

PRINCE COUNTY HOSPITAL PLANS CAMPAIGN

Mr. D. L. Miller (left) chairman of the publicity committee of the Prince County Hospital membership campaign is seen at a weekend meeting to plan the annual membership campaign which will commence October 27th and continue throughout that week.

FIND ARTIFACTS reported to have been even more successful than during the two previous seasons. Thirty burial remains were unearthed in the 2,000-year-old mounds, as many as in the 1956 and 1957 seasons combined. A village site, 500 feet in length, yielded 60 cartons of bones and artifacts which have been shipped to the Royal Ontario Museum for further study.

Polio Fading In Canada But Battle Not All Won

OTTAWA (CP)—Polio, once a dreaded killer andcrippler, appears to be fading fast in Canada under an all-out public health offensive armed with Salk anti-polio vaccine.

But a minor outbreak in Manitoba, where half of the country's polio cases this year have occurred, stands as a sober reminder that the battle has not yet been won.

Health department officials here have no complete explanation for the situation in Manitoba, which up to last Saturday had reported 83 of the total 161 cases in Canada since the start of the year.

"It's a very capricious sort of disease," one expert said. He suggested one reason might be that the province's population—relatively uncrowded and with high living standards—does not have the natural immunity which is acquired through mild exposure to the disease at an early age in denser populations with lower living standards.

PROVIDE OBJECT LESSON Whatever the reason for the Manitoba cases, health officials point to them as an object lesson why Canadians should get Salk vaccine shots.

The people getting polio now are those without vaccine, one official said bluntly. Since last spring the vaccine campaign has been largely directed to having adults aged 20-40 and pre-school children vaccinated.

Federal officials say they have been informed that about half of Manitoba cases were adults although, paradoxically, the province has a high proportion of its adults vaccinated.

Still not definitely proved is the length of protection given by Salk vaccine.

Here is the total of polio cases by provinces up to Oct. 4, with comparative figures in brackets of the annual average in 1955-57 for the corresponding period: Newfoundland 4 (2); Prince Edward Island 0 (3); Nova Scotia 0 (20); New Brunswick 0 (4); Quebec 34 (54); Ontario 12 (73); Manitoba 83 (9); Saskatchewan 1 (13); Alberta 19 (47); British Columbia 8 (53).

So far this year there have been seven polio deaths in Manitoba, three in Ontario, two in British Columbia, one in Alberta and one in New Brunswick.

AIRLIFT TO SAFETY HONG KONG (Reuters)—Helicopters Friday airlifted about 150 Communist Chinese passengers and some crew members to safety from the grounded 3,405-ton Norwegian vessel Hoi Wong, 250 miles from the Indochina coast.
