

Operatic Couple Shows Remarkable Versatility

(The following was written especially for The Guardian by the director of music for P.E.I.)

By CHRISTOPHER GLEDHILL The names of Leopold Simoneau and Pierrette Arie are of course well known in opera houses all over the world. It was a great pleasure to hear these two exceptionally fine singers in their own country in a hall befitting them. One of these days we hope that we might have the opportunity of hearing them here in an opera!

her own with the Debussy songs, and so did the accompanist, a young man named Claude Savard, whom I have not heard before. These songs, so full of delicacy and atmosphere, pose some terrible problems of technique and, above all, of interpretation. The wide range of the vocal part, the difficulties of co-ordination between the voice and piano, and the evanescent and fugitive quality of Debussy's impressionistic style are there all the time, but these people made it sound easy. Duparc's songs are perhaps not so well known outside the English-speaking world as they should be. Mr. Simoneau gave full value to their sustained lyricism and finished this group with a rousing performance of Saint-Saens' 'Dance Macabre' which delighted the audience. I was less interested in the final duet from Massenet's 'Manon', not so much because of the singing, which was of the same high quality, but because Mas-

CONTEMPORARY ART EXHIBIT OPENS

Rev. Adrian Arsenault and Dr. Brendan O'Grady are not regarding with horror or uneasiness the evidence of an unhappy demise. The sculpture between them is a figure of Christ, created on a metal form by wedding numbers of small pieces of scrap metal by Swiss-Canadian Walter Fuhrer. Father Arsenault organized and directed the exhibition of contemporary sacred art of which the sculpture is a work. Dr. O'Grady assisted in preparing the catalogue. Both were at the exhibition's opening, Saturday night, in the Kelly Memorial Library of St. Dunstan's University.

Fishing Boats For Eskimos Christened

ALBERTON — From the enactment of Jacques Cartier's landing the scene of centennial celebration Saturday moved to Alberton South where two boats, built for the department of northern affairs for use by the Eskimos in commercial fishing, were christened by Mrs. Walter R. Shaw and Mrs. J.G. Desbrisay.

The ceremony of blessing of the boats was conducted by Rev. Gerald Steele, Rev. Peter D'Arcy and Rev. David MacDonald.

It seemed fitting that a ceremony connected with ship building should have a place in the centennial day celebrations for Alberton Industries, builders of these sturdy craft, are continuing an industry begun in this community many years ago.

R.D. McKinnon welcomed the guests on behalf of Philip Kinch, proprietor of Alberton Industries, and C.R. Leard acted as chairman.

Senator Orville Phillips noted that at the time of construction the Eskimo people and the area in which they live were very remote from here. In the building of these boats for the Eskimos he saw evidence that consideration had been a success.

Other speakers were Governor W.G. MacDonald, Premier Walter R. Shaw, Hon. I.G. Desbrisay, minister of finance for the province of New Brunswick, Hon. Henry Wedge, Hon. Alban Farnsworth, Col. Mansel, Robert Campbell, M.L.A., Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Mayor Roy Leard, E.W.D. Campbell and Philip Kinch.

Micouche had presented a concert the executive and coordinated a number of selections during the day. Celebrations began with a street dance Friday evening. In the late afternoon a number of people were guests of E.C. Brown aboard the HMCS New Waterford.
