Jim Piersall made his job easy with a three-run homer. Monbouquette, from neighboring MeZford, was brought up from the Red Sox Minneapolis farm club four weeks ago. Piersall and Pete Runnels, who raised his average to .329, each got three hits and Ted Williams hit his 19th homer in the eighth inning.

S'ide Junior Ball Team Leading When Game Called

Charlottetown and Summerside junior baseball teams made their debuts at Memorial Field last night, but fast falling darkness called a halt to proceedings with the Westerns nine leading, 6-4 after two and two-thirds complete innings. Summerside righthander Garth Harris held the Legionaires to exactly no hits for two frames, but the Charlottetown team got to him in the last frame for three hits and four runs before umpire Jack "Spy" Ready called the contest. Summerside jumped on starter Harry MacGuigan for four runs in the first frame and added singles in the second and third to build up a 6-0 spread before the Legion could register a run on the score sheet. Coach Brian Lewis lifted MacGuigan in the third in favor of lefty George Dunn who got the final out. Both hurlers were victims of wildness. MacGuigan passed five and Dunn two.

Summerside built up its big lead in the first when Fidele DesRoches led off with a walk. Back to back singles by Eddie Boates and Don Gillis loaded the sacks and two runners scored on an error. The third run came in as catcher Ulric Gallant grounded out and the fourth scored when an attempt to catch a runner stealing second misfired. Down by six runs going into the third and darkness closing in fast the outlook was anything but bright for the legion. But with one out, Wayne MacDonald walked and shortstop Jack Kane walked a long double. Art MacLeod's booming two-base blast into left scored both runs and MacLeod came in as Harry Callaghan singled sharply. Three consecutive walks brought in the fourth and final tally. A fair sized crowd of curious fans turned out to witness what is hoped will be the rebirth of junior baseball locally.

Satchel Paige Suspended Indefinitely By Marlins

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Veteran pitcher Satchel Paige was suspended indefinitely Tuesday by Miami Marlins of the International League. Marlins general manager Joey Ryan announced the suspension for "utter disregard of rules."

In a story from Tommy Fitzgerald, with the Marlins in Montreal, the Miami News quoted Paige as saying "All I want them to do is just pay me what they think they owe me and let me go free."

The 50-year-old Paige was placed on the inactive list Monday and the spot taken by pitcher John Gray. Paige accused the club of not paying him the salary due him and of not giving him any meal money for the 13-day trip.

Irish Wallop R.C.A.F. Flyers

B.I.S. Shamrocks, under the hit pitching of Ev. Beagan, trounced the R.C.A.F. Flyers 11-1 in a postponed game of the City Softball League last evening on the Old Diamond. Red MacFadyen was umpire. Beagan also fanned four and walked three. The first inning was scoreless but the second saw the Shamrocks take a one run lead when Robbie hit a four-bagger, the longest hit of the game. Sawatsky started for the air- men but was relieved late in the game by Marchand after having given up nine hits and ten runs. Marchand pitched for the remainder of the game. The Irish got rolling in the third inning by scoring four runs. The rest of the runs were: one in the fourth, five in the fifth, and one in the sixth. Top batter of the game was Junior Dowling of the Shamrocks, who got three safeties in four times up, of which two were doubles and the other a single.

Exciting Mat Card Witnessed

A crowd of about 400 watched an exciting wrestling card at Civic Stadium in Summerside last evening. Constant Lebec over Roberto Caruso in the first match on a disqualification. Caruso threw referee Paul Richard out of the ring twice in rapid succession. Then the referee warned Caruso if this happened again he would consider it a breach of the rules of wrestling. Shortly after this Caruso was disqualified for actions at variance with the wrestlers' code. Caruso disputed the decision by tearing up the steps leading to the ring and various acts of mayhem on his opponent Lebec.

