The Rev. Mr. Barwash is expected to speak at the Gospel Meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall to-morrow, at 4 o'clock.

To-morrow evening Father Osborne will preach at St. Peter's Church. As he leaves for Summerside early in the week, this may be the last sermon he will preach in Charlottetown for some time.

Of the fourteen or fifteen English speaking members returned from the French Province of Quebec, only three support the Opposition party. All the rest are found in the Government ranks.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—Mrs. MacLennan acknowledges with thanks, receipt of $10 (ten dollars) from the Directors of the Citizens' Skating Rink, on behalf of the poor of St. James' and Zion Church.

The Rev. Mr. Barwash will (D. V.) preach a sermon on "Future Punishment," in the Upper Prince Street Methodist Church, to-morrow morning, (18th inst.), at 10.30 a. m. and in the Methodist Brick Church in the evening at 6.30 p. m.

HENRY JOSEY WILLIAMS (Wm's son), was killed while lumbering at Sheet Harbor. While engaged in binding on a load, some of the logs rolled on him, injuring him so severely that he lived only two hours after. An inquest was held.

The visit of the Princess attract, U. S., and other visitors to Bermuda, and is leading the press to write it up. A correspondent of the N. Y. Times finds that there are just 305 islands forming Bermuda, inhabited by 14,000 people.

The Temperance Alliance will, we understand, hold a meeting in this city, on Monday evening. We hope some arrangement will be made for the appointment of a competent Inspector for this county. Indeed the necessity for such an officer at the present is apparent.

At the meeting of the Fire Department, held last night, Chief Engineer Large was re-appointed. A good order was made regarding house ladders. Citizens will do well to pay attention to section eleven of the By-law regulating the Fire Department, published in our advertising columns.

A few days ago we published an on dit that the Attorney General, the Commissioner of Public Works, and the Hon. Mr. Prosser had assisted to carry Dr. Robertson across the Capes on their way to Ottawa. What we stated was intended as a joke. It was perfectly true nevertheless. The Parish has forced an unenviable and cruel meaning upon our remarks—a meaning we never intended and which we now repudiate.

St. James' Church.—The Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, having set apart Sabbath next, 18th February, as a day of prayer for colleges, and for the youth of the church generally. The service to-morrow forenoon will have reference to these topics; and prayer will be offered for the Divine blessing to rest upon Christian schools, Sabbath schools, Bible classes and colleges. The Rev. James Whitman will conduct the public service at the evening diet of worship.

The case of Macdonald, of Halifax, which we noticed last evening, has assumed a peculiar phase. A committee appointed by the Legislative Council, of which he was a member, unanimously reported that he was, by his own admission, bankrupt, and that no bankrupt should be allowed to hold his seat there. Gentlemen of both political parties, in and out of the Council, have expressed themselves, in no measured terms, at the fellow's presumption, in returning to the city to claim his seat. Now, it is reported, in one of the papers, that the Council have discovered that they have no power to declare the seat vacant. How this decision could be, or was, arrived at we are not informed. Surely there must be some power in the land which should be exercised to prevent this outrage.

LECTURE ON GEOLOGY.—Somewhere about the last of this month, Mr. Francis Bain, of North River, will deliver a lecture on the Geology of Prince Edward Island, before the Educational Institute, in Y. M. C. A. Hall. We have every reason to believe that the lecture will be comprehensive and interesting, not only to the student, but to the general public. Mr. Bain is almost of the first thinkers in Geology, not having neglected the means to obtain all the developments in the science of his fellow-workers in the great field. The lecture will be the result of actual, practical research among the fossiliferous rocks of our shores, and scientific observation of our hills and valleys, in relation to their geological formation. Mr. Bain is a young man, a farmer, and a scientist. His labors are recognized by scientific men in other parts; and we must not neglect to add that Mr. Bain has consented to lecture after much solicitation, as he is, like most men of capacity, very unassuming.

A SHORT time before Christmas a niece of Mr. Dunbar, living on York street, Toronto, while drinking from a waterworks tap, felt something pass down her throat. She could not imagine what it was, but in the course of a day or two she experienced great pain. Medical aid had been summoned, and the doctor decided she had swallowed a fish or something of the kind, which passed through the pipes from the reservoir and treated the patient accordingly. Under this treatment in the course of a few days she recovered so far as to be able to eat as usual without experiencing any trouble. This continued until Tuesday last, when she threw up a lizard almost four inches long. She has now completely recovered and is quite ready to laugh at the unpleasant experience through which she passed. A neighbor named Reed received a fish from the same source a few days ago, but was fortunate enough to get it in a pail of water and now keeps it as a trophy.

