

Buildings Committee Gives Favorable Report

Words of commendation were voiced in a report of the Select Standing Committee on Public Buildings tabled in the Legislature yesterday by Joseph Campbell (L-3rd Kings), chairman of the committee. Other members of the committee were: Frank Myers (PC-1st Queens), William Acorn (L-1st Kings), Morley M. Bell (L-5th Prince) and Fred Ramsay (L-1st Prince).

Morley Bell said it was the best committee he ever worked with. They made a most thorough inspection of all buildings visited and were impressed with orderliness and cleanliness.

Particular mention was made by the Summerside member of Riverside Hospital. He recalled that a visit made to this institution some 40 years ago had revealed "appalling" conditions.

He said the committee members spoke to the patients from whom they received not the slightest indication that they were discontented. "I do not think anyone has a justifiable reason for saying that patients at this institution are mistreated," said Mr. Bell.

Mr. Campbell said he was somewhat alarmed to learn that the Opposition Leader in a radio address last Saturday night had described conditions at Riverside as unbearable. He felt this would cause unfounded concern among those who had relatives or loved ones at Riverside.

Mr. Myers said he believed the Opposition Leader was referring to a grand jury report submitted in 1958. The Crapaud member described the new Hillsboro Hospital as "immaculate" and was more than pleased to see the patients lined up for their meals in the cafeteria. He felt that this system must serve to break the monotony of long hours confined to a room. He thought the faces of the patients showed thankfulness for what they were receiving.

TAKES NO CREDIT

Dr. Bonner said he wished to take no credit for conditions at the hospitals. He gave it to the Minister of Public Works who, he said, was responsible for the remodeling that had taken place. Dr. Bonner understood that a similar program would be carried out this summer at the Provincial Infirmary.

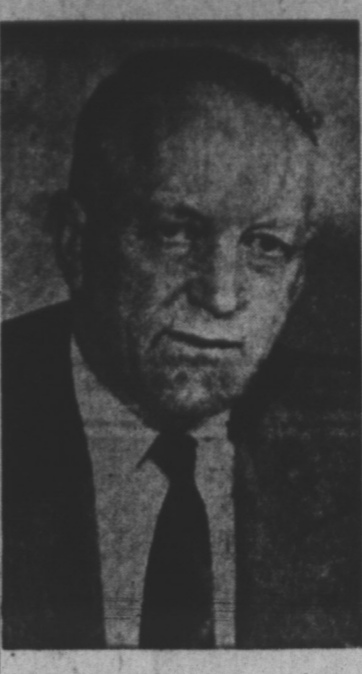

Premier Matheson congratulated Mr. Myers on the fairness of his report. Mr. Matheson recalled that 11 years ago when he became Minister of Health and Welfare he saw a number of the patients in restraint and it was not a nice thing to see.

The Premier said he set up the committee on Public Buildings upon assuming leadership of the government in order to secure information such as was provided in the report.

Speaking of Grand Jury reports, Mr. Matheson said some of these were utterly ridiculous. He quoted from a radio speech made by R. R. Bell on Saturday night which described conditions as disgraceful.

LIKE GOING HOME

Frank Myers said a visit to Beach Grove seemed just like "going home" to him. He was pleased with the evident inter-

HON. J. GEORGE MacKAY

Welcomed Back To Legislature

Desk thumping and other applause greeted Hon. J. George MacKay, Minister of Highways as he took his seat in the Legislature yesterday after an illness which necessitated complete rest for over a month. Popular with both sides of the House, the general Cabinet representative appeared fully restored to his usual health.

Succumbs At

Members lingered at their places, then finally gathered around the prime minister. But after a moment, he drifted away, alone. Mr. Pearson hurried out of the chamber.

No words of mine can express," the prime minister said, the feelings that I have and I know I speak for the members of this House. He was a long-time personal friend of mine."

I know how the prime minister feels," said Mr. Pearson, and I feel exactly the same myself. I am quite incapable of saying what is in my heart at the tragic and sudden passing of a very old friend."

Mr. Argue said it is a tragic loss to the government, to Parliament and to Canada.

The last federal cabinet minister to die while in office was Liberal Postmaster-General Alvide Cote, who died Aug. 7, 1955. A state funeral was held for him.

Returned From Halifax

Mr. Smith has returned by air from Halifax about 12:30 p.m. EST. He made a speech last night to the Halifax board of trade.

An aide travelling with him said the minister went home from the airport to have lunch before going into his office and then to the Commons. The aide said the minister appeared in good health when they parted.

At about 2 p.m., however, Mrs. Smith phoned her husband's office and asked to have a doctor called. Within minutes, two were at the Smith apartment, in a building overlooking the Rideau Canal about a mile south of Parliament Hill. But it was too late. Tributes flowed in from friends and admirers in many parts of the country.

