Grain

WINNIPEG, April 23 — (CP) — Prices generally drifted lower in coarse grains futures trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The decline reflected lower trends on U.S. markets. Good harvesting weather for the prairies' spring harvest and increased grain marketings were also factors.

Commercial demand was not too aggressive but trading was moderately active. Offerings and hedging sales were quite liberal.

There was some buying by exporters in barley. Small shipping orders were recorded in oats. Processors took some flax. Seaboard houses bought rye.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat overnight included: Japan 600 000 bushels, United Kingdom 330,000, Peru 180,000 and South Africa 60,000.

Prices of class two and I.W.A. wheat were down ⅛ cent.

Closing prices:
