From Yesterday's 5 o'clock Edition.

LONDON, May 3.—Later advices received here this afternoon from the Philippines regarding the bombardment of Manila by the American fleet say that only the outlying quarters of the town occupied by the native population are in flames, occasionally a shell from the ships fell in the open part of the town and a few houses were struck.

The Spanish batteries in Manila citadel especially six large guns are vigorously replying to the American fire and have inflicted considerable damage upon the fleet.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—It is rumored here that Commodore Dewey has taken Manila.

LONDON, May 3.—Little additional news has arrived from Manila, but the cardinal fact is that Commodore Dewey is now in possession of Manila Bay and can certainly take possession of Corregidor Island even if he finds difficulty in effectually capturing Manila itself owing to the absence of the necessary landing forces.

LONDON, May 3.—It appears that Admiral Montojo was taken altogether by surprise, and that the Spanish authorities, generally, were in a state of utter unreadiness. The forts were not complete, the harbor was not mined, there were no searchlights, and the American squadron was only sighted after it had already possessed the outer and principal forts.

On every side in England is heard praise of the skill and daring displayed by Commodore Dewey in a situation where if anything had miscarried he would have been caught in a most desperate position.

At the same time credit is given Admiral Montojo who had a wretched fleet and stood no chance except from the assistance he might receive from the forts. The moral influence of the first great victory is incalculable, although it is practically certain that Spain will not yield till she has tried conclusions in the Atlantic where she hopes for better luck with her really first-class fighting squadron.

It is believed that a similar victory in Cuban waters would produce a revolution in Spain, thus compelling an endeavor to come to terms.

The sending of three German men-of-war to the Philippines is much criticized.

LONDON, May 3.—It is just announced in a special from Madrid that there is no idea of surrender there on the part of Spain, either in Ministerial circles or among the populace. On the contrary, it is added that the war is to be pushed with the greatest vigor, and the Spanish authorities intend to throw the whole of the naval strength of Spain into one combined effort against the United States.

The special despatch adds that it is stated in Madrid by those who are responsible for the naval movements, that it has been determined to avoid isolated combats on uneven terms with the United States, and that they intend to engage the whole united strength of Spain to crush the United States on sea.

Continuing the special says "until this engagement is fought no proposal for intervention will be listened to."

LONDON, May 3.—It is currently reported that Sir Julian Pauncefote the British Ambassador at Washington is to be succeeded by a high official of the British Foreign Office, Sir Thomas Sanderson, K. C. B., permanent Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, who is one of the most experienced diplomatic officers in the British Service.

MADRID, May 3.—Senor Aguilera the civil governor has just posted on the walls of the House office the customary proclamations intimating the handing over to the Military authorities the mission of keeping order.

Lieut. General DaBan, Captain General of Madrid, has assumed charge and Military patrols have just appeared.

LONDON, May 3.—The cable to the Philippines has been cut about fifty miles from Manila and a week or perhaps a fortnight may elapse before it can be repaired.

LONDON, May 3.—According to a despatch from Cadiz it is believed that orders have been given for a Spanish fleet of five vessels to start for Cuba on the 15th of this month.

LONDON, May 3.—A special from Madrid says that General Weyler declares himself ready to return to Cuba and undertake the leadership of the aggressive war force against the United States, and head the army of invasion.

BERLIN, May 3.—It is believed in political circles here that America has now gained the prize that she really had in view.

ROME, May 3.—The Pope is prostrated by the news from Manila. He expressed his horror of the terrible loss of life and said he wished he had died before seeing such a war.

HONG KONG, May 3.—The Spanish at Manila have surrendered. Commodore Dewey will form a Provisional Government with the insurgents, who will accept office.

LONDON, May 3.—English statesmen say they would not be surprised if the German Emperor was spurred to some startling action now that the Philippines have fallen into the hands of the Americans, possession of which he has longed for for a long time. He has a big squadron in Chinese waters, and we may hear of some significant move on the part of that squadron in a day or two.

AT THE CAPITOL.

How the Good News was Received.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The Capitol rejoiced last night as it has not rejoiced since the victories of 1864-65 on receipt of the news that the victory in the first battle of the war lies with Admiral Dewey's Squadron under the Stars and Stripes. For days they, in common with the people throughout the country, have been awaiting news from the Philippine islands, as everything pointed to a battle at Manila that might be the decisive conflict of the war. When the news came indicating a great victory for the American squadron the enthusiasm of the people was let loose, and the streets of the city were rung with cheers throughout the night. The first news of the battle received in Washington came in a brief telegram to the Associated Press from Madrid about 8 o'clock. At the night wore on the cable continued to sing the news of the victory for the squadron of Admiral Dewey, and the interest grew into tremendous excitement.

This far no official advices have been received by the government, but the Associated Press despatches were transmitted to the president and officials of the administration as rapidly as received. The president, in company with several of his advisers, read the bulletins in the library of the White House early in the evening, but later in the night he went to his office on the second floor of the executive mansion, where until a late hour he continued to read every despatch with deepest interest. The news was evidently of the most gratifying character to him, but no statement could be obtained at the executive mansion concerning the battle or its possible consequences.

It is regarded by some as likely that the decisive victory gained by Admiral Dewey's squadron may open the eyes of Spain to the seriousness of the contract upon which she has entered. In official circles it is regarded as almost certain that trouble of a most critical kind will confront Sagasta's government within Spain's own borders. It is pointed out that the Spanish people have been led to believe that their navy was invincible, and the bitter disappointment that will ensue over the result of the first engagement of the war is likely to precipitate internal dissensions, if not a revolution.
