"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

SECOND SECTION — Charlottetown, Tues., Dec. 6, 1966. — PAGE 11

City Badmington Play-Downs Here

This Thursday evening at 7 p.m. at the Col. Gray Senior High School, Badminton eliminations will be held in all divisions to determine who will represent the eastern half of P.E.I. in the provincial finals to be held during the week of December 12-17th. Following Thursday night's play, the remainder of these eliminations will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Birchwood High School gymnasium in Charlottetown. Any badminton player who resides in the eastern half of P.E.I. will be eligible to participate in these eliminations.

In the ladies' singles and the mens' singles, two players in each division will represent the eastern half against the western half of P.E.I. in the provincial finals.

In the ladies' doubles, mens' doubles, and mixed doubles, two teams from each of these divisions will represent the east against a like number from the west in the provincial finals.

The provincial finals will be held as follows: In Summerside on Monday, December 12, provincial winners will be decided in mixed doubles and both ladies' and mens' singles. In Charlottetown on Saturday, December 17, winners will be known in both the ladies' and mens' doubles teams.

The ultimate provincial winners in the five divisions-ladies' singles, mens' singles, ladies' doubles, mens' doubles, and mixed doubles, will represent P.E.I. in the 1967 First Canadian Winter Games in Quebec City during the week of February 11th to the 19th. Play during this week will be held at the Quebec Winter Club, Laurier Avenue, in Quebec City.

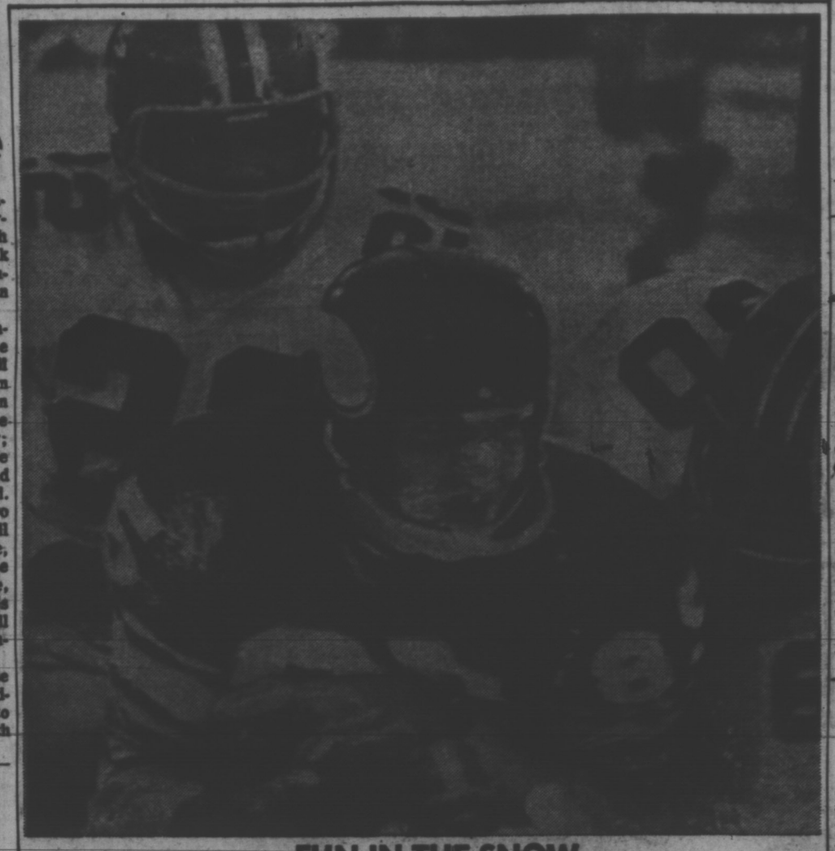
Favorites in the local eliminations are Sybil Cutcliffe in the ladies' singles; Jack and Bill Blanchard with Jack Turner in the mens' singles; top team in the mixed doubles should be Sybil Cutcliffe and Ivan Vessey; mens' doubles top teams are Jack Turner—Bill Blanchard and Ivo Cudmore—Jack Blanchard.

All matches will be best two out of three games. No rest will be allowed after the first game, but a five minute rest will be allowed after the second game, if it is necessary. Feather birds will be used and wood shots will be counted as good in all matches.

Any questions concerning these provincial eliminations in badminton should be directed to Jim Bentham or Earl Smith of Charlottetown.