The mixed middle-bridged affair was won by Jackie Burke and her little man Pancho the bull at 19:07. After Lord Carleton, the little Englishman with the French accent threw the Bull all over the ring, Jackie Burke and Pancho started to use concealed abrasives with which they tortured Lord Carleton's face. Gloria Palmer went to the help of her mate but was thrown hither and yon by Jackie Burke using Gloria's golden tresses as a fulcrum. This led to the ultimate count over the prostrate Lord. The final event was a tag team match between Jim Murphy and Constant Lebec and Klondyke Kidd paired with Roberto Caruso. Lebec and Murphy took two falls out of three. Murphy's drop-kicking was a feature of these matches.

Harry Ramsay was the leading Tyne Valley sticker, getting three hits, including a double and home run, in four tries. David Birch hit a triple.

The Cape Traverse boys were much better in the field, getting only one miscue to ten for the Tigers. Harry Ramsay also starred defensively for the losers, getting two nice catches. N.S. Lass Thrills Crowds At Championship Match

By JIM PEACOCK Canadian Press Staff Writer SASKATOON (CP) — Defending-champion Betty Stanhope of Edmonton and Mary Gay of Calgary were carried to the 17th green by juniors from opposite ends of the country Tuesday on the first round of match play in the Canadian women's golf championships. Rita Lohmes of Lunenburg, N.S., was three down at the 12th hole. She narrowed the gap to one on Miss Stanhope but lost at the 17th-2 and 1—when the Edmonton golfer dropped an eight-foot putt for a par five. Miss Lohmes, at 19 a year younger than her opponent, finished second in last week's national junior competition.

Miss Gay, runner-up to Miss Stanhope in last year's open, won 3 and 1 at the 17th over 14-year-old Gayle Hitchens of Vancouver. Gayle was three down after nine holes. Other favorites came through with less difficulty. Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streif of Toronto won 5 and 4 over junior Margaret Kiggins of Winnipeg, making her first appearance in the national championships, while Rae Milligan of Calgary trampled Mrs. W. Thorpe of Seattle 7 and 6. Three of the 10 juniors who made the 32-player championship flight during Monday's qualifying round survived the first round of match play Tuesday. Gaill Harvey, the 15-year-old Toronto girl who won the junior title here last weekend, pulled the day's biggest upset by scoring a 3 and 1 victory over veteran Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal. Other juniors who survived were Suzanne Foulds of Vancouver, who won 2 and 1 over Mrs. Hutton-Potts of Vancouver and Jackie Moro of Burlington, Ont., who defeated Lynn Chaplin of Montreal 4 and 3. Mrs. Robert Lyle of Montreal had to come from behind to knock out Mary Darling of Montreal 2 and 1. Miss Darling, a junior, won the first four holes. Joanne Goulet of Regina gave par figures a whipping from the beginning on the Saskatoon Golf and Country Club's par-76 course and came home victor 5 and 4 over Janet McWha of Montreal. In other first-round matches, Mrs. Hazel Jamison of Edmonton whipped Mrs. C. Rhind, also of Edmonton, 6 and 5; Donna Patton of Winnipeg defeated Mrs. W. G. Johnston of Regina 4 and 3; Lou Evans of Toronto downed Mrs. Bill Turnbull of Saskatoon 3 and 1; Roma Neundorf of Toronto won 4 and 3 over Mrs. Rex Hebb of Bridgewater, N.S.; Mrs. W. H. Barclay of Saskatoon defeated junior Jo-Anne Percy of Winnipeg one up; and Mrs. Helen Cleat of Vancouver won 4 and 2 over Mrs. W. M. Elliott of Regina. Judy Darling of Montreal, the 1957 junior champion defeated Brandon junior Lynne MacDonald 6 and 5. Miss Lohmes provided perhaps the biggest thrill for the gallery of about 150. A hot putter that dropped 25-footers on several greens put her ahead at the first hole and kept her even to the fifth. WARMED UP She lost three in a row then as Miss Stanhope warmed up and was three down at the turn. Miss Stanhope had trouble on the 11th, shooting into the woods, but she recovered her three-up lead at the 12th. Then the Stanhope putter had some trouble and Miss Lohmes won the 14th and 15th and halved the 16th, despite some grief in the rough. When the defending champion hit a rap off the tee on the 17th, the crowd—and Miss Stanhope—began feeling they might be watching an upset. But Betty recovered well and Rita hit a trap near the green. Needing a nine-foot putt for a sure haul, Miss Lohmes missed and when Miss Stanhope dropped her eight-footer it was over.

