

the did not deny it like Parker and then that she had another one still-born, upon which there was held an inquest, as was customary then. But that she tried to make way with it was the vilest and meanest slander, and he was prepared to say such a charge was never in existence, but at the age of seventeen she had been seduced. This has been, so is now, and will be for all time to come, and her seducer is a villain. But this did not hinder her telling the truth; neither was it the fault of the Osbornes that such was the case. Dr. Tuck may say the same has been told of Annie Parker that was told of Buchanan—that she had a child—but that is not all. Buchanan had her children by the same man and did not deny it. Then she occupied a position of charity. This is the sin laid to her charge. But here is Parker who charges her man, and the magistrate refuses to take her oath; not only this, but she denies the deed, and on oath too. She has the face to solemnly deny her own father. He would call their attention to the candor and precision with which she (Buchanan) had given her statement. Referring to her evidence about going in the bar-room with the little boy, it reminded him very much of the atheist arguing against the Bible. He remembered reading the healing of the blind man by our blessed Saviour. One of the gospels said there was one blind man—the other said two; and the atheist argued that it was a lie on account of the evangelists not agreeing. But if there were two he could say one and tell the truth. Now this is the very argument against Agnes Buchanan, and he would venture to say if the Evangelist could stand it surely she could. But it might be said, Why not apply the same rule to Parker? but ah, there is a wide difference, as he had already shown, having contrasted the two witnesses, the one not striving to keep her history from before the world, while the other is imposing on the public by wholesale.

The Local Government.

It was rumored in Summerside yesterday that the Local Government is in the throes of dissolution. The truth of the rumor is not yet confirmed. There are, however, two special, among many other, Conservative reasons why it should be true.

1. It has completely lost the confidence of the Province.

2. The Grit wing of the Local Government is using all its influence in support of the Grit Candidates for the Dominion House of Commons—to the disgust of their colleagues.

"Audacious Lying,"

The Patriot charges us with "audacious lying" in our report of the meeting in the Drill Shed. We leave this matter in the hands of the electors present. Even if we were incorrect in saying that "everyone was in good humor, except Mr. L. H. and the Chairman," it would, after all, be only a matter of opinion, and nobody but the Patriot editor would have thought of characterising it as an "audacious lie." We admit we were a little astray, for the snappish editor, himself, was evidently in very bad humor over the whole affair; but, as it is nothing unusual for him to be out of temper, when he finds public opinion against him, we did not think it worth while referring to him. The effrontery of the Patriot, in this matter, is simply unparalleled. He says Cartwright was received in the Drill Shed by a "perfect ovation." The truth is, the "mixer muddler," as well as the Premier, entered the Drill Shed amidst the most profound silence, which was not even broken by the clap of a solitary hand; and when the Finance Minister commenced his speech, the attempt to raise a cheer by the officials was not responded to by one hundred out of the two thousand electors present. The Patriot says that at the close of the meeting three cheers were given for Sinclair and McGill and three for McKenzie and Cartwright. This statement, as far as Sinclair and McGill are concerned, is made out of whole cloth. No such cheers were proposed. The cheers for Cartwright and McKenzie were straggling and faint in the extreme, and were followed by three rousing cheers for Sir John McDonald and three for Pope and Brecken. No better evidence of the strength of parties in the Drill Shed than that supplied by the cheers at the close could possibly be desired, yet the Patriot brazenly it out by a good deal of very "audacious lying."

The Minister's at Summerside.

"ON THE WING."

A SPECIAL TRAIN left Charlottetown at 12 o'clock yesterday. Besides the Ministers, there were on board, among others, the Hon. L. H. Davies, Local Premier; the Hon. W. D. Stewart, Commissioner of Public Works; the Hon. John Robertson, M. E. C.; Peter Sinclair, Esq., M. P.; Hon. A. B. McKenzie, M. L. C.; Donald Farquharson, Esq., M. P. P.; Messrs. Brydges, McKechnie, Cunningham, Stronach, Brown, and many other gentlemen occupying public situations.

THEIR ARRIVAL.

After a pleasant passage—and a substantial lunch on the way—the Ministers arrived at Summerside. There they were met by the Hon. Alexander Laird, M. L. C.; Angus McMillan, M. P. P.; R. T. Holman, Esq., and an assemblage of two or three hundred persons. A cheer for them was proposed; but from such a crowd the response was about the weakest that can possibly be imagined. They were conducted to Mr. McMillan's carriage, and in company with Hon. L. H. Davies (Local Premier) were driven through the streets of the town—to the music of the Summerside Brass Band. The Band, we may remark, was formed only last spring. But under the teaching of Mr. Stranberg its progress has been rapid; and its performance on the occasion was excellent. Water and Central streets were decorated with bunting. Altogether, the reception was very creditable to Messrs. Holman and McMillan, who, we are informed, made all the arrangements. It was in pleasing contrast with the naked, bare, inhospitable reception the Ministers received from their friends in this city.

"THE MEETING."