3 Canadians In USPGA

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (CP-AP)—Three Canadians will be included in the 121 teams starting competition Wednesday in the world's richest golf tournament, the $275,000 second annual U.S. Professional Golfers Association team championship.



FUN IN THE SNOW

Face splashed with snow, Minnesota Vikings' Paul Flatley (85) hugs ball after gaining first down against the Atlanta Falcons during the National Football League game in The Twin Cities Sunday. Flatley, who grabbed pass from quarter Bob Berry for 8-yard gain, is topped by Falcons' Lee Calland (22), left, and Tommy Nobis (60). An overnight snowfall covered the field at Metropolitan Stadium and only the yardlines were brushed clear of snow. The Falcons downed the Vikings, 20-13.

Cincinnati Investors Buy Reds To Keep Club Home of Cincinnati investors bought Cincinnati Reds of the National League Monday from William O. DeWitt for an estimated $7,000,000.

Purchase of the club which, as Cincinnati Red Stockings, became the nation's first professional baseball club, dating back to 1869, was announced by Francis I. Dale, president and publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirier.

DeWitt bought the club for a reported $4,600,000 in 1962.

During his tenure the Reds won one league pennant and were among the contenders on two other occasions.

WAS KEY MAN

Dale was instrumental in putting the purchasing group together.

Other members of the group are The Enquirer; Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co.; attorney Louis Nippert; David Gamble, attorney and a director of Procter and Gamble Co.; Raymond L. and Barry Buse, owners of the R. L. Buse Co., whisky distillers; Dr. William Hackett, London, Ohio, veterinarian; John Sawyer, London, farmer and cattle rancher; A. E. Knowlton, Bellefontaine, Ohio, contractor; Andrew Hopple, an executive of Cincinnati's NuTone Inc.; William O. DeWitt Jr., a present Reds' official and William J. Williams of the Williams Investment Co., of Cincinnati.

Dale said none of the new owners will control more than 15 per cent of the stock.

The corporation will be known as 617 Inc. The Enquirer offices is at 617 Vine St. and Dale will be the temporary president.

DeWitt will remain with the club, as a consultant, at least until a new general manager is named.

When all details of the deal are completed, probably next month, the corporation will be known as Cincinnati Reds, Inc.

"We have purchased the Reds to assure that major league baseball remains in Cincinnati," said Dale at a news conference.

DeWitt was under contract to keep the club here until 1973 but there have been recurring rumors it might be moved.

Dale said that manager Dave Bristol and members of the present Reds' front office staff would be retained.

The transaction includes ownership of Crosley Field and the right to sell it to the city—the same agreement DeWitt had.

The sale still must be approved by the National League club owners but DeWitt said he anticipated quick approval.

Fredericton Ties Polish Nats 7-7

FREDERICTON (CP) Bill Cowan of Stratford, Ont., scored two goals as Fredericton Junior Red Wings battled to a 7-7 tie with the Polish Nationals in an exhibition hockey game Monday.

Cowan's second goal — at 18.04 of the third period — earned the tie for Fredericton before a capacity crowd of 2,300.

Fredericton, affiliated with the NHL's Detroit Red Wings, led 3-1 after the first period but fell back 6-3 after 40 minutes.

Poland, in the third game of an 11-game tour of Canada, ran wild in the second period with some razzle-dazzle passing to get goals from Reguka, Stefaniak, Kilanowicz, Gatezewski and Biatynicki.

Reguka also scored in the first period and the team's other marker came from Zurawski.

Phil MacDonald, Fred Rowan, Joe Brown, Scott Harvey and Gordon Wheaton shot goals for Fredericton, an entry in the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League.

Young May Go To Lions If B.C. Money Is Right

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (CP) British Columbia Lions would like to have halfback Jim Young on their side, but the 23-year-old native of Hamilton would prefer to stay where he is—with Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

Young, who went to the Vikings from Queen's University two seasons ago, said Monday he hasn't given up on the idea of making the grade in the NFL.

The Lions, last in the Western Conference of the Canadian Football League this season, last week obtained the Canadian rights to Young from Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference. Toronto got defensive end Dick Fouts and halfback Bill Symons in exchange.

"I don't know what's going to happen in the off - season," Young said Monday. "I'm not keen on leaving the Vikings, but if it should happen, I'm not against the idea of playing for the Lions."

