S. D. U. Activities In "Red And White"

The final issue for 1950 of St. Dunstan's University "Red and White", has now been issued, and constitutes a very fine magazine for the students.

The autumn issue is the forty-second of this publication and has fifty-four pages of articles and editorials and thirty-six of advertisements. Total subscription to the "Red and White" is now 700, which speaks extremely well for the popularity of this work which is done by the students of the University.

CONSERVATIVES

On the platform and speaking briefly were Mr. R.R. Bell, K.C., leader of the Provincial Opposition, Hon. Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan, former leader of Mr. W.C.S. McLure, M.P., Mrs. R.E. Sutherland, president of the Women's Conservative Organization, and Gerald Foster, president of the Young Conservatives Organization.

In congratulating Mr. MacLean on his nomination Mr. Bell said he was a true son of Prince Edward Island. "And if you send him to Ottawa he will never let us down."

The party leader also stated that during the past three years, Mr. McLure would have had the support in Parliament which was lacking from Liberal members. He warned the delegates that the Liberals would be out to win the election at all costs and that the Conservatives would have a fight on their hands to elect Mr. MacLean.

Dr. MacMillan said that the large gathering was an index of the interest taken in the election and in the Party. He told them that the record and decorations of Angus MacLean are the marks of a real man. "And we need real men in Ottawa," he urged the rural delegates to work hard for Mr. MacLean, and stated: "If you do as well in the country as we will in the city we will elect him to Parliament."

In company with other speakers Dr. MacMillan was severely critical of the Liberal Government at Ottawa, especially for its action in permitting the recent railway strike. He said the Government should have met in advance and passed legislation to outlaw it.

Mr. McLure made a plea to the people to support Mr. MacLean to the utmost in the election in an effort to double the majority he had over the Liberal majority in the election of 1947. He said this Province was not getting its share from the Federal Government and cited the last war period "when all the good contracts went to the big provinces of Quebec and Ontario while we got little."

Mrs. Sutherland, the only woman speaker, reminded the meeting that though they had done Angus MacLean a great honor, they had also placed a great responsibility on his shoulders. Gerald Foster congratulated the candidate and pledged him the support of the

Monthly Meeting Of Women's Club

HOLDI GRIMLY

Russian Jets

Eight Russian-built Mig-15 jet fighters streaked over North Korea in a five-minute air battle with four U.S. F-80 Shooting Star jets. One Mig was damaged over the northwest frontier town of Sinju.

AP Correspondent

AP correspondent Don Whitehead, back from the west front, said that while U. N. forces have not yet given up North Korea entirely to the enemy "this prospect appeared to be imminent."

Whitehead

Whitehead said the vast area between the 38th and 39th parallel - belt 60 miles deep extending roughly 180 miles across Korea from east to west - was a "clouded" zone. No one could say just how solidly this area has been occupied by the Chinese, or in what numbers.

Whitehead

Whitehead added the Chinese have lost any chance of trapping the Eighth Army north of the 38th parallel - an arbitrary boundary line which divided the Communist north from the United Nations sponsored Southern Republic from 1945 until June 25, 1950.

Conservatives Condemn Failure To Implement Potato Support Policy

Strong condemnation of the action of the Federal Government in refusing to grant price support to the potato growers of this Province was voiced in a resolution passed unanimously at last night's Progressive Conservative convention in Charlottetown. Moved by Louis Macdonald, Donaldson, seconded by Sydney Taylor, Winslow, the resolution states that the Government's action has resulted "in great hardships to many of our farm families and has dealt a severe blow to the whole economy of the Province."

Around The Armouries

The annual pre-Christmas parades are over, new uniforms have been issued, proper style and officers, N.G.O.'s and men are re-reading themselves for the holiday season.

Big event of the coming week will be the Christmas party for the youngsters in the Non-Commissioned Officers Mess Sunday afternoon. It will start at 2 p.m. sharp with a showing of films especially designed for children.

Master of Ceremonies for the afternoon will be Hon. Capt. Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, chaplain of the P.E.I. Regiment. Rev. Mr. Ashford later in the afternoon will present the visitor all the youngsters will be waiting for when he introduces Santa Claus. St. Nick will be well prepared with a large supply of gifts for the little ones. Each of the gifts will be individually wrapped and will have the name of one particular child on it.

When the child's name is called Santa will hand him or her the present. The Mess will be beautifully decorated for the occasion with a large, gaily festooned Christmas Tree the focal point. The tree will be put up tomorrow and work on the Mess decorations begun by the committee in charge. They will probably have many willing helpers.

The members have taken to the idea thoroughly and are doing everything possible to make the first Christmas party a complete success.

Upwards of 100 youngsters will be present with their parents to pack the Mess to capacity and enjoy the entertainment and all the goodies. Besides their presents the little ones will receive apples, candy and soft drinks to make their first visit to the new Mess a memorable one.

