Ch'town Arrows Edge Primroses

The Charlottetown Arrows edged out a 4-3 victory over the Montague Primroses in a hockey game played at the Montague rink Saturday night. Owing to the mild weather, the ice was slow which impeded the players carrying the puck. Despite ice conditions, however, both teams put on a very fine performance for the large crowd attending, and good defensive play was responsible for the low score. MacLean, Clements and McGee were the point-getters for Montague and MacDougall (2), Herring and Dicks for Charlottetown.

Maj. Fred Kelly To Be Honored By "Nite" Shortly

Major Fred Kelly, Athletic coach of Acadia University, will join the ranks of Maritime sportsdom immortals on Friday, February 25th, when his friends gather to honor him on the occasion of "Kelly Nite", an event appropriately highlighted with a hockey contest between St. Mary's and Acadia Universities held in University Rink, Wolfville, game time, 8:00 p.m.

Kelley Nite, a time when the Major's boys rally around to show their appreciation of "Kel', coach scholar, and friend to hundreds of people across the country, is the result of efforts put forth by members of Coach Kelly's sporting associates, and represents something entirely new in Maritime University circles.

Major Kelly was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. He attended St. Dunstan's University where he received the degree of Bachelor of Science. While attending McGill University, he played rugby and hockey, and after his return to Charlottetown, he piloted the "Abegweits" hockey team to the Maritime Senior Hockey Title. It was a big year for team captain Kelly. His position was right defence. The Abegweits won 30 games, lost 1, and tied 1. In 1927, Major Kelly came to Acadia University as coach. In 1937, he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the University. In addition to degrees in both the faculties of Arts and Science, he has had two years Physical Education training at Springfield.

The singular success and the impressive succession of titles held by Kelly-coached teams stands as mute testimony to the brilliant guidance of a man outstanding in his profession. The Kellymen won 18 out of 20 Intercollegiate track meets. Since the year 1934, he had produced twelve championship rugby squads and five Intercollegiate hockey championship teams.

Coach Kelly is presently Acadia Faculty Representative to the M. I. A. U., and he has held the positions of president and secretary of this organization. He was vice-president of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association, 1925-26, and president of the Association, 1926-27. Major and Mrs. Kelly spend each college year in Wolfville but return to Prince Edward Island for the summer months.

In addition to looking after the hockey, rugby, and track teams of the University, Major Kelly has, at one time or another, been instrumental in establishing a comprehensive swimming program at Acadia, coached girls' basketball and tumbling teams, and one year coached the basketball team to the Dominion semi-finals. He has been prominent in the organization and operation of the annual "Acadia Relays," and he had coached Horton Academy hockey and English rugby teams to many Headmaster Championships.

A young man in body and spirit, Coach Kelly has no intention of retiring. The written congratulations of a host of friends are pouring in from all over the country, and the Committee responsible for Kelly Nite hope that as many of Major Kelly's friends and associates as possible will be on hand to show their tangible appreciation of a truly great sportsman.

IN THIS CORNER

Well, the Fredericton Capitals made a fine mess of their final week of play in the regular schedule. The Caps were scheduled to play four games last week and they only played two of them, the two which were staged in their own back yard, the York Arena. To start things off, they flew to the Island on Monday night and when most of the fans were on their way to the games, the Caps discovered that due to icing conditions and high winds, they could not land at either the Charlottetown or Summerside airports. So, they returned to Fredericton and tied the Hawks on Tuesday evening. Things went smoothly enough throughout the league on Wednesday because the Caps weren't playing. They stayed home and trounced the Ramblers to make certain of third place on Thursday night and then in an attempt to make the return game in Amherst on Friday night, had a collision with an oil truck on the way down to Amherst by bus. The accident occurred about 120 miles from Amherst and the Caps were unable to get transportation to the Ramblers home-town in time for the game so it was cancelled. The Ramblers management is reported to have stated yesterday that it is content to commence the playoffs tonight and forget about the game altogether. What the Caps attitude is, is not known.

* * *

Well, when last reports of the Caps came through on Friday, they were approximately 120 miles from the Northumberland Strait and were to play at the Forum Saturday, the following night and since they had failed to appear once before in the week, it was logical to think that they would put forth an extra effort to reach the Island for this final game.

* * *

But as we have said before, things are done in an "opposite to logical" manner in the Atlantic Coast League. The tickets were selling well at the Forum for one of the few Saturday night contests of the season and again the fans were on their way to the rink. Shortly after 6 p.m. the Islanders manager, Forrest Clow received a call from the Caps in Moncton which notified him that they were unable to make connections with Maritime Central Airways in order to reach the Island in time for the game. The Airways imormed the Caps at 10 a.m. in the morning that they would not guarantee passage to the Island that day due to extra work which was keeping all their craft occupied. Now, the Islanders have been playing games here on Monday nights and getting up in time to leave for Fredericton at 7 a.m. the following morning during every second or third week of the schedule. As yet they have to disappoint the Bailey Arena fans with failure to appear.