About four o'clock the meeting was opened in Ludlow Hall. There were present a fine assemblage of the yeomanry of Prince County, though the Hall was at no time full. It is needless to say that the Patriot's estimate of "a thousand" is largely inaccurate. After the presentation by Mr. Holman of addresses to the Ministers, came forward. He was not in such good form as when he appeared in Charlottetown. His attention must have been somewhat distracted towards the close, by people going out; and a sharp Highlander made him very unamiable by a running cross-fire of pungent and witty remarks. His speech, it is safe to say, made little or no impression upon the audience—except in one particular. He showed, both at Summerside and Charlottetown, that no duties which could be applied would affect the prices of flour or grains to the Canadian consumer. All such a duty could do, he said, is to shut out Yankee flour or grains, and perhaps ruin some millers in Ontario who draw upon the Yankees for their supplies. While he was saying that he wanted Canada to be "a cheap country to live in," the sharp Highlander, alluded to, interjected "cheap for the rich." The appositeness of this remark excited laughter and cheers, and somewhat disconcerted the Premier. Mr. Cartwright spoke with much more vigor and eloquence than he did in Charlottetown. But his speech had just about the same effect. He commenced by advertising to the "ignorance of the people" about the country they live in; and in reply to one of the sallies of our witty friend, said he feared he was "casting his pearls before a certain kind of animal." From the fact that large numbers had just before gone out, he left the audience somewhat in doubt as to the application of the courtly adage. He exerted himself to answer a question propounded to the Premier by Mr. Stavert. He said the "hard times" of Canada are due to the extravagance of Sir John's Government, to over importations and other causes. When he sat down there was a general call for Pope; but Mr. Gaffney came forward and moved a vote of thanks to the Ministers. The motion was declared carried. Then a cheer was proposed, to which about one in ten of the audience responded. Then Sir John McDonald was loudly cheered; then the meeting broke up, and then the Ministers took passage on board the steamer for St. John.

"When he sat down, Mr. Fredk. Brecken, one of the Tory candidates for Queen's County, proceeded to put into execution a plan which had apparently been concocted by his party to prevent McKenzie getting a hearing. In a loud voice he demanded that he should be heard before Mr. McKenzie, and forced his way on to the platform. On Mr. McKenzie attempting to speak, a crowd of about one hundred roughs, believed to have been brought there by Brecken, and consisting for the most part of the scum of the population, set up a great shout which they renewed every time any one on the platform attempted to speak. A number of blows were struck and a scene of great confusion ensued. The uproar was continued till after six, when Brecken and his rowdies withdrew, and Mr. McKenzie got a hearing."

The above is from a Charlottetown special telegram to the Halifax Chronicle. Those who were present at the meeting will readily see that—to use the plain language of the Patriot—it is a tissue of "audacious lying."

QUERY.—Will the Local Premier and his followers thank the First Minister for having stripped the flour scarecrow?

AN English mail via Rimouski arrived in this city last evening, and another via Halifax arrived at 8 o'clock this morning.

At the Stipendiary Magistrates Court this forenoon, Francis Moynagh was fined $2 and costs or 8 days, for being drunk and inepable.

MR. MCKENZIE now admits that the Government is "not perfect." His record of promises broken and "principles" violated attests the fact.

THE steamer Princess of Wales was detained yesterday at Port Hawkesbury by the storm. She did not arrive at this port until 8 o'clock this morning.

MR. HENRY LAWSON, of the Patriot, proposed three cheers for McKenzie on Monday in the Drill Shed, and was cordially seconded by one of his sons. No one cheered. Heard.

THE OSBORNE TRIAL.—Mr. Palmer concluded his address on Monday evening, having spoken for a day and a half. Dr. Tuck will not probably occupy so much time and the case will likely be left to the jury to-day.

"GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE."—This is not now permitted by the Grits. Mr. L. H. Davies manages political meetings in the same way that he runs the Local Government. The people are disregarded. The Grit leaders decide who shall and who shall not address them on political questions. This is Grit practice.

THE dispatches announce the serious illness of Mr. B. Devlin, M. P. for Montreal Centre. It is unlikely that he will continue the contest with Mr. M. P. Ryan, the Opposition candidate. At the best, Mr. Devlin was running as an Independent candidate, not daring to come out as a straight Government candidate.

THE great "Mixer and Muddler" said at Summerside that he was only joking when he said that the Highlanders were "hereditary thieves." If so, we fear that he is not likely to be any greater success as a wit than as a financier. In the future we advise him to adopt A. Ward's plan. When he gets off a witticism let him add: "This is intended for a goak."

THE steamer Worcester arrived at three o'clock this afternoon with freight and the following passengers: Mr. J. J. Lewis, Mr. Eaton, Mr. Leonard, E. R. Gates, H. F. Millard, Miss Palmer, Mr. J. J. Stanley, Mr. Erskine, Mr. J. D. Worth, Mr. John Kennedy, Mr. R. J. Tufts, Mr. Harney, W. Jones, Miss Bridget Halfpenny, Miss Rose Kennedy. The Worcester will sail to-morrow evening at the usual hour.

SAYS the Patriot: "The person who behaved in the most unseemly and discourtageous and cowardly manner on the ever memorable Monday, was Edward Jarvis Hodgson. That person's language towards Senator Haythorne was, we learn, such as no gentleman would think of using towards anyone. Addressed to a gentleman of Mr. Haythorne's age and position by a young and vigorous man, it was simply cowardly and brutal."

The language of which our contemporary complains amounted to this: that Haythorne and Premier Davies were assailing Mr. Hodgson on the platform with foul language; and Mr. Hodgson, in reply, advertised to the well-known fact that Davies had once said that Haythorne was either a knave or a fool; and Mr. Hodgson, seeking information, asked Mr. Haythorne under which class he choose to be reckoned. Mr. Hodgson did nothing more than leave the matter to be settled by the principals—Davies and Haythorne. Davies marked out the two headings, under either of which Haythorne ought to be classed. Mr. Hodgson only asked for information from the parties interested—and for this he is abused.
