Farm Forum Meeting At Whim Road

"On Monday evening, November 3rd, the first meeting of the Whim Road Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. Leslie Stuart. Ten members were present at the meeting.

The topic was "Farming As A Career". Before the discussion period, members listened to the radio broadcast which was a panel discussion of the topic. One member of the group contended that, at least financially, a young person under average conditions had a better chance to seek a career in the city; while another two favoured life on the farm.

To the first question for discussion, namely: "Suppose a young man asked you for advice as to whether or not he should choose farming as a work, what points would you consider most important to stress in your reply?" The group gave the following answers:

The young man must be adapted to the farm and have a liking for farm work; he must have sufficient intelligence to attend to the business and planning of farming; he must have capital available to equip and stock his farm and he must have the strength and wealth to carry on his work.

The second question was: "How can the attitude of the farm wife affect the success or failure of the farm?". The discussion group came to the conclusion that the farm wife must have a liking for farm life in order that she be contented, as farming is not only the work of an individual but needs the cooperation of the whole family.

Mr. William Finlayson was chosen as the secretary for the current forum year. Following lunch, the members who are all hockey fans listened to the hockey game during the recreation period.

Mr. Webb Nicholson invited the members to his home for the next meeting.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