There was fun and frolic - and occasionally even a bit of hockey - at the Forum Monday night when the Garrison Hockey League got into a flying start. Despite heavy checking and attempts at boarding, most of which missed, there were only two casualties. And oddly enough neither one was playing.

A high stick along the boards clipped Eric Jessome across the lower part of the face and a flying puck got Lorne Gass on the head. R. S. M. Jessome was damaged more than a bit as the stick split his lip and loosened several teeth. He will have a sore jaw for a few days. Sgt. Gass was more surprised than hurt.

So far as the hockey games were concerned Reg Rodgers was the outstanding player, and for a team woefully weak in manpower the Artillery squad played a terrific game. Replacements were practically non-existent as they took the ice with only 8 men in uniform.

Although winning their opening game 3 to 1 over Navy the Signals did not look as impressive as last season. However, it is likely that the line last June to open the Korean war.

Red troops - possibly Korean guerrillas - were attacked by rockets and firebombs Tuesday near Chunchon, eight miles south of the 38th parallel and only about 44 air miles northeast of Seoul, the Republican capital.

Australian Mustang fighters carried out the attacks only 200 to 300 yards away from United Nations positions.

Other Allied planes for the third straight day raided Haeju, the Yellow Sea port on the west coast, just north of the 38th parallel. Haeju is only 62 air miles northwest of Seoul.

Some 50 air miles to the north, another swarm of civilian refugees was diverted from Hamhung and Hungnam.

The last band of Marines to fight through the jaws of a Chinese death trap south of Changjin reservoir, 60 miles northwest of Hungnam, told AP correspondent Tom Lambert that refugees worried them more than the enemy.

The rearguard Marine unit said that "quite a few Chinese" were among a throng of 4,000 refugees trailing the Marines when they pulled out of Koto

Says Train Wreck Caused By Mistake In Orders

EDMONTON, Dec. 12 (CP) - A young railway telegraph operator declared today that the Canoe River wreck inquiry that the wreck, which cost 21 lives, would not have happened if he had listened to a "repeat" of a train dispatcher's order.

The operator, Albert John Atherton, 22, was testifying in the second day of the inquiry being conducted by the Board of Transport Commissioners. The wreck, involving an eastbound passenger train and a westbound trooper, occurred Nov. 21 at Canoe River, B.C., 312 miles west of here.

The train order which Atherton said he passed to the train conductor lacked two vital words - "at Cedarside," the point where the two trains were supposed to pass.

His testimony conflicted with that of the dispatcher, A. E. Tisdale of Kamloops, B.C., in the manner in which the message was passed.

with a few more practices under their belts they will again be the team to beat.

It was noticeable that several of those who played in the league last year were not on skates for the opening night. Some of them probably will not be playing this year while others may only be able to touch out occasionally.

Among those missing were Charlie Ryan, Eric Jessome and Henry Gallant. The former two are from Kamloops while the latter belongs to the Artillery. The gun crew could have used Henry's weight on defense to spell off Harry Downe. Bill Appleton was also missing from Signals.

Among the interested spectators at the first game were the commanding officers of the two units involved, Capt. Jack Connolly of the Navy, and Lt. Col. Keith Johnston of Signals. To prove there were no hard feelings they sat together.

Rollie Jewel was in charge of the Signals team while "Beef" Coffin steered the Navy. Ralph Small and Eric Jessome handled the Reece squad and made free use of their reserve manpower from the Mount Stewart-Morell section. The Mount Stewart-Morell section, dominated by the former in an every one game of the winners' goals. Mike Campbell looked after the Artillery and had a busy evening. He is also president of the Garrison League and between the two jobs was all over the Forum Monday night. His first big job was to find a goalie as the team showed up without one. However, his task was made easier by Reece who loaned him one of theirs. The generosity almost cost Reece the game as Jay tumbled in a sterling performance.

The league promises plenty of real action before the winter ends. It also gives the players relaxation and more than a bit of fun to prove that soldiering is not all work.

There is a considerable amount of recruiting being done among the Reserve units here and new members are being taken on strength almost daily. It is a healthy sign, especially when so many of the younger men are those appearing to join in the Army activities.

Members of all units regret the illness of Lt. Col. Al Rogers who has been confined to his home for several days. It is hoped the general C. O. will soon be back.

Last week Lt. Col. J. L. Delamere Halifax, made his second trip to the city for a speaking engagement. He addressed the annual dinner of the P.E.I. Artillery Association which was presided over by Lt. Col. Gordon Williams of the 28th L.A.A. Regiment.

Col. Delamere mentioned the fact that this was the only city in Canada to have two Brigades at the present time. He was referring to the P.E.I. Artillery Association which was presided over by Lt. Col. Gordon Williams of the 28th L.A.A. Regiment.

The Artillerymen did not forget those comrades who passed along since the last gathering and they observed the traditional period of silence in respect to their memories.

There will be a breakoff in training until after the Yuletide. But when the holiday season is over there will be plenty of activity as all units swing into their winter program.
