs. G. F. Beer, Mrs. S. Sanderson and Mrs. H. Smith, were delightful. The paper was a scholarly one, presenting a careful and sympathetic study of the life, character and works of one of the immortals in English literature; and the deep interest of the audience showed that this was fully appreciated. At the close there was a short discussion, in which the wide difference between the works of such writers as George Eliot and George MacDonald and the ordinary all too popular novel was clearly brought out by Mr. Sutherland. A hearty vote of thanks, moved by G. F. Beer, Esq. and seconded by Dr. Taylor, was conveyed to Mr. Sutherland by the chairman, and it was announced that the Rev. Mr. Fullerton will on next Monday evening address the League on Burns. The League is to be congratulated on having obtained as readers of papers men of high scholarship and culture. The room in which the meetings are held was crowded last evening, and we shall not be surprised to see it over-crowded on Monday evening next.

RUBBING IT IN.

Never use a liniment for rheumatism, says a high authority. Don't rub it in—drive it out. Take something that removes the acid poison from the blood—take something that will improve your digestion, and build up the body to the perfection of robust health. That "something" is Scott's Sarsaparilla, a remedy that obtains the best results in the shortest time. $1. of all druggists.

SKATING.—Some of the "flyers" are getting in some good practice at the track on Government Pond.

THEY'RE OLD OPPONENTS.—The Charlottetown and Victoria teams will play their first hockey match this season in the Hillsborough rink on Friday evening next. These teams are old rivals, and a rattling game will be put up.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—At the annual meeting of District Division No. 3, held at Margate recently the following officers were elected: D. W.—Leslie Woodside, Clinton. D. W.—Wm. Sharp, Clinton. D. S.—A. B. McLeod, Burlington. Chap.—Joseph Davidson, Burlington. Treas.—Wellington Haslam, Springfield.

Our great annual remnant sale commences to-morrow (Wednesday) morning. Call early.—Moore & McLeod.

LATEST NEWS NOTES.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the Cabinet will immediately consider the matter of making important changes in the British military equipment.

In bidding for the new first-class cruisers for the British navy there was but one per cent. difference between the bids of three competing firms. About $2,150,000 will be paid for each 11,000 ton vessel.

An official denial has been published of the statement that any communications had passed between the Governments of Great Britain and the United States regarding the proposed destination of the Flying Squadron.

In opening the Swedish Parliament, Saturday, King Oscar announced the healing of the breach with Norway. A large surplus was announced. The budget provides for augmenting the army and navy. Strict neutrality was the policy the King announced.

Twenty-seven of the lynchings occurred in the Northern States, and 144 in the South, where also 120 negroes were executed. There is a decrease in the number of lynchings, and an increase in the number of murders. It might be thought from this fact that the Judge of the reaty rope had been let up too soon.

The Observator Romano, the organ of the Vatican, officially denies the statement contained in a despatch recently published by the London Chronicle that the Pope, through Cardinal Sotillo, had been selected as arbitrator in the dispute between the United States and Great Britain. It also denies that His Holiness offered to act as arbitrator in the Anglo-Venezuelan dispute.

Martinez de Campos, now superseded in the Spanish command in Cuba, was an unlucky soldier, though the fault is probably more in the way he was supported and in the kind of soldiers furnished to him than in the generalship. But he is entitled to the credit he now claims for himself—that he was no butcher. He stood on the humanities of war, and thus the Spanish side of the present Cuban struggle honorably distinguished from that in the former one.

The Chicago Tribune's record for 1895 of the murders, suicides and lynchings, etc., in the United States, is as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: Year, Murders, Suicides, Lynchings. 1894: 14,500, 9,412, 130. 1895: 6,615, 4,436, 200.

The following table shows the total value of exports from Nova Scotia during the years under free trade, and during the years since 1895:—

Table with 2 columns: Year, Value. 1874: $7,658,441. 1875: 6,979,130. 1876: 7,164,558. 1877: 7,812,041. 1878: 7,590,783. 1879: 7,364,224.