SAYS MIGHT NOT REPORT

He said he did not think any trade offers would be made before the Vikings finish their schedule a week from Sunday. He made it clear that he would not necessarily report to the Lions even if he is traded.

"I'd have to talk to the B.C. management about salary and I'd like to talk to the management here before I made any decision.

"I've wanted to make good here and I haven't given up on the idea of staying in the NFL."

Young, six feet and 210 pounds, was the first draft choice of Toronto Argonauts in 1965 after he starred with Queen's. He made the all-star team in the Ontario - Quebec Athletic Association three times.

He signed with Minnesota after graduation.

Young spent the 1965 season on the Minnesota taxi squad, a group that doesn't even get on the bench for games but stands by during the season in case injuries cut into the regular team's roster.

He landed a berth on the Vikings this season as a kick-return specialist and second stringer at end. However, he suffered a severe separation while returning a kick early this season and has been out the last six weeks, placed on Minnesota's injury reserve list.

Gadsby Prefers Coaching To NHL

EDMONTON (CP) — Bill Gadsby, who retired as a defenceman with Detroit Red Wings after last season, is not changing his mind.

Gadsby said Monday he's "not going back."

Gadsby, now coach of Edmonton Oil Kings of the Canadian Major Junior Hockey League, received a call from his old National Hockey League club asking him to come back. The Wings are in last place in the NHL with just five wins and two ties in 20 games. One of their biggest problems has been on defence.

Junior League Jottings

The League panel of experts surveyed last week's games and came up with the unanimous choice of Barry Turner of PWC as the winner of the Henderson and Cudmore player of the week award. In addition to racking up two goals and four assists in the two games played, Barry was a tower of strength to the Welshmen with his penalty-killing skill and his terrific skating. Offensively and defensively he was the League star last week and his win was well-deserved. Congratulations Barry.

READY'S CHARGES

Undefeated in three starts Spy Ready's boys at PWC have taken an early lead in League play and must be considered the powerhouse to date. In spite of squeezing out a one goal victory in their first game, the Welshmen coasted to identical 7-1 victories over Saints and Rangers to put them on top of the heap. Spy has his players in top shape very early, and this week they were displaying mid-season form. But it's a long way to play-off time in late February and Whitlock, Larter and Rynes promise to take the clucking out of Ready's Raiders many times before then.

MORE LEAGUE

Apologies to Brian MacIntyre of last year's Junior Saints for inadvertently leaving him off the list of Jack Kane's snappy Varsity squad, also Sandy MacDonald with Sydney and Duke MacDougall starring with Hawkesbury. That brings to 16 the number of last year's Juniors performing all over the Maritimes and in Quebec this season after pleasing our Charlottetown fans here last winter. Junior hockey players must be high on our list of Island exports, exceeded only by potatoes and fish!

SCORING STATISTICS

With six league games behind us and each team playing the other once, the scoring race is very close. Barry Turner is in top place with eleven points, closely followed by Paul Stanley of PVI with ten. Paul Gallant, PVI, leads the League in goal output with seven, with David Campbell, Turner and Houston of PWC, each with five goals, breathing down his neck. Three players, Paul Stanley (PVI), Barry Newson (Rogers Rangers) and Barry Turner (PWC) share the lead in assists, each with 6, closely followed by Nell Anderson of PWC with 5.

Following is list of players with 5 points or more in the first six games:

Garry MacCarron, SDHS	2	4	6
Neil Anderson, PWC	1	5	6
Bob Irwin, SDHS	2	3	5
Don Morrison, SDHS	1	4	5

With examinations looming at St. Dunstan's and Prince of Wales these two teams will be out of action for ten days or so, but it is the intention of the League to re-schedule league games before Christmas and to continue them through the holiday season. A lot of our "roving" Juniors of other years will be home for Christmas and will want to see their former teams in action. Fan interest is at an all-time high too, with just under 900 fans at the SDHS-PWC game last Tuesday, so why deny them good hockey in a GOOD Junior League? Don't worry we won't!

By the way, Miss Doris Smith and Mrs. Helen MacInnis won our Kimball Service Station door prizes this week and both performed their test of skill with dash and glamour. Come on girls, you may be next!

This Thursday, December 8th, the old rivals, PVI and Rogers Rangers, who played to a 5-5 tie the first time out, will be tangling for the second time and it should be a dandy! See you at the Forum Thursday.

