Recital At Summerside Last Night

At the Summerside High School auditorium last evening citizens of Summerside and vicinty were most fortunate to have the privilege of hearing the Maritime lyric soprano Miss Audrey Farnell.

She was accompanied by Miss Muriel Goodwin of Halifax.

In her diversified program chosen, Miss Farnell exhibited a clarity of perception of tone which was received most enthusiastically by the large audience. She paid a special tribute to Mr. Walter McNutt the composer of "Take Me To A Green Isle," and remarked it was one the finest selections, after which she sang it most acceptably.

She responded to several encores.

After the recital a reception was held in the High School library at which she was guest of the Summerside Rotarians and their wives.

Her recital in Summerside was sponsored by the Rotary Club..

Miss Farnell, a native of Amherst, Nova Scotia, began her study of voice with Ethel Peake of the Mount Allison Conservatory of Music. Sackville, N. B. Later she went to Toronto to continue her instruction with George Lambert of the Royal Conservatory of Music there.

Brigadier Price Nominated At Conservative Convention

Brigadier John Price of Montreal was nominated unanimously yesterday afternoon at a Progressive Conservative convention at Summerside to contest Prince County at the next federal election. The convention was held at the Regent Theatre.

This was the second nomination Brigadier Price has received as federal candidate for Prince. In 1949 he contested the constituency and was defeated by Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., the present parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Fisheries.

His nomination was moved by Lt. Col. Dr. J. A. MacPhee, Summerside and seconded by Mr. Sydney Enman of Enmore.

Dr. MacPhee, in moving the nomination, reviewed the political career and war record of Brigadier Price and said that although he was not an Islander he was the next best thing "an Islander by adoption".

Mr. P. L. Morris, president of East Prince and Mr. Gus Peters, president of West Prince Progressive Conservative Associations were the joint chairmen of the meeting.

The convention was largely attended by delegates from practically every poll in the country. Mr. Morris stated after the convention that a tabulation of delegates present showed that 95 1-2 per cent of possible delegates had registered There was a large attendance of other supporters also of the party and the seating capacity of the Regent Theatre was taxed to hold those who came to attend the convention.

Mr. Morris, in welcoming the delegates said that the purpose of the convention was to nominate a federal candidate to contest Prince County in the next federal election.

Brigadier Price Speaks

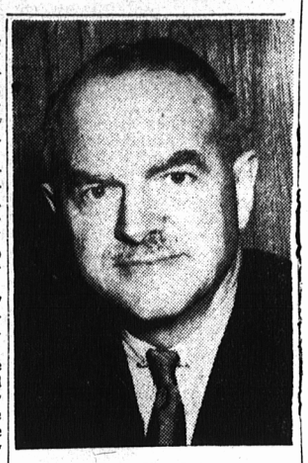
In his acceptance speech, Brigadier Price said, "I accept the nomination with great pleasure and with a sense of being privileged and complimented that you should think that I was worthy and able to give this county the representation it should have at Ottawa."

He said that the present government is developing an attitude that the Canadian people are beginning to recognize as dangerous to the welfare of the country. He scored the practice of income tax officials, who, he said, come to the people, look into their affairs and make them feel, in many cases, that they are criminals. This, he continued, "reflects the state of mind of the people on top. They have been there so long and feel so secure that they think they can ignore the people of this country and do as they please." While admitting that the taxes imposed on the people are to some extent justified, he contended that millions of dollars are taken unnecessarily from the public and used for other purposes than defense, etc., in some cases for political purposes.

"I will promise you," he said, "that I will do everything I can to win this election. It is not possible for one man to win, I cannot do it without you, but I feel confident that you will go home, put your shoulder to the wheel and work, and I feel confident also that with your help we can weld together an organization that will be unbeatable."

The guest speaker at the convention was Mr. Albany Robichaud, M.P. for Goucester County, N. B. Mr. Robichaud arrived by plane in Prince Edward Island on Tuesday evening from Ottawa.

He was introduced by Mr. R. R.



Brigadier Price

Bell, leader of the Opposition in Prince Edward Island, who paid tribute to the workers in this county who had turned out in such large numbers to nominate a candidate. He congratulated the convention on nominating such a man as Brigadier Price.

Mr. J. F. Arnett of Summerside moved a vote of thanks to the guest speaker which was ably seconded by Mr. Peter Gallant.

Brigadier Price, who is accompanied by Mrs. Price, will remain in Summerside until Saturday when they will return to Montreal.

A committee was appointed at a meeting at Kensington last night to consider further action looking towards the establishment of a regional high school in the centre. Mr. George Brookins of Kensington is the chairman and other members include the chairmen of the boards of school trustees from surrounding districts.

Last night's meeting in the King George Hall was attended by representatives from some 19 school districts around Kensington. Mr. James Saunders presided.

Speakers last night included Dr. L. W. Shaw, deputy minister of education. In an interesting and informative talk he outlined the organization of larger units of administration and the advantages of operating primary and secondary schools under this system. He described how the regional high school fits into this program.

Dr. Shaw also gave a brief survey of how other Provinces developed their larger units of administration and disclosed some interesting fact about the transportation of pupils. He said all Island schools transporting pupils now have a better average attendance that they had previously.

The speaker also pointed out that every superintendent of education in P. E. I. since 1912 in their reports had recommended the larger unit of administration.

Mr. J. B. Jelly, supervisor of schools in the area, also spoke, and noted that when grades 11 and 12 were added at Summerside many pupils who would have discontinued school at the end of grade 10 were enabled to continue their education.

After his talk Dr. Shaw answered many questions from the interested audience.