SPORTS FRONT

(While Sports Editor Plus Callaghan is on vacation this column is being authored by staff writer Gus Flynn). Mid-week quotes: National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell comparing hockey with football from the point of view of roughness: "Hockey players couldn't go through a long 70-game schedule, plus practices and exhibitions, if there was such rugged contact as in football. The hockey contact is different. The players are on ice and can slide away from body checks. Even if these are hard, there's still some 'give' to it. The makes that possible. ... If the contacts were as tough and as unyielding as in football, no player could survive 100 games per season."

Lorne Main, captain of Canada's Davis Cup team: "The trouble with our tennis that it isn't a business but a pastime for our players. Our boys all have jobs. They're young, they see a far greater future in business than in tennis. ... The Americans are playing all over the world and come up to the Cup games in top form."

Roy Harris, heavyweight boxing challenger: "I've met some pretty tough fellows, tougher maybe than Floyd Patterson has fought, if you look up my record, I might have a lot of surprises for Floyd when we get together August 18 at Los Angeles."

Warren Spahn, Milwaukee pitcher, following his first victory in seven years over the Dodgers: "I just want to get even with this club. They've still got me 24-14. Before I quit I want to erase that. The Dodgers are the only black mark against me. In everything I've ever accomplished, a little bit of the edge has been taken off by my record against them."

Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson commenting on a report that he had been knocked down by a sparring partner in a training session: "Actually it wasn't a knockdown. I was moving and one of my feet got tangled with the other. That happens often but nobody made anything of it until I won the championship."

Mrs. Beverly Duren, wife of Yankee pitcher Ryne Duren: "Ten minutes after Ryne had been hit (by a pitched ball) the Yankee office called and said he was unconscious and it looked as though there was no fracture. I told Steve (her nine-year-old son) that daddy had been hurt, but that he was going to be all right. It's something you think of once in a while but you pass it off as part of the game. But when it happens..." Andy High, Los Angeles scout: "I never was on a pennant winner that didn't have at least one good fight in the clubhouse during the season. Teammates fighting doesn't necessarily mean dissension. Most times they're just letting off steam."

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

The writer of these notes, together with directors F. C. McCurdy, Truro, and J. H. DeWitt, Woodstock, attended a meeting of the directors of the United States Trotting Association in New York last Thursday and Friday and were, with other directors, invited guests to the opening meeting of the rebuilt Yonkers Raceway. Even if you are not interested in harness horses, it is worth going to see. The rebuilding and remodelling of it cost more than $18 million, and it has everything — a catering system that brings expensive meals to your seat. You can get a very high class steak for six dollars, cooked beautifully, and if you are a gourmet, you can spend anywhere from $10 to $20. That, of course, would include some "tonic." FIRST WINNER But to get back to the raceway, it is without doubt, marvellous and the fact that they can safely park thousands of automobiles and upwards of 35,000 spectators will give an indication as to how the money was spent. It was officially opened at 8:30 by Governor Averill Harriman of N. Y., and the first race was underway a few minutes later. A $2,000 event, and it was won by Just For Fun, driven by T. Winn. This entry was so little regarded by the speculators that he paid $66.10 for a $2 wager. The time was 2:07. The Coronation Pace, purse $22,500, with a one-mile dash, was won by Gold Worthly (Beissinger), time 2:00 2-5, which will be the official track record for pacers until it is bettered. The $8,000 trotting event was won by Trader Horn, driven by Billy Houghton, time 2:03. The total betting for the night came to 2,036,279. During the evening, 50-piece band played some wonderful music that gushed through the grandstand and clubhouse over 24 amplifiers. The cooks in the kitchen were kept lively; they had to prepare meals for 2,000 dinner guests; the writer was offered a free meal which included a generous (Continued on page 9)