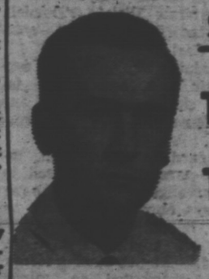
SPORTS FRONT



Tread Lightly To Be Motto

By KEN MACPHAIL

Did you have, or are you planning to have chicken or fish which you will have to clean yourself? Or maybe you need something with which to clean out the sink strainer. Or possibly you are running short of a certain type of paper product. If you can answer yes to any of these questions, may we humbly suggest our last column. That was that philosophical gem of literature that somehow found its way to this space last Saturday morning.

In it we put forth, rather profoundly we thought, what we considered to be the causes for the collapse of the Montreal Canadiens. While staring at the ceiling, our brow wrinkled in concentration, we came up with the solution. Eureka ! ! ! It was all Toe Blake's fault. Blast Blake were the keywords of the day, and we busily set to work getting these lofty thoughts down on paper.

Then came Saturday night, after which we fervently hoped that the result of Sunday's contest with the Rangers would at least partly exonerate us from imbecility. Such was not the case, and after the Montrealers put an end to the antics of New York, we leaped into bed, turned the light out, assumed the pre-natal position and wondered with much concern whether our budding career as a sports columnist was going to be terminated abruptly.

Of course, time may yet prove us to be correct. The Habs have had two-game winning streaks before, only to resume their slumber next time out. However, as was pointed out Saturday evening by those in the know on the tube, Canadiens looked like a vastly improved organization and had played their best game of the year.

Coupled with their victory over the Rangers on Sunday then, the general impression is that the flying Frenchmen have finally come out of the doldrums and that other teams opposing them from here on had better change their outlook.

In actual fact, the Habs are now only six points out of first place, and have three games in hand over third place New York, two games over league leading Toronto and one over second place Chicago. Maybe the whole thing was a tempest in a teapot anyhow.

FORMER LOCAL HORSE WINNING

Last week we mentioned that a former Islander had had a hunch at the Mohawk Raceway in Toronto, and had made a killing on the exactor. Probably the reason he picked Sing Along, the horse that won the race, was that the trotter is partially owned by Horace Willis, prominent Island horseman who commutes to Upper Canada quite frequently. Sing Along won 13 of 37 races for his original Island owner, and since Willis and his partner, George Henderson of Montreal, purchased him, he has won 11 of 22 starts and has amassed earnings of $11,225. The seven-year-old gelding, who is by Victory Song out of April Hanover had a price tag of $27,000 attached to him when he was purchased as a yearling by millionaire Norman Woolworth. Mr. Willis and his partner coughed up $5,500 for him, and the horse has certainly been more than paying for his oats ever since.

THIS AND THAT

Eddie Machen, until recently a candidate for the heavyweight title, has filed for bankruptcy listing assets of $12,955, and debts of $98,982. And we thought we were bad off . . . Sandy Koufax received the ultimate in compliments recently, when the vice-president of the Chicago Cubs said, "Koufax was the greatest pitcher of our age . . . The San Francisco Giants are trying to entice left handed relief hurler Masanori Murakami back from his native Japan. Seems he's interested in returning to the U.S . . . Somebody must have taken away Howie Young's ugly pills. Young, the most penalized Detroit Red Wing in history and also in the National league with 273 penalty minutes in one season, is the fifth highest scorer on his club, the Los Angeles Blades. In scanning the summaries of four LA games, Young's name doesn't appear once in the penalty list . . . Looks like there'll soon be another Clancy in the NHL. King's son Terry is one of the Rochester team's brighter lights . . . The Chicago Cubs of the National Baseball League have dropped Robin Roberts from their roster. Roberts, a former Philadelphia "Whiz Kid", who ran up almost 300 victories in his career, came to the Cubs from the Houston Astros last last season. He went to Chicago as a pitching coach-player . . . Jim Kaat, the American League's top winner of the past season with 25 victories for Minnesota, has publicly criticized his club's management for releasing pitching coach Johnny Sain. The Detroit Tigers have since picked up the former star.

Armstrongs Build Stable On Smart Horse Trading

By DAVE MILLER

BRAMPTON, Ont. (CP) — The vast racing stable of the three Armstrongs from Brampton all began with some fancy horse-trading by one of Canada's top wheeler-dealers.

Elgin Armstrong, who bought his first standardbred in 1948, decided in 1952 it was time to buy another. He looked around Canada and then travelled to Ben White Raceway in Florida where the now-famous driver Del Miller was training.

