A PETITION

To His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir George John Elliott Murray-Kynnmmond, Earl of Minto, &c., Governor-General of Canada.

We, the undersigned electors of the Dominion of Canada, wish to direct Your Excellency's attention to the existence of a very serious grievance that we have against Your Excellency's present advisers, and also against the present Parliament of Canada. Some time ago a measure was introduced into the House of Commons, was accepted by that House, and also being passed by the Senate of Canada, received the assent of the Earl of Aberdeen, your predecessor, as the representative of the Queen in Canada. The measure provided that a ballot should be taken throughout Canada to ascertain the opinion of the people of Canada with regard to the continuance of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors in the Dominion of Canada. That vote of the people entitled "The Prohibition Plebiscite" was taken on the 29th September, 1895, and by a large majority of the votes cast the people of Canada declared in favor of the abolition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors in the Dominion of Canada. We have waited for the Parliament of Canada to pass a law prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors in Canada, but up to this time no such law has been passed. On the contrary we are credibly informed that your advisers do not intend to introduce any such measure in Parliament, and that the present House of Commons are adverse to passing such a law. In such case there is nothing left for your humble petitioners to do except to proceed to the foot of the Throne, and to address you as the representative of the Queen in Canada. We think that it is a well understood principle of British government that your advisers should be in accord with the will of the people lawfully expressed. Their will with regard to the prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors has been expressed in the so-called prohibition plebiscite by a very large majority of the voters casting their votes in favor of Prohibition. The House of Commons also should be in accord with the people in any matter that has been submitted to a popular vote. We believe that it is the prerogative of the Queen to dismiss her advisers when they are not in accord with the will of the people, and to dissolve any House of Commons when it is evident that body is also out of accord with those who elect its members. As loyal subjects of the Queen we most humbly request Your Excellency to give careful consideration to this our petition, and to do all that is in your power to relieve our grievance. We hope that Your Excellency will be able to see your way clear to ask your present advisers whether they are willing to do that which the electors of Canada have declared by a lawful vote that they should do, and if they express unwillingness to introduce a prohibitory law into Parliament, to ask of them their resignation, and to get new advisers in accord with the will of the people, as expressed in the Prohibition Plebiscite, and, if necessary, under the advice of these new ministers to dissolve the present House of Commons, and give the electorate of Canada an opportunity to pronounce in an effective way whether their will, as expressed on the 29th September, 1895, should be carried out. In conclusion, we would request Your Excellency to do all that you can in any way to remove our grievance, and to suppress a business which we feel is dealing our death and destruction to a large number of our fellow-citizens, and among them to some who are very dear indeed to us.

SUPREME COURT.

MONDAY, NOV. 27.

Peter Richard vs B Mattinson—The argument in this case was concluded on Saturday afternoon, when the court took time.
Patrick W Kilbride vs Alfred E Long and another—Tried at Summerside in June last when verdict was rendered for plaintiff for $500 for damages against the defendant, who is a medical doctor, for improperly setting a dislocated shoulder of plaintiff. Rule for non suit or new trial was granted Trinity Term last and is being argued to-day. N McQuarrie, for plaintiff; W S Stewart, Q C, for defendant.

It is fully expected that the literary contest which opens tonight in Victoria Division, Wright's Hall, will be one of the most interesting and successful had for some time. A cordial invitation given to all members of the order to be present.

Simple Simon fishes in his mother's pail at St. Peter's bazaar and catches all sorts of Christmas presents for children at five cents a cast. Every present worth the value.

PRACTICAL PROHIBITION will be discussed in the Kindergarten Hall this evening. The 100,000 vote movement is the most heartily endorsed prohibition move yet made in Canada. It is bound to give prohibition a more prominent place in our public affairs. Don't fail to come out to hear the discussion tonight.