THE FLOODS IN THE WEST.

50,000 Homeless, and Suffering from Exposure and want of Food.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17.

The floods in the West are still increasing. The damage to property cannot be exactly estimated. It is immense. In this city alone over fifty thousand people are homeless and out of work. They suffer the greatest hardship from exposure and want of food. At Louisville, Kentucky, over two thousand houses are flooded, and both this city and Louisville are cut off from railway communication with all other cities. The Mississippi River is rising very rapidly. A large number of towns on its banks are slightly flooded, and the people are in fear of a great inundation.

A despatch of the 14th from Cincinnati says:—"The river at nine o'clock to-night marked sixty-six feet and three quarters of an inch and was rising slowly. The day has been the gloomiest in the history of the city. Business was wholly neglected on change, all attention being given to saving property and affording relief. Rain is falling above and below here. The weather is warm and almost sultry. Merchants are again removing to higher levels vast quantities of goods hitherto supposed to be above the reach of the water. This is done with immense labor and under most trying circumstances by men standing in the water. The Little Miami depot is flooded and wagons are no longer able to cross Newport bridge. Louisville and Nashville trains receive passengers on trestle at the Cincinnati end of the bridge, they reaching it by boats. The Cincinnati, Hamilton, and Dayton road, which have been only the outlet for trains, north and east, to-night went under the floods to such an extent that no trains could pass. This leaves the city practically cut off from the rest of the world to north, east and west by rail communication, except that the Bee Line road which still runs trains leaving from the stock yard station. This outlet is also accessible to the Cincinnati, Washington and Baltimore trains and they may enter the depot in that way. Three hundred passengers are waiting at Winton Place for transportation by omnibus into the city. The Cincinnati Southern Railroad sent out a train to-night and received one, but the water has so permeated McLean avenue that wagons sank to their hubs while removing express and baggage, and fears are entertained that the whole street will sink under the trains. No effort will be made to-morrow to run trains on this road into the city. There is no point this side of the bridge where passengers can be taken on the cars. Only one road is now able to reach its depot, namely the Cincinnati Northern, which comes into the city over the hill top, and has a depot ten squares from the river. Not a steamer is running, there being no place to land. The city is partly lighted to-night by coal oil lamps, set inside of the gas lamps. The work of relief has gone on vigorously today and many touching scenes were witnessed.

At Hopedale, Strathalbyn, on Dec. 20th of Consumption, Rachel, beloved daughter of Alexander McInnis, aged 36 years.

At St. John, N. B., February 2nd, of Consumption, Hannah Silliphant, beloved wife of Robert A. Williams, in the 24th year of her age. She leaves a husband and one child to mourn the loss of an affectionate wife and loving mother.

Dearest sister, thou has left us; Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled, Then in heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tear is shed.

At the residence of his son-in-law, Hugh Ramsay, Esq., Perth Amboy, N. J., U. S., on the 29th ult., Mr. Cornelius Lawson, in the 83rd year of his age. He was born and brought up in Covehead where he spent the greater part of his life. He, with his family, removed to Port Hill where he made many friends, and finally he left his native shores and took up his abode in the sister republic. He, for many years, was a master shipbuilder of this Island, and is widely known among those engaged in that branch of industry, who without doubt will regret to hear of his death. He was greatly beloved by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance for his many social qualities.

MARRIED.

By the Rev. James Allan, of Covehead, on the 3rd ult., Frederick William Craswell, to Margaret Ellen McDonald, daughter of Mr. Allan McDonald, all of South Rustico.

Fire Department.

THE attention of Citizens is hereby directed to the following section of the Civic By-law regulating the Fire Department:

11. The occupant of each house in the city, whose yearly rent shall exceed thirty dollars, shall provide and keep one leather bucket, to hold at least two gallons, with his or her name painted thereon. Each house shall have at least two good ladders, forming a complete connection between the ground and the ridge of the roof. Any occupant of a house omitting to have either the ladders or bucket, or failing to have them in good repair, shall, on conviction, be liable to the penalties of this By-law.

All parties failing to supply their houses with the ladders required before the 1st of May, will be prosecuted. The penalty is as high as thirty dollars.