* * *

Mr. Clow contacted the local Airlines and at 7:30 had a plane ready to fly to Moncton in order to bring the Caps in in time for the game. He then wired the Caps and asked them if they would come over on the plane which was ready to leave and could be back on the Island in a matter of forty minutes. The Caps said they would if they were assured of getting back by plane to Moncton following the game. The assurance could not be given and the Caps stayed in Moncton where they remained until today. This seems like a pretty poor excuse for failing to reach their playing destination when you consider that they were in Moncton early in the day.

The Islanders management got right to work and last night Mr. Clow received a wire from Caps club president, Myer Budovitch, notifying him that the local club is being awarded $175.00 for the postponed games. He also stated that he assumed that the Caps were awarding the two points of the games to the local club. In the same wire Mr. Budovitch stated that the Capitals would definitely be in Charlottetown for tonight's opener of Series A of the Atlantic Coast League Finals.

* * *

In a letter received from the Rothesay Collegiate School in New Brunswick, it is noted that Arthur Clements, son of R. K. Clements of Montague, for the third time in the current hockey season, scored a hat-trick when he banged in three of his team's five goals in their win over Saint John Vocational School at the Rothesay Collegiate Memorial Rink recently. The win gave the School a one game lead in the play-offs for the Saint John City and District title. Other Islanders playing on the team are Alfred Groom and Alan MacFarlane of Summerside, Kenneth Jenkins of Charlottetown and Ronald Lewis of Freetown.

SDU Defeat PWC 42-37

The Saint Dunstan's University second team kept their winning streak intact in the City Basketball League as they defeated the Prince of Wales College team 42-37 on Saturday afternoon.

Dave Arnold was high scorer for the Saints with 16 points followed by Kelly with eight and Fearon with six.

Mark Ladner led the Welshmen with 12 points while Joe Revell had eight and MacKenzie six.

The Welshmen lost the services of Ladner during the last five minutes of the game when the starry young forward injured his ankle. The score was tied when he left the floor and his loss certainly hindered the Welshmen's chances. The score at half time was 22-21 for S.D.U.

Lineups:—

S. D. U.: Arnold 16, Kelly 8, Fearon 6, McGuigan 5, MacDonald 5, Morrison 2, MacDonald. Total 42.

P. W. C. Ladner 12, Revell 8, MacKenzie 6, MacFadyen 5, Johnston 4, Morgan 2, Duvar, MacLean. Total 37.

MAHA Rule Ross Watson As Eligible For ACSHL

AMHERST, N.S. (CP) — The Maritime Amateur Hockey Association meeting here over the week-end ruled on the eligibility of a Moncton Hawks player, drew up playoff dates and made plans to crack-down on rinks who have not paid their share to the promotion of minor hockey.

The MAHA ruled that Ross Watson was eligible to play with Moncton of the Atlantic Coast Senior League and tossed out a protest by Charlottetown against him.

They announced the Maritime senior winner would have to be ready to meet the Ottawa and district winner in the first round of the Allan Cup playoffs on March 19.

Dates were announced for the starting of playoffs in the intermediate, junior, juvenile and midget leagues. The junior and intermediate playoffs start Feb. 18, the juvenile Feb. 22 and the midget Feb. 25.

The association said steps would be taken to collect the one per cent tax on Maritime rinks for the support of minor hockey. Some of the rinks have yet to pay the tax, which is not to exceed $15 a game.

Minor Hockey At Georgetown

In two minor hockey games played in the Georgetown rink on Friday night, the Georgetown Midgets defeated Souris High School by a 7-1 score, and the local Bantams held the visiting Souris Bantams scoreless while they sank five counters to win 5-0.

In the Bantam game B. McCullough got two of his team's five counters, with M. Murphy, P. Bathcilder and G. Wight getting singles. Both games were crowd pleasers and produced good hockey.

Georgetown 7, Souris Eagles 1

In a fast, rugged, and good hockey game played in Georgetown rink Saturday night, the high-flying Georgetown Eagles rode roughshod over the visiting Souris Bruins for a 7-1 victory. B. Stevens was nothing short of sensational in the Georgetown cage as he kicked out rubber from all angles. The first period ended 2-0 for the locals on goals by McConnell and H. Stevens. In the middle session, Publicover, Allen MacPhee, and H. Stevens were the goal getters for Georgetown with the visitors still going scoreless. The final stanza saw the locals getting two more counters by MacSwain and A. Landry, and for Souris the goal getter was C. Lavie, who spoiled what looked like a sure shutout for the Eagle goalie.

