THE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Italy last month won the world championship for the third successive year in a nine-day tournament staged by the American Contract Bridge League in New York.

An Italian team of six players defeated a United States team by 233 international match points to 188 and an Argentine team by 218 to 178. Translated into rubber bridge scoring, the Italians outplayed the Americans in their 186-deal match by about 5,000 points and Argentina by about 4,000 points.

The United States saved some of its prestige by defeating Argentina 252 IMPs to 209 in the three-cornered contest.

Europe now leads the United States 5 victories to 4 in the international series which started in 1950. The United States won the first four matches played and lost the last five—once to England, once to France, and three times to Italy.

The invincible Italian team, which has also won the European championship three years running, is composed of: Walter Avarelli, Giorgio Belladonna, both of Rome, Eugenio Chiaradia, Massimo D'Alelio, Pietro Forquet, Guglielmo Siniscalco, all of Naples, and Carl Alberto Perroux, non-playing captain, of Modena.

The American team consisted of: Harry Fishbein, Samuel Fry, Jr., Leonard B. Harmon, Lee Hazen, all of New York, Sidney Lazard of New Orleans, Ivor Stakgold of Washington, D. C., and Charles J. Solomon of Philadelphia, non-playing captain.

The American team was selected by the ACBL to represent the United States because it had won the Vanderbilt championship and the defeated the Masters Team of four champions in a playoff match last fall.

The Argentine team qualified by winning the South American championship. The team was a composed of: Alberto Berisso, Ricardo Calvente, Alejandro Castro, Carlos Dihar, Arturo Jaques, Egisto Rocchi, and Dr. Luis Santa Coloma, non-playing captain, all of Buenos Aires.

The nine-session match between Italy and the United States held prime interest. The teams ran neck and neck for three sessions, at which point America led by one IMP. In the fourth session the United States increased its lead to 22 IMPs.

Then came the disastrous fifth session when Italy crushed the American team in a 16-board match, gaining 34 IMPs. Although the Americans threatened thereafter, the Italians gradually pulled away, ultimately winning by 50 IMPs.

The Argentines were at no time in serious contention, but despite the double-barreled defeat, their showing was very creditable. If they had made a few less mistakes at critical junctures, the result might have been entirely different.

During the next few weeks we will present in this space some of the hands that highlighted the match. If errors of the participants appear to predominate, it is only because such failures are usually the decisive factors that win or lose championships.

FBI Is Continuing Probe Of Puzzle Contest Racket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation said Tuesday it is continuing its investigation of a crossword puzzle contest racket that victimized two New York feature syndicates and numerous newspapers.

FBI agents, after weeks of undercover work, made 12 arrests Monday in six states in connection with the racket.

Warrants issued at Detroit charged that an organized ring of U.S. citizens established headquarters in Canada and engaged in a swindle by getting solutions to the puzzles through fraudulent representations.

The FBI said it wants custody on these charges of two other men who are in Canada. Justice department officials said Tuesday that under the U.S.-Canadian extradition treaty, the U.S. cannot move to extradite these men unless a grand jury indicts them.

NON-EXISTENT FIRM
FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the ring made its base at London, Ont., under the name of a non-existent publishing firm which they called "Suburban Publishers, Limited."

The group, which the FBI said pretended to publish newspapers, subscribed to puzzle services from General Features and Superior Features of New York.

These syndicates do not supply puzzle answers direct to subscribing newspapers but require that a bank be named to receive the solutions and hold them until the deadline for submitting solutions had passed.

The FBI said that for this purpose, the swindlers invented a bank — "The Middlesex Trust Company of Byron, Ont." — and through this fictitious institution received both answers and puzzles simultaneously.

MURDERESS IS RULED SANE
VENTURA, CALIF. (AP)—Convicted murderess Elizabeth Duncan was ruled sane Tuesday by Judge Charles F. Blackstock. She faces a sentence of death for arranging the slaying of her son's pregnant bride.

Mrs. Duncan, 54, was convicted last week of first-degree murder after a four-week trial and the same jury set her punishment at execution in the gas chamber.

Blackstock based his ruling on reports of two court-appointed psychiatrists.

He set April 3 for arguments on a new trial motion and for pronouncing sentence.

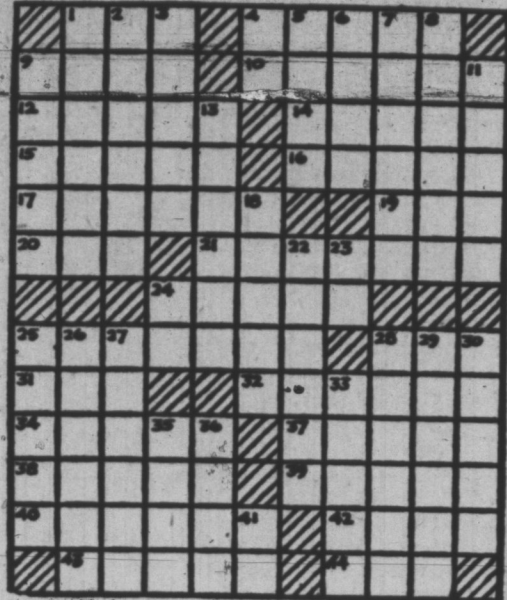

In another phase of the case, Ralph Winterstein, 26, was sentenced Tuesday to one to 14 years in prison for impersonating Frank when Mrs. Duncan posed as her daughter-in-law and obtained a fake annulment of the young couple's marriage.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X E
L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
