Swedish Quartette. The entertainment in Mechanics' Hall last night in the series of Friday popular concerts, abundantly maintained the general standard of excellence which the "Pop" reached at the outset.

Swedish Quartette, assisted by Miss Barden, reciter, and Miss Yida, J. Skoog, accompanist. There was large audience, and the frequent and hearty applause which punctuated the various items on the programme showed how admirably it was sustained. After a vocal march by the quartette, Miss Barden, a pretty, young woman, charmingly gowned, recited Longfellow's familiar poem, "Robert of Sicily," which was loudly applauded. One of the features of the entertainment was a novel arrangement of "The Gwine Back to Dixie," which was sung by the quartette. Emil Skoog sang the solo very acceptably to an imitation band accompaniment by the others. All four joined in the old refrain with the happiest effect. In response to an encore they sang the hymn, "Brightly Beams Our Father's Mercy," which was notable in the last verse for an effective imitation of an accompaniment on a church organ. The individual singing, particularly that of Emil Skoog, was enjoyable all through, as were also the contributions by the quartette, while Miss Barden in her readings showed herself to be a decided acquisition to the company.—The Telegram, Worcester, Mass. This company will be in the Lyceum next Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.
