

Moxy Fruvous

by Jennifer Caseley and Aldera Chisholm a.k.a. "Sam I Am"

WOULD YOU LIKE GREEN EGGS AND HAM? Would you eat them in a house? Would you eat them with a mouse? Would you eat them in a box? Would you eat them with a fox? Would you, could you in a car? Would you, could you in a bar? Eat them, meet them in the Barn?

Huh? If you are confused, there is a simple explanation: Moxy Fruvous is playing at the Barn. Regardless of your stance on odd coloured breakfasts, you are bound to like this band. This music/comedy troupe played at the Barn about a year ago and they are back Thursday, October 20. The band consists of four undergrads from Ontario. As recent students they know how to have a good time and how to host a great party! They also hit on the topics that students know and appreciate in their music -- from environmental problems to pizza.

For the uninitiated, Moxy plays a variety of musical styles including a rap version of our favourite Dr. Seuss book - do we need to tell you which one? While many of their comedic tunes have political undertones, there are rumours that the band has taken a more serious tone overall with their latest disc entitled Wood. We have yet to hear this CD, but the previous recording Bargainville has gained a legion of fans.

Tickets are only five bucks, and Finley says they are bound to sell fast. All students are encouraged to attend this wet/dry event as Moxy Fruvous is sure to satisfy almost everyone's musical tastes. So head down to the Barn and get your advance tickets which are on sale starting Monday, October 16. See you there, and all you losers who would not, could not get to the show, look for a review next issue. (What, did you expect it to rhyme?)

What's Up At The Panther Lounge

If the first month of the fall semester is any indication, the rest of the school year should not be missed here at the Panther Lounge. We got off to a great start with sell-out crowds at the Irish Descendants, Bob Lambert, and the Road Apples performance.

Join Jen Daley (host of trivia) every Wednesday night in the Panther Lounge, 8-10pm. The lounge has been packed every week.

Also, do not forget Movie Pubs every week, we try to bring in classics and new releases all the time. Who can forget Pulp Fiction? Every Friday after the Movie Pub there are Pool Tournaments beginning at 6pm. There are lots of prizes, come test your luck.

Ever have the feeling you are being watched? Like every move is being tracked? Do you feel you have to watch your back, walk softly and carry a big stick? Well, if you feel like increasing your paranoia, Assassins is the movie for you (8 stars).

Robert Rath is the best in the world. No, not at boxing. Killing. A gun-for-hire himself sometimes, Sylvester Stallone stars as Robert Rath, a professional assassin, hired to kill anybody and everybody. Haunted by the memory of killing his best friend fifteen years ago, Rath contemplates retirement after his next job. It pays 2 million dollars, and his marks are four Dutch buyers and a woman. The woman, code name Electra (Julianne Moore), holds a disk with information the Dutch buyers want, as does Rath's contractor. Sounds easy enough, except that Rath now has competition on his jobs.

Enter Miguel Bain (Antonio Banderas) as the competition, and though he admires Rath, he also wants to be numero uno. To do that, he has to hit the buyers and the woman, get the disk, and kill Rath. No easy task when you're dealing with the Demolition Man (yes, I know it's another movie, relax).

More tricks appear. Rath ends up with the disk and the woman (no big surprise there), and is about to get paid 20 million dineros for the disk. Sounds good, but he also has Bain on his back, ready to pop a few holes into him as soon as he leaves the bank.

More intrigue arises later in the movie, and it ends with a bang -- literally. Enjoy!

Good rentals: Corrina, Corrina (Ray Liotta and Whoopi Goldberg, a touching love story, way better than Whoopi and Ted Danson); Shawshank Redemption (I'm a big fan of Morgan Freeman); Rudy (It's been out for a while, but still a good movie).

Soundtracks: The soundtrack to The Cure is a nice, relaxing soundtrack. From the movie about two friends who struggle together to find a cure for the other's AIDS affliction. The movie is due out soon in rentals, October 23rd, I believe.
