Mal Whitman Suggests Equal Rights At Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Mal Whitfield, Olympic gold medal winner at 800 metres in 1948 and 1952, urged Monday that every American Negro athlete eligible for the Tokyo Olympics boycott the games if they have not been guaranteed "full and equal rights as first-class citizens" by that time.

Whitfield called for the boycott in a signed article in Ebony magazine. He said it might seem a "shocking proposal coming from a former Olympics athlete who has travelled in many foreign countries as an official goodwill ambassador."

But he said he thought the time had come for American Negro athletes to join the fight for civil rights. He added that "it is time for America to live up to its promises of liberty, equality and justice for all.

"We now face a period when action is needed — not more waiting and filibustering—and the Negro athlete is needed to spur the action along," Whitfield said.

ONE-QUARTER NEGRO

He said that he expected that the U.S. track team at the Tokyo games in October, probably would be made up of about 25 per cent Negroes. "This means that in sports Negroes are still carrying the heaviest load in America," he said.

He said although the fight for civil rights "belongs to all Americans—not just the blacks or just the whites—it is perhaps up to the Negro to launch the dramatic offensive.

"For the Negro athlete, the 1964 World Olympics is as good a place as any to begin."

A spokesman for the U.S. Olympic Committee said he thought that Whitfield had made a mistake and hoped that nothing would come of the proposal for a boycott.

Caouette Makes Plea For Wide Que. Power

OTTAWA (CP) — Constitutional amendments to give Quebec control over fiscal, immigration and trade policy and sole possession of direct taxing fields were urged by Real Caouette, leader of Le Ralliement des Creditistes.

Speaking in the Commons budget debate, he said these powers are necessary for Quebec and the other provinces to allow them to develop.

Mr. Caouette said he doesn't want to take away anything from the other provinces. But Quebec should be allowed to run its own affairs.

Speaking on the third day of the budget debate, he also attempted unsuccessfully to present a non-confidence motion calling for family allowances geared to rising living costs. If this were done, he said, family allowances now would be $22 a month for each child, instead of the present $6 for children under 12 and $8 for those aged 12-15.

However, his motion was ruled out of order by Deputy Speaker Lucien Lamoureux under the rule allowing only two non-confidence motions in the budget debate. Two have already been moved by the Conservative and NDP parties.

WOULDN'T NEED TAXES

Mr. Caouette said that if Quebec had control over credit in the province, economic growth would be such that Ottawa wouldn't have to impose taxes.

As for control of immigration, he said, "we should be masters of who can live in our province."

Quebec should also be allowed to control export and import trade, and have the sole right to collect direct taxes—income tax—a right he said was granted in the 1867 British North America Act.

Mr. Caouette accused the federal government of having no concern about the welfare of Canadians. The government had taken no measures to ensure they had enough purchasing power to have a decent living.

He said the economic masters of Canada—those who control the supply of credit and money —control economic and political life. Without their consent, the government couldn't breathe.

Jack Horner (PC — Acadia) criticized Finance Minister Gordon's March 16 budget as a "do-nothing budget" which increased the national debt and did nothing to benefit agriculture—Canada's most important basic industry.

SEVEN FLEE

BONN (Reuters)—Seven persons escaped from East Germany to the West during the weekend, West German authorities said Monday. One was a 32-year-old woman who fled to West Berlin. The others were young men aged between 15 and 25 who made their way through mine fields and barbed wire fences into West Germany.

New Pump Providing Help For Liver-Cancer Victims

By FRANK CAREY

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. (AP) — Victims of incurable liver cancer are getting life-prolonging help from a newly-developed tiny, portable pump —carried like a hearing aid— which pumps drugs continuously into the liver as the patients remain up and around at home or at work.

This was reported here by Dr. Robert D. Sullivan of the Lahey Clinic, Boston, in a report to the sixth annual seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The pump, which drips anti-cancer drugs 24 hours a day into a catheter tube inserted in an artery supplying the liver, weighs only a half pound, and the patient winds it every eight hours, just like a clock.

Dr. Sullivan was unable to give his report in person but his complete report was made available.

Reporting significant, and in many cases, sustained clinical benefits from the technique, the doctor said it also "obviates the necessity for extended periods of hospitalization often attended by severe financial and psychologic burdens to the patient and his family."

The technique has now been used in 25 patients, with periods of treatment now ranging up to almost three months—and still going. All of the patients have incurable liver cancers.

Of 18 patients considered to have been under treatment long enough to justify appraisal, 13 have had the growth of their tumors significantly slowed. In them, too, massively enlarged livers have been reduced to normal or near-normal size. And there has been relief of liver pain and nausea, improvement in appetite and weight and "improvement in over-all performance."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Dbls.

Opening lead—ten of clubs.

It does not pay to double a contract if by doing so you give declarer information that enables him to make the contract.

The accompanying hand comes from a team of four match. At the first table, with East - West silent throughout, South got to four hearts and went down one on normal play. West led a club and East cashed the A-K and returned the jack of spades. Declarer took the spade with the ace, led a heart, and eventually had to lose two trump tricks to go down one.

But at the second table, declarer made the contract when East doubled four hearts on the bidding shown. The play started the same way, with East cashing two clubs and returning a spade.

Declarer decided that East had to have all the missing trumps to justify his double, so he played the hand on that basis. He realized that he could make the contract only if he could execute a trump endplay against East, and that this could not be done unless he could win the next seven tricks and reduce East's hand to four cards, all trumps.

So he won the spade with the king, cashed the A-K of diamonds and ace of spades, and ruffed a spade. Declarer then ruffed the queen of diamonds in order to reduce his trump length, and next ruffed his last spade to produce this position.

Declarer now led the jack of diamonds and East could not make more than one trump trick. When he ruffed with the ten, South underruffed and East was then forced to yield the rest of the tricks. East's second trump trick vanished into thin air.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
