Trout In Mid-Summer Lull But Fishing Will Pick Up

Trout fishing has experienced the usual mid-summer lull and fishermen are expecting it to perk up as August advances. During a long period of heat accompanied by dry weather trout with special emphasis on fresh water fishing, are inclined to lie low and feed only after midnight until the dawn when the top layer of water cools off. Big trout in particular are loath to rise through this belt of tepid water even for a tasty bit. Early in the season the big tackle buster like to roam the shallows after deep dusk for it is there that food is abundant. It is somewhat different with salt water fishing but this type of trouting has also fallen off compared with late June and up until mid-July. All signs point that the late run of sea trout is about due for the advance guard of smaller fry—the quarter and half pounders have made their appearance, older weather and brisk winds will sweep the algae from the surface of our mill ponds and fly fishermen will be able to get back into stride before the season closes on September 15th. Rainbow trout may be legally taken in Glenfinnan and Keefe's Lakes until October 31st.

Some good catches of trout have been taken at the head of the North River Causeway this summer. A few weeks ago an angler stopped me on the street and quoted a paragraph in my column. He told that two years ago I prophesied that the North River Causeway would prove to be a trout fisherman's paradise. He told me there were deep spring holes up near his head that held trout as big as salmon. Later on another trout fisherman told me the same story but he insisted that they were salmon. Several rolled on the surface within a few feet of the boat. I told him that salmon wouldn't be at the head of the Causeway at this season of the year. He replied: "They must have been salmon, some were a yard long". I fully expect to see a 10 pound trout landed with rod and reel before many years have passed. I have since learned on the best of authority that the record trout landed this season to date... a 6-pound 7 ounce specimen, was not caught at Midgell as announced but at St. Peter's Lake. I was also informed that bigger trout by far followed the anglers lure inshore but backed away without taking the offering. The better then six pounder that finally grabbed the bait was not exactly a pip squeak in comparison to his pals but was at least several pounds lighter. Commercial fishermen have told me that they saw trout lying off the mouth of the 'run' in St. Peter's Lake that were in the ten pound class. The first impression was that they were salmon until closer scrutiny disclosed they had square instead of a forked tail. It has been a record year for big trout... anything under four pounds was common place so far as getting anywhere near the top bracket for the season. A lot of trout were hooked this year that couldn't be controlled. As one angler remarked: "It was all the same as having your lure caught in the tail of a runaway steer". There have been some terrific catches of salt water beauties taken this season. A friend of mine told me he examined he take of three anglers one Sunday morning. They had 63 fresh run fish and not one was under a pound. The largest was four and a half. From the description given of the area I would guess they were caught in the headwaters of the Naurfrage. I do know some catches were made there this summer with the count barred.

According to reports, the Causeway Bridge across the West River stabilized the water level above the Causeway and improved the trout fishing as well as made the area more attractive for ducks. You know its impossibility to please some people. With the best trout fishing for acing record is 2.06 4-3, which is held by Fred Scott and Mighty Glib, so that will give our readers an idea of what an excellent performance was turned in by Jet Master, whose previous record was 2.08 2-5.

And then, similar credit must be given to the trotter, Dark Yankee, who headed one of the best classes of pacers in the Maritimes to be 2-2 for driver George Mauger and owned by Harry Hirsch of Sydney. He is three years old and to bring a trotter in to beat his performance would mean an outlay of $10,000 or more.

Among the other winners were Race 1, Hi Gal (L. Walker), time 2:13 2-5; owner, L. and G. Stable, Halifax. Race 2, Mickey Dale (Mauger) 1, Beware (MacGregor) 2, Chevive (Moreside) 3, four other starters, time 2:15; owner, Stanley Cleary, Sydney, N.S. Race 4, Abbasong (L. Walker) 1, Joppa Maid (E. The above eight dashes had an average time of 2:13. The fastest average we have noticed this week was at Fredericton, 2:12 1-5. Following are the winners of Tuesday night's card at Fredericton, Race 1, Jay's Hope, time 2:17 Races 2 and 6, Stonedale (Lindon) 1-1, time 2:11 2-5 and 2:12 2-5. Toronto Horse Players Divided Over New Rule

TORONTO (CP)—Horse players at Toronto's east-end Old Woodbine harness track are divided over a new rule letting children in.

Those with children seem 100 per cent in favor. Those without seem 100 per cent against. As for the kids, they're divided, too. Some get a bang out of watching the bangtails but others, say track officials, appear more interested in horse play than the horses.

The Ontario Jockey Club began its experiment at Old Woodbine and other tracks may be next.

Walter Rosecroft 1, Major's King, 2, Hal's Mae 3, Abbellard 4, Flagman 5 and Mailman 6, time 2:07-2-5. We understand that the trophy was to go to the horse with the fastest time, so the owner of Walter Rosecroft Bud McCombs Newcastle N.B. had the honor.

Here's our latest report from Saint John N. B., in brief: Dashes 2 and 6, Billy Eden, owned by C. and M. Stables driven by Orwell Morrissey of this province was 1-1, time's Boy (J. Lang) 2-4, Bolo Volo (L. Queen) 3-2, time 2:14 and 2:15 2-5.

Races 3 and 7 Eileen Blue, owned and driven by B. Queen, was 1-1, Daniel Hal Scott (S. MacDonald) 2-2 Happy D. (T. Scovill) 3-3, Josedale Double Hal (J. Lang) 6-3, time 2:13 2-5 and 2:15. Dashes 4 and 8, Dominion's Pride owned and driven by M. Coughlin, was 1-4 Kahlo Byrd H. Kirkpatrick) 3-1, Hickory Dock, (Scovill) 3-2 five other starters, time 2:13 1-5 and 2:12 3-5.

ROYAL SPECTATOR Last evening thousands of spectators from all parts of New Brunswick were present at the Fredericton raceway to witness an eight-dash harness racing card which was featured by a $1,000 free-for-all. The racing card was a good one and the Royal Canadian Artillery band presented a concert prior to the start of the race program. But the big drawing card was the fact that Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret was to be in attendance with the Lieutenant Governor of the province and other officials.

As the Sport of Kings is confined to thoroughbreds, or what we might call "saddle" racing in Great Britain and largely on the continent, we presume that this was the first time Her Royal Highness had ever seen the trotters and pacers in action. And now our best wishes for a big Old Home Week the Maritimes biggest racing event.
