Teachers Honor Past Presidents

The P.E.I. Teachers' Federation annual convention ended at Prince of Wales College yesterday with addresses by Malcolm MacKenzie, deputy minister of education and Hartwell Daley, provincial resources director, honoring of past presidents of the Federation, and an open forum.

The teacher today, Hartwell Daley, contended in his address, stands at the critical junction, more so than the person in any other profession. It is the teacher's task to "sell" education, to overcome obstacles to education, to find talents and encourage them, to know the relationship of education to the economic future of the area. "The whole future of our government's system rests in convincing youngsters of the importance of education."

Elmsdale-Alma Road To Be Paved

ALBERTON — J.W. Campbell and Hubert Gaudet, members of the legislature from the First District of Prince, announced jointly yesterday that the main western highway from Elmsdale to Alma would be paved this year.

This news, they felt, would be favorably received throughout the province particularly in the western section.

The West Prince members expressed pleasure over the strides being made in road paving since the Progressive Conservative government came to power in 1959.

In only two years more than 22 miles of permanent paving was built in the first electoral district a decided improvement after the shabby treatment by the former government, the members stated.

CAUSEWAY

(Continued from Page 1) all three counties instead of two. "Before we came into power you couldn't land a large plane at the Charlottetown airport and Mr. Pearson would have been forced to land at Summerside," he said.

Turning to the recent announcement that the P.E.I.-N.B. causeway would be built, Mr. Macquarrie said that the causeway would be built because "when you have the word of the Prime Minister, you don't have to worry about it. The party that gave the province its first car ferry will give it the causeway."

The Fisheries Minister also touched on the record of the Diefenbaker Government and told the audience that his ambition was to "justify the confidence you have placed in me."

PROOF OF FAITH

He said the announcement of the $105,000,000 causeway was proof of the faith the Conservatives have in Canada's future.

Premier Shaw said that the record of the Conservative Government was such that every Islander, Liberal or Conservative, should be proud of it.

He said it would be "a sad thing, indeed, if the Conservatives were not returned to power and if the Liberals are elected it would be a misfortune and a calamity."

Premier Shaw said that he always had faith that the causeway would be built eventually and "now it will be here in a few years."

Ice Fields Move Slowly

E. K. McNutt, district marine agent, said last night that ice in waters surrounding Prince Edward Island is slowly funneling out of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and rotting and disintegrating.

He reported that ice fields are affected by wind and tide conditions, the two main factors.

West of Charlottetown, between Victoria and West Point, there are a large number of ice floes in the area, stated Mr. McNutt. Tuesday there was a heavy concentration of ice in the Pictou area, but the wind and tide yesterday had moved it away. There is still quite a lot of ice in the northern P.E.I. waters towards the Magdalen Islands, and also in the Cape Breton area.

"It isn't a matter of how thick the ice actually is that matters," said the marine agent, "the determining factor is how concentrated or vast the fields are."

He stated that shipping is moving with caution; some ships requiring icebreaker aid, while others are negotiating the waters under their own power.

Kensington Board Of Trade Hears Reports On Activities

KENSINGTON — Keen regret was expressed at the Kensington Area Board of Trade meeting on Wednesday evening when it was learned that the guest speaker, Reid Sangster would not be present due to an attack of flu.

The president, Edson Raynor presiding at the April general meeting held in the Town Hall, and welcomed the new secretary, E.C. Moore, recently appointed to replace Vernon Millar who is leaving Kensington.

A.M. Johnstone, chairman of the tourist committee, reported that the committee met with the Kensington Town Council to discuss the matter of setting up a tourist bureau in the town, along with an outlet for handicrafts, as requested by the Women's Institutes. He said the Town Council was very co-operative and agreed to rent rooms in the old town hall at a small rental figure.

The handicrafts would be supplied by the area represented by the local board. More recently Mrs. L.G. Ramsay of the WI asked that the Bedeque area be included also. The board approved this request with a motion to the effect that the Bedeque area be allowed to participate for the current year. Appreciation to the Town Council, the Lions Club, and officials for their co-operation in the project, was expressed in a motion.

The secretary was authorized to write a letter to the owners of the oil tanks situated just outside Kensington on the road leading to Summerside, protesting their unsightly appearance and requesting that they be given a coat of paint.

John Lockyer, reporting for the membership and program committee, reported that Mr. Sangster had hoped to be at the meeting in spite of an attack of flu but had not arrived.

The marketing director, who had agreed to be guest speaker at the meeting, asked that a future date be kept open.

A report on health services submitted by Rev. E.H. Bean and read by the secretary, recommended a resolution drawn up by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, designed to strengthen the weaker links in Canada's health services, and arguing against the introduction of a "socialized medicine scheme." The brief was directed to the Royal Commission on Health Services. The meeting adopted the report.