"I spotted a little trotting filly and followed her to the stable," Elgin recalls. "I asked Miller 'Is this mare for sale?' and he said 'Yes' and I said 'How much?' and he said '$12,000.'

"I thought that over for a while and I asked him to work her because I wanted to see her trot. Finally I said 'I'll give you $7,500 for the mare and pay you to train her plus I'll give you whatever she makes between $7,500 and $12,000.'

"You know, he took it and I looked at the mare and said: 'I've just bought the Hambletonian winner.'"

The mare's name was Helicopter and in 1953 she won the Hambletonian, trotting's Kentucky Derby, in three heats.

USED FOR BREEDING

Helicopter was the beginning of a 300-horse stable now owned jointly by Ted, Elgin and Charles Armstrong. She was the first great brood mare the Armstrongs owned.

After Helicopter was retired, she was crossed with various studs to try to find a winning combination. "She didn't throw much," said Charlie. "The first three foals were used as brood mares."

But the fourth foal, sired by Star's Pride, was named Armbro Flight in 1962.

The Flight has been described as the greatest trotter of all. Few would argue with Charlie's more modest claim that she is the greatest of her sex.

In three short seasons she has won $493,602, the most money ever won by a Canadian trotter and the second most won by a Canadian horse. Northern Dancer, the thoroughbred owned by Toronto industrialist E. P. Taylor, is the leader with more than $560,000.

On Sept. 20, 1965, Flight trotted the mile in 1:59 1-5 at Delaware, Ohio, to set a world record for a half-mile track.

WINS INTERNATIONAL

She started 26 times in 1965, winning 22 with two seconds and a third. She was second by a head in the Hambletonian to Egyptian Candor in a race that marked the first time in 34 years a four-heat Hambletonian was held.

Her efforts this year have been just as successful. At Roosevelt July 9, Flight trotted in 2:31 3-5 to beat French champion Roquepine and win the $100,000 International Trot over 1¼ miles. Her time was just one-fifth of a second off the world record for the distance.

Driver and trainer Joe O'Brien of Alberton, P.E.I., retired her after 13 starts because she was lame in her left foreleg.

"Joe thought it happened before the International," Elgin said. "So we turned her out to the grass at Shafter, Joe's farm in Northern California.

"She's looking real good now, her leg's not swelling and Joe thinks she'll be back next year."

The Armstrongs and O'Brien, 48, first got together in 1962 when Del Miller, then trainer for the Armstrongs, decided he had too many horses to handle.

"I said to Del 'What about Joe?' and he told me it would be a good move to hire him so I did," Elgin said. "He's a damn good driver, one of the best."

Both Miller and O'Brien came to the Armstrong farm near Brampton to look over the yearlings in 1962. "Joe picked out some to take to his farm for training and one of these was Armbo Flight," Elgin said.

Notre Dame Is Top Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame is the United States major college football champion for the first time since 1949. The Irish handily defeated Michigan State in The Associated Press final poll of the 1966 season while Alabama, the defending titleholder, placed third.

Alabama's 31-0 victory over Auburn Saturday, their 10th in an unbeaten-untied string, made no distinguishable impression on the APs national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Irish finished on top with 41 first-place votes and 506 points. Michigan State had eight votes for the No. 1 position and 471 points. Alabama was named the top team on seven ballots and accumulated 428 points.

Four of the 52 selectors put Notre Dame and Michigan State in a deadlock for the title. Each team received 10 points for the first-place tie. Otherwise, points were awarded on the usual basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second, eight for third etc.

Georgia finished in fourth, followed by UCLA, Nebraska, Purdue, Georgia Tech, Miami of Florida and Southern Methodist.

Ratelle Back On Ice Wednesday

NEW YORK (CP)—An ankle bruise has hampered the efficiency of Rod Gilbert, New York Ranger star, for three weeks, but he plans to play Wednesday night against Boston Bruins in a National Hockey League game here.

The game will also mark the return to action of centre Jean Ratelle following a spinal fusion operation April 26 in New York.

A Ranger spokesman said Ratelle will be spotted where needed in his first few games after his seven-month layoff.

Ratelle, 26, is a long - time playing partner of Gilbert, who is nine months younger. Both played junior hockey on the same line at Guelph, Ont.

HOCKEY

The Rogers Rangers will have a hockey practise tonight at the Forum at 8.45.
