Canadians Are Bitten Harder By Travel Bug

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians, bitten harder by the travel bug every year, are heading for their biggest spending spree abroad.

Reflecting national prosperity, travelling Canadians last year spent a record $382,000,000 on trips outside the country. But figures compiled by the bureau of statistics for the first six months of 1955 indicate they are spreading the dollar more than ever in foreign countries this year.

The bureau estimated that 20 per cent more Canadians travelled overseas and about 10 per cent last year than before. Figures are more overseas folk visited Canada not in for 1955, but it is apparent that more Canadians are flying to Europe than ever before and more are visiting the United States.

MANY CROSS BORDER

The United States is still the favorite visiting place of Canadians. It drew $313,000,000 of the $382,000,000 spent by Canadians on travel outside the country last year. And although its share of this year's increased spending by Canadians is not known, the bureau says it is rising along with Europe's share.

Between January and June this year, Canadians spent $195,000,000 compared with $164,000,000 in the same period of 1954. The higher outflow of cash, a bureau official said, was running to both the U.S. and Europe.

Most of the money Canadians left overseas last year went to the United Kingdom—$35,000,000. Other European countries attracted $28,000,000. Other European countries attracted $23.000.000, sterling countries other than the U.K. drew $7,000,000 and all other countries $3,000,000.

A bureau official said that of the $7,000,000 spent in sterling countries other than the U.K., more than half went to the tropical lands of the West Indies and Bermuda as many Canadians went south to escape the winter.

INCREASES GENERAL

The amounts spent in all five categories of countries for which the bureau compiles figures were up in 1954 from 1953. Most marked was the amount spent in the U.S. It rose to $313,000,000 from $307,000,000 in 1953. Canadians spent $31,000,000 in the U.K. in 1953 and $35,000,000 in 1954.

In 1953, Canadians spent $18,000,000 in continental European countries. They boosted that figure to $23,000,000 last year and it is expected to be higher still by the end of 1955.

Air travel to overseas countries is increasing. Bureau of Statistics figures show almost half the 73,000 Canadians returning to Canada from overseas last year came by air. That gave the airlines an increase of 32 per cent over 1953 in the percentage of Canadians returning directly to Canada from Europe and other areas across the seas.

Americans are not far ahead of Canadians when it comes to spending money in Europe. The bureau said U.S. travellers left behind $64,000,000 in the U.K. last year compared with $35,000,000 from Canadians. On a per capita basis, that put residents of Canada in a higher spending bracket than Americans while away from home.

In continental Europe, Americans last year spent $288,000,000 compared with Canadians' $23,000,000.

CLERK OF THE VILLAGE OF SPRING PARK.

WEEK AT S.D.U.

Highlighting the news of the week here at Saint Dunstan's, the second general meeting of the Students' Union was held in the Assembly Hall last Wednesday. The President opened the meeting with a letter from the Rector stating that henceforth the practice of Initiations was to cease and in its stead, an informal "get acquainted" night was to be inaugurated. The details of this new procedure are yet to be worked out, but it is certainly a long-sought step in the right direction. Now, in place of those "night of vengeance", which served no reasonable purpose that anyone could see, there will now be a place for a more appropriate and more sincere welcome of the incoming Freshman class on the part of the older students.

CONFERENCE REPORTS

Following this, the meeting heard the addresses of the delegates to the various conferences across Canada. George Mullally was the first to take the floor, and from the last page of an after-dinner speech that he had prepared, he summarized the decisions that had been reached at the conferene of the National Federation of Canadian University Students held in Edmonton.

Following his pre-sunrise tour of the city, Mr. Mullally had settled himself behind the conference table and applied himself to the task of compiling pertinent information of benefit to the students here at S. D. U. He brought back a report of the progress that has been made in obtaining student discount cards applicable to the various phases of life engaged in by the average student.

James Noonan followed with an equally heartening report of the progress achieved at the conference of the Canadian Federation of Catholic College Students held at Saint Francis Xavier University.

It seems that in an effort to better unite the colleges that make up this organization, and to better justify the existence of C.F.C.C.S. it has been decided to dispence with the petty projects that each college has been engaged in, and to assume a national project. This project is to be the promotion of the Higher Learning, but especially the Catholic Higher Learning among the general ranks of high school students all over the country.