The locals are fast rounding into top form and should be a team to be reckoned with in intermediate B playoffs.

The referees were E. Lavie, Souris and G. Lavers, Georgetown.

Skating Trials At Saskatoon

SASKATOON (CP)—Ralph Olin of Calgary finished first in three events at the Canadian Olympic speed skating trials Saturday and Sunday.

Despite a 15-mile-an-hour wind and the disadvantage of longer than regulation slopes on the corners, Olin bettered the 1951 trial times in each event.

Olin won the 10,000-metre event in 18 minutes, 22.5 seconds, an improvement of one minute and seconds. He covered the 1,500 metre distance in two minutes, 31 seconds, or 2 3-10 of a second better than 1951. He finished first in the 5,000-metre event with a time of eight minutes, 55.3 seconds faster by 26 seconds than the 1951 time.

Gordon Audley of Winnipeg won the other Olympic event, the 500 metre dash, completing the distance in 46 2-5 seconds.

Olympic officials in Montreal will check the record sheets before selecting three skaters to represent Canada in the 1956 games in Italy.

Face-Off Time Is Play-Off Time

The referee drops the puck at the start of a game between Islanders' team captain Copper Leyte and Bessie MacDonald of the Capitals as will George O'Donaghue at the Forum in the opening game of the best of nine series in Series A of the Atlantic Coast Senior Hockey League between Fredericton Capitals and the champion Charlottetown Islanders. Photo by Meyers

Yes, the regular schedule of the first year of operation of the Atlantic Coast Senior Hockey League has been played to completion. Agreements have been reached regarding several postponed games so that tonight, the playoffs, which many fans have been waiting for, will commence at the Forum with the League champion Charlottetown Islanders playing host to the fast-skating Fredericton Capitals in the first game of Series A. In Series B the Moncton Hawks, runners up in league competition, meet the Amherst Ramblers in the Hub City Stadium.

Everyone remembers the fine game the Caps staged against the Islanders in their last appearance here some weeks ago with only a 11 man line-up. It should be twice as exciting when the Caps blow into town with what is expected to be a complete line-up this evening for the contest tonight.

After Monday night's cancellation, Friday's late start and no contest Saturday night, many fans will probably be thinking that it will just be a repeat performance tonight. Everything, however, is in readiness for tonight's battle. Yesterday evening the Islanders' manager Forrest Clow announced that he has received word from the Caps club president, Mr. Myer Budovitch, that the Fredericton team has been in Moncton over the week-end and will take the 2.40 p.m. crossing of the Borden ferry to the Island and arrive in the local capital in plenty of time for an 8:30 start this evening.

The Islanders, who climaxed the regular season with four big victories, go into tonight's game with a high feeling of confidence which, said coach Steve Brklacich last night, is to a good extent due to the magnificent goal-tender which they have in Jim Shirley. The Islanders also go into the series very strong in both other hockey departments, forward and defence. In front of Shirley are four able rearguards in the forms of coach Steve Brklacich, Hughie Campbell, Danny O'Connor and Lloyd Hinchberger. Many of the league's best forwards pace the positions of Steven's ten-man scoring staff. He has three big lines, all of superior marksmanship as far as scoring is concerned, starting with Bob Gray and Lorne Hennessey centered by the league's scoring champ Buck Whitlock. Ray Leduc centers Vip Palladino and Wimpy Jones while big Coppe Leyte carries the rubber between Orin Carver and Wally Kullman or Bobby Dowling who are presently alternating on left wing of this line. Caps also display lots of power with such men as Jackie Heon, Nick Nicolle, Doug McPhee, Bill McDonagh, Bob Leger, Doug Hewey, Bessie MacDonald and Jerry Smith.

The referees for tonight's game will be George O'Donaghue from the NOHA and Dewar Judson from Moncton.

Forrest Clow last night announced the play-off dates as he had received them from ACSHL secretary Robert Chandler earlier last evening. Series A between the Islanders and the Caps continues at the Forum tomorrow night with the second game of the best of nine finals. The scene shifts to York Arena in the New Brunswick capital Thursday and Friday night. The fifth game will be played here a week from tonight and any further games will be played as follows: at Fredericton February 23, at Charlottetown February 25, at Fredericton February 26 and the ninth if necessary here on the 28th. In Series B the Hawks meet the Ramblers in Moncton tonight, Amherst Tuesday, Moncton Wednesday, Amherst Friday and back in the Hub City for the fifth game on Saturday evening. They play in Amherst on February 21, Moncton the 23rd, Amherst the 25th and the final in Moncton a week from Saturday, February 26. The referees for this series are Mel Snowden of Montreal and Sonny MacDonald of Fredericton. All games will be played to a finish.
