

THE CAMPAIGN.

King's County—The Candidates.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 28, 1878.

City Schools.

SEVERAL of the examiners have sent THE EXAMINER notes of their observations yesterday. We should be greatly pleased to receive such "notes" from the remaining examiners before we publish those at hand. It is but right that all the teachers should receive the credit or discredit which is justly their due. Besides, the people of Charlottetown have a right to know who among the teachers have given satisfaction to the examiners. The "mass meetings" at Upper Prince Street School and at St. Patrick's Hall were interesting; but they would have been still more so, had each examiner given a short statement of the impressions he received at the examination of the schools in which he sat.

Death of the Queen of Spain.

THE Queen of Spain died on the 26th. She was unconscious when she died. The Standard's Madrid correspondent, telegraphing before the death of Queen Mercedes, says: "The King and members of the royal family are assembled around the Queen's bed. The ministers were summoned to the Palace early this morning, and in the Foreign Office all the chiefs of the diplomatic corps are assembled. The Palace gates are closed, and the immense crowds outside the gates are kept back by guards. The scene is most impressive."

An Unconstitutional Course.

That Mr. McKenzie intends to hang on to office until the last moment and resort to questionable means to secure victory at the polls, is evidenced by the conduct of his lieutenants in Quebec and British Columbia. In Quebec M. Joly, with a vote of want of confidence on the constitutional question staring him in the face, proposes, with Lieutenant Governor de St. Just's help, to conduct the affairs of the Province at least until the Dominion elections; and Mr. Elliott, in British Columbia, although he himself as Premier has been beaten, and although he admits that he is in a minority of nine in a House of five and twenty, sticks to the fleshpots and the distribution of patronage, and what is more, intends to stick there until his friend Mr. McKenzie is served in the Dominion contest. In the days of old, Reformers counted the Premier a traitor who for a day after his Government had been condemned, stood in the way of the Opposition succeeding him.—Mail.

Rusty Rails.

We have had sent us from Kingston a small box-full of rust from Mr. McKenzie's steel rails, which have for so long found lodgment on the docks of the Limestone City. The oxidation must be very serious, for some of the rust is in large flakes, and from a sixteenth to an eighth of an inch in thickness. Ocular demonstration of Mr. Mackenzie's admirable business habits and honesty of purpose!—Toronto Mail.

The Convent De Notre Dame.

THE classes of this excellent institution were examined on Monday and Tuesday, the 17th and 18th inst. The examination was not a public one. Only His Lordship Bishop McIntyre, a number of the clergy and the Editor of the Herald were present. The Herald, commenting on the result of the examination, says:—"The excellence in teaching for which this institution has, in past years, been noted, was fully maintained. The young ladies acquitted themselves excellently. Careful teaching and careful application, could alone bring about the excellent results which were witnessed. As is well-known, the course of studies in this Institution is extensive, and embraces some very high branches. All difficulties had, however, been well mastered, and a well grounded knowledge secured in every department. The distribution of honors took place at the Convent on Wednesday. As will be seen by the list following, the pupils have received but the honors from their course—no prizes being awarded. To account for this we clip the following from the Herald, which tells of a noble act of self-sacrifice and charity which was performed by the young ladies of this Institution:—"Knowing that His Lordship Bishop McIntyre was collecting funds for the establishment of a hospital, they generously asked that the worth of their prizes should be handed over to His Lordship to aid him in his beneficent purpose. A handsome sum of money, with a beautiful address, was, in consequence, presented to the Bishop on Monday evening, the 17th inst. No words of ours could adorn an act in itself so beautiful. It deserves to be long remembered, as we are sure it will be to the credit of the young ladies."

A Gold Cross, presented by His Lordship the Bishop of Charlottetown, to Miss Mary Ann McQuaid, for Religious Instruction.

THE HIBERNICA.—Healy's Hibernica will commence a two nights' engagement at Market Hall. Speaking of the entertainments, the Savannah Sunday Telegram says:—"Healy's Hibernian Minstrels gave their second performance yesterday afternoon to a tremendous house, as was anticipated; and, of course, the little ones were delighted, while the older ones were entertained. Last night they were again greeted by a large audience, an excellent Saturday night house, and presented an entirely new programme. The sketches of German life and the "Farewell to Funderland," by Miss Mary Ten Broeck and Mr. J. E. Hanshaw, were received with the heartiest applause. Bryan O'Lynn excelled his previous efforts, and Henshaw with his banjo brought down the house. Messrs. Morrissy, Nora and Barney contributed materially to the pleasures of the entertainment, and were complimented with encores. Everybody seemed pleased, if the enthusiasm of plaudits be taken as a criterion, and this approval should be taken as the most favorable of criticisms." The Company will arrive by boat from Pictou this evening, and parade to the Hall. Matinee on Saturday, at 2 o'clock. Admission 25 cents; children, 10 cents.

St. Dunstan's College.

THE closing examination and distribution of prizes took place at the above named institution on Thursday, the 27th inst. Several classes were examined in Classics and Mathematics, all of which acquitted themselves very creditably. Some very interesting experiments were performed by the class of Natural Philosophy. The exercises were interspersed with music and some recitations in English and Latin excellently rendered. There was a great number of the clergy and laity present, who seemed to be highly pleased with the manner in which the various parts of the programme were carried out. After highly congratulatory addresses by some of the clergy all joined in singing "God Save the Queen," and then all dispersed, highly delighted with the afternoon's entertainment. The following is the