Mr. Diefenbaker described Mr. Smith as a happy warrior, possessed of a keen intellect and a tremendous capacity for public service.

Mr. Pearson said Mr. Smith was a happy, whole-souled and generous person who made friends and kept friends easily."

Man Of Peace

Mr. Argue said Mr. Smith was a man of peaceful instincts anxious to maintain peace for the world as a whole.

Mr. Smith left behind a distinguished career as an educationist to become a cabinet minister 13 years ago. He entered the Commons in a November, 1957, by-election in the Ontario constituency of Hastings-Frontenac.

Surviving besides his wife are three daughters, Mrs. Shelagh Rand Davenport who lives in Bristol, England; Mrs. A. F. M. MacKinnon of Nobel, Ont., and

Hunter River Resident Holds Lucky Ticket

An unknown resident of Hunter River is the holder of a ticket on a horse running in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes.

Appropriately known as "lucky" the person has a sweepstakes ticket on a horse named "Vigor".

The race will be run Saturday and a ticket on the winner would be worth in excess of $140,000 to the holder.

Former MP Dies

Winnipeg (AP) — James Steedsman, 95, former member of Parliament for the Manitoba riding of Souris, died here Monday. He was elected as a Progressive and served until 1930 when he was defeated in the general election.

The speaker was welcomed and thanked by Mr. MacLean who called on J. Lincoln Dewar, secretary, to introduce him.

HOSPITAL PLAN

Hon. M. L. Bonnell, minister of health, gave the Federation members a comprehensive report on the government hospital plan as he outlined the reasons for it, reasons for the premium-type plan and the benefits accruing to farmers and fishermen especially. He said it was designed so that "never again will we have to fear facing a heavy hospital bill."

Also heard briefly during the evening were George Cheverie, representing the Unemployment Insurance Commission, who told the members of the Federation the purposes of the insurance and explained how it worked; and Zegar C. Saloni who spoke on the subject of flax as a commercial crop for Prince Edward Island.

All speakers were subjected

P.E.I. Soldier And Poet Dies

John Robert (Lamont) Campbell, 58, of 5 Lakeview Ave., Dartmouth, N.S., died in Camp Hill Military Hospital at Halifax Tuesday night.

A native of Grahams Road, New London, he was long a contributor to the columns of the Guardian under the name "John of the Lilacs" and published a volume of poetry about 1950 which was well received. He was in the builders' hardware business.

He went out west in 1912 and joined up for the First World War, serving for six years. He came back to Prince Edward Island and then went to Regina and Vancouver. He was a member of the United Church of Canada.

He was the son of the late James Andrew Campbell and Christina Lamont.

Survivors include his wife, the former Florence Strickland Sherman of Charlottetown; two sons, Hubert and Blain Sherman, Dartmouth; a brother James M. Campbell, Grahams Road; three sisters, Mrs. Edward McMurdo (Minnie), Mrs. Walford McEwen (Kathryn), both of Charlottetown; and Mrs. John Warren (Olive), Kimberley, B.C.

The remains will be sent from the Walker Funeral Home, Halifax, to the MacLean Funeral Home Thursday from where the funeral will be held on Friday, commencing at 2 p.m. Burial will be at Summerfield Cemetery, Clifton.

HEATHER, attending school in Toronto.

Ross Campbell, a secretary of the minister, said Mr. Smith had been suffering from the flu recently and had been under the care of two doctors for about a fortnight but appeared in no difficulty.

REFUSED TO REST

He refused to remain in bed," Mr. Campbell said.

He said the minister had a fever all of last week that kept rising and falling.

He was overworked," the secretary said.

During recent months, Mr. Smith had followed a busy round of activities and travel.

Following the Colombo Plan conference in Seattle in September, he went to Brazil and Mexico, returning to Canada Dec. 4. He attended the Commonwealth economic conference at Montreal early in September.

On his return from South America in December, he went at once to Paris for the NATO ministerial meeting. In January he attended the Canada-United States ministerial conference here.

He flew to Halifax Saturday afternoon for his address to the board of trade, returning by air early Tuesday and going straight home from the airport.

TOP EDUCATIONIST

It was as an educationist that Sidney Smith made his name across Canada.

He had a chance to enter politics at the same time December, 1956, national convention of the Progressive Conservative party that chose John Diefenbaker its new national leader.

Mr. Smith was invited by certain party members to offer his name as a candidate for the leadership vacated by George Drew because of ill health. But he turned down the invitation in favor of staying on as president of the University of Toronto.

In September of 1957 he was persuaded by Mr. Diefenbaker to enter the federal cabinet as external affairs minister.

CAPE BRETON NATIVE

Born on Port Hood Island, in Cape Breton, N.S., Mr. Smith was educated there and at King's College, Windsor, N.S. He went on to study law and graduated from Dalhousie University and Harvard Law School.

He enlisted in the artillery in 1916 and served overseas with the