Mr. Noonan pointed out the leading role played by the delegates from Saint F. X. and asked the student body to follow their lead in the promotion of this new national project. Ian Gillies, the last delegate to speak, returned a report of the changes in debating procedure that had been agreed upon at the conference of the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating League held in Sackville. He pointed out that at last there is going to be a standardization of debating rules and procedure throughout the organization. It has long been a stumbling block, not only to our debators, but I presume to those of the other colleges as well to have to abide by rules that were unfamiliar to them as they strove against the competition.

Now that permission has been granted for the opening of the Canteen after the night study period, the president appealed to the good judgement of the students to abide by the regulations that had been posted to insure that this privilege would not have to be curtailed or suspended for some thoughtless infraction.

The president of the campus branch of the World University of Canada, Mr. Desmond Connolly, arose to inform the meeting of the coming "Treasure Van" sale that is being sponsored by the college. This sale will be conducted at the Civic Centre (Market Building) this coming Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday -- November 14 15, 16.

SHOW CASE OF NATIONS

The "Treasure Van", a glorified bazaar, is a display and sale of handicrafts from India, Greece, Jordan, Egypt, Japan and Mexico, carried on entirely by university personnel. The idea of the "Treasure Van" originated with a desire to help create markets for the handicrafts of persons whose handwork is their livelihood. Thus, many of the articles sold by the "Treasure Van" are bought in out of the way places from people whose very life depends upon the sale of their handicrafts---the peasants who make the Manchadi Seeds those who make the silver filigree in Cuttak; or the clay birds in Lucknow; and a group of peasants in a village in central Greece.

The "Treasure Van" is a special project of the World University Service of Canada- an organization of students and faculty on the university level in thirty-seven countries of the world. Founded after the First World War, its aim is to establish a unanimity and a spirit of cooperation and brotherhood among universities everywhere through mutual service. As a result of this aim, a large part of the W.U.S.C. program includes the helping of universities throughout the world in their search for knowledge and understanding. Sometimes this takes the form of scholarships and seminars. Sometimes it means equipment and actual money for colleges unable to function without outside aid.

In an effort to help to finance and make known the work of W.U.S.C., the "Treasure Van" strives: to provide money for use in the international program; to create a market for the craftsmen in various countries (and a reciprocal market for Canadian goods); and to bring before the people of Canada the beauty of the arts and crafts of different peoples. The work of the "Treasure Van" is carried on largely by university students who price, inventory, sell, and pack the goods at the bazaars. In turn, they learn something of the lands from which the goods come and a desire is created in them to see the lands for themselves.

This is the fourth tour of the universities that the "Treasure Van" has made. We feel certain that if you haven't inquired into its possibilities before this, that you certainly won't neglect this opportunity to view some of the curious products of what we often think of as the "far off cultures", and perhaps purchase an item or two as a souvenir if for no other reason.

Until next week, greetings from Saint Dunstan's.

W.C.T.U. NOTES

ALCOHOL'S COST

How often we hear it said: "If you leave liquor alone, it will leave you alone."

Liquor leaves no one alone! The public maintains at terrible cost the traffic in beverage alcohol.

The revenue the public derives from the liquor trade presents most impressive figures but they will not bear close analysis.

Let us find out from the law courts how many crimes are due to liquor; ask the superintendents of charitable and penal institutions how many inmates are there because of liquor.

Let the welfare agencies tell of the poverty, and sickness caused by liquor. Check the hospitals and mental institutions for the number of inmates due to the ravaging traffic in liquor.

Then charge against the revenues collected the cost of detecting and convicting criminals, and the tremendous expense of caring for the inmates of these institutions and jails. We shall soon find that this expenditure far exceeds the revenues derived.

Especially is this so in British Columbis, for we have one of the largest prisons in Canada. Recently, our warden pointed out that it costs 1,500.00 to keep one prisoner for one year and that 'Oakalla' is maintained at a cost each year of $1,500,000 and let us remember that this is just one of our penal institutions.

Let us recall to mind the recent Liquor Bill for Canada, given in the Vancouver Sun, hursday, April 28th, 1955, viz., "Nations Drink Bill Hits $869 Million," an increase of $36,000,000 over th last report.
