

BUYING UP THE BRIGANDS' HEAD IN GREECE.—A letter from Athens says:—On the 21st ult. there arrived at the Piræus two brigands' heads of the second class. A classification has been found necessary in order the better to lead to the extermination of this scourge of the country. The brigands are therefore divided into three classes; 3,000 drachmas (the drachma is 90c.) are offered for each head of the first class; 2,000 for the second class; and 1,000 for the others. They are paid for on delivery, on the identity being established, and are afterwards buried in the cemetery, at a distance from the bodies to which they belonged. This is a circumstance which makes a great impression on the brigands, for convinced as they are that they will all go to hell, they do not at all relish the idea of going there without their heads. The two brigands, whose heads are spoken of above, had assassinated a public functionary near Poros, after having put out his eyes, cut off his ears, &c., and their heads would certainly have come into the first category, but for the penury of the treasury.

THE GRAND DUKE CONSTANTINE OF RUSSIA.—The Grand Duke Constantine, in consequence of the way in which he has been mixed up with recent naval operations, is looked upon in England as a very terrible fellow, both in appearance and manners; but nothing can be further from the reality. He is a tall, slight, well-made young man, with good features and a pleasant expression, and seems to be on the best terms with himself and every one about him. He is, in short, the last man in the world, who, from his appearance, would be reckoned dangerous or disagreeable. Besides this, he has a considerable reputation for wit and sarcastic humour.

RUSSIAN AMNESTY.—An Amnesty is granted in reference to the events of 1825, 1827 and 1831. The confiscations, arising out of the same events, are to remain in force.

The Irish potato crop is said to be little damaged by disease as far as can be yet ascertained. The Freeman's Journal says, "When we bear in mind that of the increase in green crops, amounting to 115,000 acres, alluded to by his Excellency at the Athlone meeting, not far from 100,000 acres were planted with potatoes in excess of last year. If we estimate the value of an acre at the moderate sum of £10, the additional crop will be worth to the farmer something about £1,000,000 sterling."

THE IRISH LABOUR-MARKET.—The Limerick Observer contains an agricultural letter from the adjacent county of Clare, in the course of which the following reference is made to the state of the labour-market in that quarter:—"Scarcity of hands and exorbitant rates of wages were expected, but these have not occurred. The highest wages were 4s. in a few places, for three or four days; 2s. a day and diet was the ordinary rate of the market. In remote parts of the county, at first, labour was scarce, the native starting out of the county of Limerick and elsewhere, determined to make money. The experiment, however, did not pay. In those places he was not as an intruder on other men's labour, to reduce the rate of it. Now, on his return, he is received very coolly by the men whose crops were in danger. However, everything has turned out very fairly, with little cause for grumbling. As a stout farmer (who had paid 410 wages one day) said at Meelick yesterday, "The man that is not content this year with the harvest, has given the country, ought to be taken and shot." Around Gort and the Connought boundaries of Clare a good deal of work yet remains to be got through. The hands have been absent, and only now begin to return. Near Limerick, within the past few days, farmers have been looking for labourers to stack the corn, without success.

THE FLAX CROP IN IRELAND.—From the first part of the Irish agricultural statistics for the present year we have the following summary for the four provinces:—Ulster: Extent of land under flax, 1855, 87,876 acres; ditto 1856, 96,911 acres. Increase, 9035 acres.—Munster: Extent of land under flax, 1855, 4252 acres; ditto 1856, 3935 acres. Decrease, 317 acres.—Leinster: Extent of land under flax, 1855, 2141 acres; ditto 1856, 2022 acres. Increase, 891 acres. Connaught: Extent of land under flax, 1855, 2772 acres; ditto 1856, 2948 acres. Increase, 176 acres.—Total for Ireland: Acreage under flax, in Ireland, 1855, 97,041 acres; ditto 1856, 106,826 acres. Increase in 1856, 9785 acres. Extent of flax grown in Ireland in each of the following years: In 1850, 91,040 acres; 1851, 140,536 acres; 1852, 137,068 acres; 1853, 174,579 acres; 1854, 151,403 acres; 1855, 97,041 acres; 1856, 106,826 acres. The principle increase in Ulster has been in the counties of Armagh, Donegal, Down, Londonderry, and Tyrone. In Munster there has been a large decrease in Cork, and an increase in Kerry. In Leinster there has been a considerable increase in Wexford; and in Connaught some increase also in Mayo and Roscommon.