In Kings on (Ont.) a few days ago Dr. K. N. Fenwick performed an operation on the eye of Rev. Geo. Edwards and removed an abscess. The needle made a slight wound on his hand, and, notwithstanding every effort to prevent blood poisoning, the next day symptoms of that disease appeared, and they increased with a large alarming rapidity. It was proposed to remove his arm, but he objected. He bade his friends good bye, telling them he could not live through the night. He died shortly before midnight. Deceased was a famous surgeon, particularly in women's diseases, and it was his intention to establish a private hospital in Kingston for these special cases. Two years ago he donated an operating amphitheatre to the General Hospital. Only six months ago he was married to a daughter of Col. Macpherson, of Ottawa, a nephew of Sir John Macdonald. He was Professor of Obstetrics in the medical faculty of Queen's. Dr. Fenwick was one of the most successful surgeons in Ontario, and his cases came from all over the province. His practice was the largest in Kingston. He was so well and favorably known that his sad death has cast a gloom over the city.

Have Nothing to Live For.

Sometimes men and women feel this way. A wave of despondency creeps up and up till it reaches the heart. They become languid and listless. Life appears grey and desolate. What such people want is not merely a tonic. They want to be built up. They want a stimulus which will give them courage and put new hope in them. Such a stimulus is found in Wilson's Invalid Port Wine. This is incomparably the best tonic at present offered to the public. A rich, generous wine, with a glow, a body and a firmness which are calculated to build up the wasted system. A bottle of this bracing tonic makes a poor debilitated creature a new citizen. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital St. d246

OBITUARY.

We clip the following from the Quebec Morning Chronicle:—

John Thomas Dawson, as true a gentleman as ever lived, a good neighbor and a man of sterling character, passed away yesterday morning after a brief and sudden illness. He had not been well for a long time, and a few years ago he was so reduced by ill health that his intimate friends feared his end was near. But he rallied, and his remarkable constitution carried him through a severe, long and almost fatal illness. When his friends saw him three or four days ago they little dreamed that death was so near. He was a man of genial nature, kindly hearted to a degree, and he was always extending a helping hand to those who needed aid. He was a member of the Methodist Church, where he occupied a foremost position. He loved the society of his friends and he was a generous host. His home life, in which he was always the central figure, was one of the sweetest that could be conceived. A kind father, a devoted brother and a sympathetic friend, he was never tired trying to make those around him happy. The loved ones near to him will long feel the grievous loss which they have sustained. The general public, who will regret the absence of one with whom it was always a pleasure to have dealings. His integrity was never doubted, and in his death Quebec and Lower Town particularly, a citizen whom it could ill afford to lose."

The late Mr. Dawson, who died on the 14th inst., aged 67 years, was a brother of Dr. Samuel E. Dawson, Queen's Printer of Ottawa, and son of the late Benjamin Dawson, Esq., of Montreal, a native of P. E. Island. He was also a cousin of Dr. Dawson, and of Mrs. Richard Heertz and Mrs. Thomas Alley, of this city. Mr. Dawson was the last publisher of the Quebec Gazette, the first newspaper published in old Canada, and which was established in the year 1764. It continued its journalistic career for 100 years and in 1884, under Mr. Dawson's management, its centennial was celebrated, when he published a centennial issue reproducing the first number.

The Observer, of Stirling Scotland, reports:—"On Monday the grave closed over the remains of Duncan McLaren, mason, Doune. Born in the district, from which he never much away, it can be safely said he lived his 71 years in it, and his remains rest beside his forefathers in Kingcardine Churchyard. Poss. is said a splendid memory, deceased could recall many an old-time story, and few knew the locality better than Duncan did. A widow and four children are left, for whom much sympathy is felt. His son, who served his apprenticeship with Messrs. R. Main & Son, is now, by his own ability, a partner in a large drapery concern in Canada, and is the buyer for the firm in British markets. He pays a yearly visit to Doune, and when he was here in the month of August, father and son could be seen taking their daily walks together, and as his father was now in his 71st year, it is not less than a son in his far-away home."

Mr. McLaren, of Messrs. James Paton & Co., has our sympathy.
