

A Feature for Every Friday—

Among The Farmers

Federation Of Agriculture News

Federation Meetings

The decks have finally been cleared for the holding of the postponed series of meetings first planned for early March. Advertisements are appearing in the press stating date and place and we would suggest that farmers save this and plan to spend one evening before cropping with their neighbors, at the various centres where agricultural topics and Federation work will be discussed.

There is every indication that the outlook for agriculture has changed in 1952 and that now is the appropriate time for farmers to do some planning and serious thinking for the future.

Hog Support Program

The Federal Hog Support program now has three distinct aspects. 1st: Purchase of five principal hog cuts in storage at September 1, 1952. 2nd: Canned pork program. 3rd: Purchase of fresh frozen Wilshire sides. The latter will be good news to producers, indicating the strong possibility of opening the British market.

It is reported that Federal Government officials are now in Britain pursuing this matter and the current storage program of Wilshire sides is evidence of the strong hope of renewing this old and valued market.

Present prices are, of course, unsatisfactory to the farmer who is buying all his feed requirements. We feel, however, that the producer who is growing a reasonable proportion of his feed can stay in business without serious losses and be in a position to benefit from the stronger markets which are bound to develop from time to time.

The farmer who stays consistently in hogs is over the years in a better position than the in and out who is very often out when he should be in.

Beef Floor

Mr. Gardiner's statement as reported in the press, that the beef floor of 25 cents for good steers would apply at Moncton should be cause for satisfaction.

Due to the efforts of friendly Department of Agriculture officials and farm organizations the price of hogs has been the same at Moncton as in Montreal was recognized, and now apparently for the first time, beef prices in the Maritimes are going to be in closer relationship to Toronto prices.

All this is evidence that Government and organization officials do achieve results in dollars and cents.

Dairy Publicity

During the past two years the dairy industry has come in for some real competition from vegetable oils and it is unfortunate that the dairy farmers of Canada have been developing during this time an aggressive advertising and public relations program.

If the Canadian consumer is to be made aware of the value of dairy products and the domestic market developed, advertising and continuous advertising is a necessity.

Last year dairy farmers raised over $300,000 for this purpose by means of a voluntary deduction of one cent on each pound of butterfat produced in June.

Prince Edward Island's contribution made by the Dairywomen's Association was $2,000 but at one cent a pound, our share would have been over $9,000. In view of the fact that P. E. I. is a substantial exporter of dairy products it would appear to be desirable that in the future consideration should be given to this province following the plan employed by the rest of Canada in raising advertising money.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

The Indians along the Western Coast of America were using oil, when the first Missionaries from Spain arrived in the region now known as California.

In those days this "scum of oil" was used for medicine and for making fires burn brighter. The white men called it Seneca oil, after the first Seneca tribe of Indians. And believe it or not, this Seneca oil medicine cured just about every ailment as our present medicines do today.

The same dope was put up in bottles in 1848 by a druggist named Kier and sold under the name of "Kier's Rock Oil", at 50 cents per bottle.

Before long this crafty druggist was selling 2,000 bottles a day and making himself some easy money.

When beaver were plentiful in Canada and the Northern States, as many as 200,000 pelts were annually exported to displace expensive Russian sable and drap the shoulders of beautiful women.

In 1763 beaver skins were legalized currency in Eastern Canada. Two gallons of rum, 2½ gallons of molasses, 14 pounds of pork, 30 pounds of flour were valued at a one-pound beaver skin!

The Duke of Windsor's ranch at the foot of the Canadian Rocky Mountains contain 4000 acres. No other member of the Royal family owns land in Canada.

The Duke is assessed for taxes (the same as other Canadians). The E. P. ranch goes in for pure bred cattle, horses, sheep and Dartmoor ponies.

Because her relatives were cruel to her ten pet cats, Mauk Knoch, of Australia, burned up a fortune of $80,000 two weeks before she died. Cruelty to dumb animals didn't pay!

A native of New Zealand, the wingless Kiwi-kiwi, is one of the strangest birds in the world. This unique creature lives mostly among the ferns and hides during the day. It feeds upon insects and attracts worms to the surface by striking on the ground with its feet.

"Holey" money was authorized in Prince Edward Island in 1800 to stop the export of metal currency. Why was it called "Holey" money? Because a hole was punched in the center of silver dollars. These were ordered to be accepted at face value.

And seasonal "card money" was used in Quebec about 1665. Playing cards were cut in quarters, officially stamped and signed and put into circulation pending fall returns from France, redeemable when the "ships came in."

One of the youngest, if not the youngest mother in the world, was Magdaline Charlotte Renaud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Renaud of Paris, France. On the 30th of June, 1956, Magdaline gave birth to a male child whom they called Jean Louis.

12-year-old mothers are not uncommon in countries such as India and China, where child marriages are quite the thing.

On the other side of the picture, we find of women becoming mothers at the age of 65, 66, 67, and if you will read Jean Travels in India" you'll find a record of a Bhutan woman in India who had borne a child at the age of eighty-two!

All this reminds us of the common man by Hamlet on a certain occasion:

"There are more things in heaven and earth, Than are dreamt of in your philosophy."