CITY WEIGHING MACHINE.—We are requested to call the attention of our city readers to the advertisement in this day's paper for the leasing, by public auction, for one year, of the above machine. It was imported by the Government a few years since, and placed at the head of Pownall-street wharf, where, for some reason or other, it was seldom used. On the incorporation of Charlottetown it was generously presented to the City by the Government, and is now placed in a situation where it cannot fail, if properly managed, to be of great public service, and a source of considerable private emolument. We trust, therefore, to see a sharp competition for the possession of it. To prevent its being let to improper persons, and at too low a price, the City Council have very properly retained a power of approval. It is the best weighing machine in the city, having been imported from Canada or the United States—we are not certain which—of the most eminent manufacturer, and will register the addition or subtraction of half a pound.—Com.

UNITED STATES.

LATE FROM CALIFORNIA.

California dates are to the 20th August, per steamer George Lane, from Aspinwall, which arrived at New York on the 14th inst. She brings $1,600,000 in treasure.

The Vigilance Committee at San Francisco have signalled themselves, since our previous advice, by the unconditional release of Judge Terry, on the 7th of August, and by a grand parade and review of their whole forces on the 18th.

Although no official notice of the fact was given, yet it appears to have been understood that the functions of the Committee ceased, at least for the present, with the parade of their forces, which numbered between four and five thousand troops. The San Francisco Herald, however, disputes the disappearance of the Committee.

There was a great fire at Diamond Springs on the 5th ult., which destroyed $500,000 worth of property.

Rather more than the average number of murders, robberies, and assaults of a less grave character, have taken place during the last fortnight. One of the most desperate cases occurred on the 12th ult., when a party of six highwaymen attacked in open day the Cantonville stage coach, on its way to Marysville. There was about $100,000 in treasure on the stage at the time, and the coach was full of passengers, who gallantly defended themselves and their property. Some 40 shots were interchanged, and the coach was riddled with balls. One passenger, a woman, was shot through the brain, and several others seriously wounded. The robbers were compelled to retreat without the coveted booty.

Judge Terry, after his release at San Francisco, went on board the U. S. ship of war John Adams, for protection, and on the following Saturday proceeded to Sacramento, where his friends and the "lawless order" party received him publicly, and congratulated him on his safe delivery from the hands of the Vigilance Committee at San Francisco.

Markets were dull. Yield of crops good.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT ON THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—Two Men Instantly Killed—Several Injured, Some probably Fatally.—This morning, at the 6.30 passenger train from Lawrence for this city, reached Sweetser's Grove, in Reading, about two miles beyond the village, one of the axles of the tender suddenly broke, throwing the baggage car violently off the track, to the right, and entirely demolishing it.

LOCAL NEWS.

CHARLOTTETOWN FAIR AND CATTLE SHOW. This affair came off on Wednesday last, the 24th inst. Although the day was exceedingly unfavorable, a large number of persons from the country were on the ground. The Show of Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Pigs, &c., both as regards quality and quantity, was better than any exhibition of the kind we recollect to have witnessed for many years on this Island. There was quite a number of very handsome blood Colts and Fillies, and several very fine draught Colts and Fillies, particularly a fine Colt recently purchased by Messrs. Clark and Fowle, for the purpose of being exported to the United States. A four year old Entire, owned by W. Hodges, Esq., a very fine animal, was sold for £98. We observed some very fine one and two year old Heifers: and a Bull, about three years old, owned by the Hon. Edward Haythorne, would have passed for a good sized elephant, with the exception of the tusks.

