D. MONTGOMERY, Esq., Superintendent of Education, delivered his lecture at Stanley Hall, on the evening of the 26th inst., to a large and appreciative audience. While all praised his lecture highly, some remarks were made by one in the audience, which was thought to reflect unjustly on Joseph Rogers, Esq., a previous lecturer, for copying from old almanacs. Mr. Rogers' lecture on the "Unity of Labor" is an able production, and does not deserve the strictures of a person who would not have been present only that the lecture was a free one. Mr. Montgomery shows by his lecture that he is the "right man in the right place." A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered the lecturer.

A NUMBER of cattle from the steamer "Ontario" were landed in Liverpool, Eng., on the 25th, suffering from foot and mouth disease. Lord Carlington, in bringing the matter to the notice of the House of Lords, said that such strict precautions had been taken with the "Ontario's" cargo that there was no fear of the disease spreading. There was a good reason to believe the disease originated in Liverpool, as the "Ontario" took to Portland a cargo of Herefords which showed the disease after landing, and it is not believed that the places of detention in Portland are infected. The inspectors at Liverpool await the cargo due Wednesday last from Portland before coming to a final decision.

LITTLE BILLY, the trotting horse, owned by Isaac Hodgins, was being put on the cars, in Brantford, Ont., on the 23rd inst., and when Mr. Hewitt, who had an execution on Little Billy, saw him he immediately instructed the Sheriff to seize the horse. Sheriff Jackson and Constable Halon secured the horse and brought him to the Sheriff's office. Mr. Jackson going into the Sheriff's office, leaving Halon and Isaac Hodgins, jr., standing with the horse. Hodgins in some way slipped the bridle off Little Billy's head, jumped on his back, and made off, leaving Constable Halon behind holding the bridle. Neither Hodgins nor Little Billy has been seen or heard of since. Little Billy is a very valuable trotting stallion by Clear Grit, out of a French mare. He has shown some wonderful bursts of speed, and Hodgins has repeatedly refused nearly or quite $5,000 for him.

THE concert given at Montague by the Glee Club on Thursday evening last, was a grand success. The large hall was well filled by a very appreciative audience, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy the excellent programme so well prepared by Mr. Earle. The programme consisted of nineteen pieces, made up of operatic choruses, vocal duets, quartettes, five vocal solos and comic songs, and was rendered in a highly creditable manner. A. C. McDonald, Esq., M. P., kindly acted as Chairman. A vote of thanks to Mr. Earle and the club, and others who took part, was moved by Richard Sprague, Esq., and seconded by R. Wickwire, Esq., Mr. Earle replying on behalf of the Club. The nice sum of fifty dollars was realized. The club speak in the highest terms of the kind treatment received at the hands of their Montague friends. We hear there is some talk of the Club giving another concert at a future date for the same object, and also one at Georgetown.

THE advantage of the navigation of Hudson's Bay, for general commercial purposes, could scarcely be exaggerated. What is wanted is to obtain by experiment, reliable information on the subject. The Government has resolved to take the only available means to collect this information. Suitable vessels will be sent into the Bay, not one year only, but long enough to collect a reliable body of facts on the navigation. Should the result be to prove the practicability of this route, for general purposes, a great boon will be conferred on the Northwest. Projectors of railways have the greatest interest in obtaining this information, as they can take no practical step towards the realization of their plans till it is obtained. The time of the opening of the opening of the harbors, on the eastern shores of the Bay, does not much assist us in reaching a conclusion; the real trouble being in Davis' Strait and the Strait of Hudson, particularly the latter.

D. MONTGOMERY, Esq., Chief Superintendent of Education, paid a visit to Park Corner, on the 27th ult. During the afternoon he visited the school, and examined a number of classes. In the evening a large and appreciative audience assembled in the schoolroom, to hear Mr. Montgomery deliver one of his deservedly popular lectures, on "Education." He dealt with the subject in a masterly manner, dividing that part of it on which he treated into intellectual, physical and moral education. Each of these subjects, and his sub-division were exhaustively discussed, holding the audience spell-bound for an hour and a half. At the close, a very hearty vote of thanks, moved by Rev. W. A. Mason and seconded by Capt. Geo. A. McLeod, was tendered the learned lecturer, for his able and exhaustive lecture. Complimentary speeches were made by the mover, seconder and others. The people and pupils of Park Corner hope that this first visit of Mr. Montgomery to their school and district will soon be followed by another.—COM.

The Recent Northwest Indian Troubles.

A despatch of the 26th from Winnipeg says:—The rumors of a fight between the police and Indians at Crooked Lake grew out of the fact that early on Saturday twenty policemen under Colonel Hercher started for the cabin of Indians, thirteen miles north of Qu'Appelle River, where Yellow Calf's band of seventy-five braves are holding sway. When within two rods of their stronghold the Indians came swarming out, flourishing their guns, and refused to allow the police to come nearer. Col. Hercher remonstrated with the chief, but Yellow Calf preemptorily declined to give up any of his men or the provisions which they had stolen. He said he never would surrender without a struggle. The police were then formed in line, but the last man had not taken his position before the doors and windows of the cabin were thrown open and the openings fairly filled with rifles. Owing to the great odds and the fact of the Indians being under cover, Hercher withdrew to a farm house in the vicinity for the night and returned to Broadview yesterday. The people of that place are considerably excited and an uneasy feeling prevails.

Yellow Calf's band, on the Crooked Lake, say they sent word to Lieut. Governor Dewdney, some time ago, that they were starving. Lieut. Governor Dewdney made inquiries and found that their condition was not so bad as they reported it to be, and further, that they had wasted their supplies. They asked to have an interview with him, but the pressure of other business prevented him from meeting them. When the Indians found the Governor could not treat them, they held a pow-wow and determined to get food at all hazards from acting agent Perth who refused to be bullied. The Indians then rushed on him, breaking into the store, and took a quantity of flour and other provisions. They are now in possession of the Government stores and houses and have made all the employes prisoners. The Indians number about one hundred, under Yellow Calf, who says he will never surrender alive. They are determined to keep possession, and will fight the police if sent against them.

There is also an uprising at the File Hills reserve where the Indians, several hundred in number, fought with the storekeepers, made them prisoners and took possession of everything. They say that they have been starved, and will fight until the Government promises to give them increased rations. It is probable that there will be a big fight, and if the Indians hold out, as they say they will, fearful bloodshed will be the result.

A detachment of police has been ordered there, but it is said they will stand a poor show, as the rebels outnumber them six to one. No preparation had been made to suppress a rebellion, as none was anticipated, and the Indians could not have found a more favorable time to rebel. The Indians are well armed and have secured plenty of ammunition in the store-houses. The settlers in the vicinity of all the reservation are fearful of the Indians, and are fleeing from their farms.

Later intelligence intimates the Indians are still in possession of Long Lake. The police have been unable to make any arrests. The Indians are defiant and well armed.

Chief Peasop's band on the Qu'Appelle was quiet in the morning. A despatch from Broadview, Northwest Territory, dated 27th, says contrary to expectations, Yellow Calf, the rebellious Indian chief, gave himself up to the police this afternoon together with four of his braves. They started for Regina this evening to be tried by the courts. Everything is quiet to-day, and the trouble is probably over for the present.
