Capsized Boat Now Identified

HALIFAX (CP)—RCMP said Monday a capsized boat found Sunday in Minas Basin, an arm of the Bay of Fundy, has been identified as belonging to Donald Thompson of Amherst.

Thompson and T. N. Brown, both of Amherst, left on a fishing trip Saturday afternoon but failed to return as planned Sunday. Both men are in their 40s.

The car in which the two travelled was located on a wharf at Economy Point on the north shore of Minas Basin.

Police and volunteers are searching shore points and islands in the area for further clues as to the men's whereabouts.

The 15-foot homemade, outboard-powered boat was discovered overturned in Minas Basin off Noel by an RCAF helicopter. A few hours earlier searchers found an outboard and a gasoline tank in the water.

Residents and campers on the basin's south shore reported hearing cries for help early Sunday morning.

Murder Case Adjourned To Seek Counsel

Clarence Perry of Fortune Cove, the 17-year-old who is charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Everett MacDonald of Shamrock, was remanded again when he appeared in Queen's County Magistrate's Court yesterday morning.

Magistrate James B. Johnston, QC, recommended the attorney-general's department appoint a lawyer to give legal counsel to the accused. It was not known when the appointment will be made or who will be appointed.

In court yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Perry, the parents of the boy, who stood with him before a court-room packed with spectators.

Bartenders, Waiters Talk Union Plans

HALIFAX (CP)—Attempts at organizing a joint union for bartenders and waiters in Halifax taverns got as far as an initial organizational meeting here Sunday night.

A spokesman for the waiters group said some 80 tavern employees attended the meeting where an international teamsters union representative appealed for unions to form individually, with each union having separate bargaining powers.

The waiters' spokesman said employees from six taverns agreed to the plan but others walked out of the meeting.

Edward Gerard, secretary-treasurer and assistant business agent of the teamsters union in Halifax, said he had received complaints from some waiters that they had been threatened with dismissal if they attended a union organization meeting.

Private Plane Marooned In North

HALIFAX (CP)—A private Otter aircraft with four persons aboard was marooned on a Baffin Island lake Monday waiting for an RCAF Albatross amphibian to arrive with fuel supplies.

The Otter, owned by Georgian Bay Airlines, landed on the lake Saturday when it experienced bad weather and navigational problems. It had been on a 350-mile flight from Hall Beach in the Northwest Territories to Frobisher Bay.

RCAF rescue centre here said the Albatross left Frobisher Bay for the 100-mile flight to the stranded plane about 1:40 p.m. A.D.T. Monday. At 4 p.m. the air force had not received confirmation that the Albatross had reached the otter.

IRRIGATION HAS GREATLY BENEFITTED POTATO GROWERS

Many Crops Here Defy Dryness As Production Reported Good

By NEIL MATHESON

High production in some crops in spite of the abnormally dry weather in this province has some veteran agricultural men shaking their heads in almost complete bewilderment.

Official weather observer Warren Burns is still reporting the driest seven months since records have been kept—he said the same thing at the end of the first six months of the year—and crops like strawberries, for example, should have been close to a complete flop.

But the berry crop on the whole has been good, one fruit and vegetable inspector said he believes there are more berries in the province than there were a year ago, and several producers have reported tremendous yields, with one reporting as high as 11,000 boxes per acre.

CATCHES DAIRYMEN

Dairy Superintendent Earl Adams told The Guardian last evening that the drought has finally caught up with the dairy industry, as last week's production showed a drop of something like five per cent from the same week last year. But that's the first time this year's dairy production has compared unfavorably with that of 1964.

Production for the first four or five months had been running as high as 20 per cent above 1964, Mr. Adams explained.

This means that pastures had been holding up pretty well on the average, though they have started to fall off now.

But there are strong exceptions. In the Sherbrooke area—that's adjacent to Summerside—Charles Yeo who is one of the island's better farmers, reports that he has been feeding hay to his cattle on pasture for the last couple of weeks.

NARY A DROP

The little rainfall this province did receive this year has been terribly spotty, it appears. Sherbrooke and that general area of Prince County hasn't had a rainfall since June 10, and that's almost two solid months of severe moisture shortage.

The same source indicates that the drought has been particularly bad also in the Free-town and Kinkora area, as well as parts of Bedouque.

Several berry producers have used irrigation on their crops and report unusually strong yields. The P.E.I. Frosted Foods people irrigated 10 acres on their own farm at Winsloe and the production is naturally good, though George Wright, assistant manager of the plant at Sherwood, was unable to indicate just what the details of the yield may be.