After the Show was over, a large number of farmers and others, together with the officers of the Royal Agricultural Society, sat down to a substantial dinner at Cairns's Hotel.

MYSTERIOUS AND FATAL OCCURRENCE.—On Monday morning last, as a small vessel, laden with cattle and agricultural produce, bound for St. John's, N. F., was proceeding out of the harbour, two of the crew landed at the Block-house, and informed Mrs. Smith, the person in charge, that a man named John Murray, a tailor, in Charlottetown, who had taken passage in the vessel the evening previous, and had gone to bed in good health, was missing from the vessel, and it was believed, had fallen overboard. Mrs. Smith told the informant that he had better get the vessel taken back into port, and report the occurrence; but this was not done—the vessel steadily proceeding on her voyage. As soon as Murray's relatives in Charlottetown became aware of his fate, diligent search was made for his body, which was not found, however, until Tuesday morning, and when brought to light, exhibited a very severe contusion over the left eye. An inquest, summoned by Mr. Coroner Hodgson, has been held over the body, but its proceedings have been adjourned for a month, when it is supposed the vessel in which the deceased took passage, will have returned to Charlottetown—at present there being no sufficient evidence attainable to enable the jury to render any thing like a satisfactory verdict. Dr. Hobkirk, who made a post mortem examination of the body, stated it as his decided opinion, that the contusion over the left eye was inflicted before death, but did not cause death—the unfortunate man having perished by drowning. The case is a very mysterious one, and is rendered particularly so by the fact of the vessel not returning to report it, when she was not out of the harbour when it occurred. We have no doubt the necessary steps will be taken to make full investigation into all the facts connected with it. The poor man, thus summarily cut off, has left a wife and three small children in Charlottetown.

On the 7th inst., at Seal River, near Orwell, a sad tragedy was enacted. It appears, from the very unsatisfactory information we have been enabled to elicit, that a man named James Hogan had become insane, and, after setting fire to his own house, repaired to that of Mr. Wm. Fraser, son, a short distance from his own place. He was seen coming towards Mr. Fraser's by the occupants, who, observing that he was armed with a pitchfork, and apparently inclined to do mischief, went into the house and fastened the door. On coming to the door and finding it fastened, he went round to the kitchen window, drove the pitchfork through, and was in the act of getting through himself, when a son of Mr. Fraser's, after warning him off, fired a load of slugs into his chest, causing almost instant death. This melancholy affair happened about 9 a. m., on a Sunday morning, there being three men in the house at the time. An inquest was held on the following day, before John MacDougall, Esq., Coroner, when a verdict was returned—"Homicide, in self-defence."—Adv.

On the 19th instant, as Sarah, daughter of Mr. Ed. Butler, postman, of Murray Harbour, was attempting to descend a well with the intention of recovering a hoop belonging to a bucket when about half way down, the wall of the well closed in, covering her about eleven feet. In a very short time about 200 persons were assembled who immediately commenced excavating each side of the well, and after working from 4 to 9 o'clock in the afternoon, they succeeded in rescuing her, very much bruised, but no bones broken, and is now rapidly recovering.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills a certain remedy for Erysipelas.—Mr. Thomas Hilton, of Toronto, was a most severe and hopeless sufferer from this powerful and irritable disorder for upwards of four years, which rendered him absolutely pitiable; large purple blotches came all over his body, and made him a complete object of horror to himself as well as to all his friends. He consulted many medical men, in the hope of being benefited, but without success. Determined not to be bled, and in spite of what the faculty had told him, he determined as a last resource, to commence using Holloway's Ointment and Pills. These two remedies, used conjointly for a short space of time, effected a perfect cure, and he now enjoys the most robust health, after years of intense suffering.
