Anti-Cancer Drug Is Tested, Declared Of Little Value

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal health department says an anti-cancer drug two Ottawa doctors claim to have developed has failed to demonstrate any curative or palliative action in the treatment of cancer.

Health Minister MacEachern said the findings of the department's opinion Thursday. It made the finding after reviewing an interim report prepared by the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation.

The report says two senior consultants of the Ontario foundation visited Mexico in May to interview a doctor who administered the anti-cancer hormone developed by Drs. V. A. Mirkovich and V. V. Mirkovich.

Of the two patients examined by the Canadians, a child reported to have cancer of the mouth had been treated with radiation and cancer chemotherapy agent in addition to the Mirkovich hormone.
