JOHNS-MANVILLE ROOF WITH CHARM SOOTHES SAVAGE

There's no doubt about the charm of a Johns-Manville Asphalt Shingle Roof! The wide choice of designs and colours will blend with any style of architecture. And as for the "savages" enemies of all roofs, fire, weather and wear, J-M Asphalt Shingles stubbornly resist all three. Their first cost is low, and the years of protection they afford doubles their initial economy.

A word of warning! Never let an "unknown" or "roving" roofer tempter with your roof! Too often the work they claim to have done proves extremely expensive. Consult your J-M dealer or J-M applicator on roofing matters. He is absolutely dependable and knows where to look for trouble signs and how to remedy them.

avagely invaded by imperialists.

At Pusan, Korea, Chou's statement was dismissed by the chairman of South Korea's Assembly (Congress), P. H. Shinicky, as "only a gesture... only barking."

Reds Have Planes

However, American fighter pilots back from raids on North Korea Saturday reported sighting at least 22 North Korean planes including possibly six new jet fighters. They also reported the most intensive anti-aircraft fire of the war in the vicinity of Pyongyang. Red capital 70 air miles north of the 38th parallel.

The Korean P-4 air force was virtually destroyed early in the war, so the appearance of new planes was possibly significant.

The American fliers said the Reds were repairing and building reinforcements at four major airfields north of the parallel.

These developments helped obscure the possible Communist reaction to MacArthur's surrender demand which called for avoidance of the "further useless shedding of blood and destruction of property."

Since the Japanese surrender in 1945, the 38th parallel—originally merely the dividing line between American and Russian occupation forces—had separated 22,000,000 Koreans in the south from 18,000,000 of their countrymen in the north.

Predicts Failure For Russian Aggression

"Communist Russia with all its knowledge of the atomic bomb will never conquer the world," said Mr. R. G. Christiansen in the opening meetings of Fall Bible lectures, held in the Seventh-day Adventist Church on Laphorn Ave. "Seven words in the Bible have foretold the outcome of would-be world conquerors of the past such as Napoleon, Mussolini, and Hitler, and just as surely should befall Stalin's plans for world domination," he said. These seven words are: "They shall not cleave one to another." Dan. 2:43.

"Leading scientists of today speak openly of their fear of total obliteration of the human race by atomic or germicidal warfare. People are frightened by the spectacle of such dangerous weapons in the hands of perverted and over-zealous ideologists. But God's word tells us that not man, but God Himself will bring the end to all earthly kingdoms," Mr. Christiansen asserted. "Peace will not come to this world until God sets up His own kingdom," he said.

The lecture was based on the interpretation of Nebuchadnezzar's dream as given by Daniel the prophet, found in the second chapter of the book of Daniel.

WILL FLUCTUATE

to bring back the dollar to par—as it did, in July, 1946—it would stop this heavy flow of speculative capital, termed "hot money" by the experts.

"But such a change in the exchange rate would not necessarily be justified by fundamental conditions," Mr. Abbott said, "and might be found to require reversal or further adjustment, within the not-too-distant future."

To move the Canadian dollar to any other fixed point than parity "would be open to the same objections," since there was uncertainty what the appropriate rate should be.

"In short, under the conditions which I have outlined no person can determine in advance with any reasonable assurance a new level at which to fix the par value of the Canadian dollar, and for this reason the Government feels that the rate of exchange should be left to be determined by market forces."

Much Speculation

Illustrating the large amounts of "hot" money that came into Canada recently, Mr. Abbott gave these figures:

On June 30, Canada's official reserves—used to pay international debts over and above those payable by exports and other means—totalled $1,256,000,000. This compares with the high of $1,506,000,000 in December, 1945.

By July 31, the reserves had climbed to $1,320,000,000; by Aug. 31, they had jumped to $1,504,000,000 and by Sept. 30 they had climbed to an all-time record of $1,789,000,000.

In a three-month period, then, the total increase amounted to $534,000,000. Part of that increase of course, resulted from long-term investments in Canada. The other part—and it was indicated unofficially that this amount may have been in the neighborhood of about $400,000,000—was pure speculative capital.

Canada returned to parity with the U. S. dollar, it would appear likely that about $400,000,000 worth of capital would have been withdrawn quickly and turned over into U. S. funds.

Such a transaction could have meant a loss to the country of about $400,000,000. In fact, what would have happened was that Canada was buying back, for example, bonds, at a full price after receiving only about 90 per cent of their value in selling them to investors.

To avoid that possibility, the Government, in a lengthy 2-1/2-hour Cabinet meeting Saturday, decided to let the dollar go free.

This speculator who had been hopeful of a profit in their purchase of Canadian bonds would be depressed the market.

The move to free the dollar was taken after Canada's representatives consulted with the International Monetary Fund, a multi-country organization to stabilize world currencies.

A statement from the Fund's headquarters at Washington said the fund had been informed of Canada's move to deviate from the fixed value of its dollar—91 discount in relation to U. S. exchange.

"The fund recognizes the exigencies of the situation which have led to Canada's plan," said the statement, "and makes note of the intention of the Canadian Government to remain in consultation with the fund and to re-establish an effective par value, as soon as circumstances warrant."

Can Restore Controls

Officials, questioned as to when the required "circumstances" would arise and the dollar again pinned to a par value, declined to make a guess. It may be within months or years.

It was certain, however, that the dollar would not remain free for long should it encounter a harsh market and its value deteriorate rapidly.

To ensure sufficient machinery to regulate it once again, Mr. Abbott said the entire structure

P.E.I. Reg't Holds Weekend Exercises

A most successful weekend exercise was held at Squaw Point rifle range by the P.E.I. Regt. (17th Reece), Lt. Col. A. W. Rogers commanding, when the various weapons of the Regiment were fired by all ranks. Tank driving was also part of the weekend programme and this portion of the exercise proved most beneficial. One of the highlights was church service on the range with Rev. Hon. Capt. H. E. D. Ashford, O. B. E., and Rev. Hon. Major G. McDonald officiating at the Protestant and Roman Catholic services.

The following were the prize winners:

A Squadron: 1. Sgt. J. A. Gallant; 2. Cpl. J. A. McAdam; 3. Tpr. A. L. McDonald.

B Squadron: 1. Sgt. McKenzie; 2. Tpr. L. J. McAleer; 3. Tpr. C. B. McIntyre.

C Squadron: 1. Sgt. Laughlin; 2. Tpr. J. R. Arsenault; 3. Tpr. J. A. McDonald and Tpr. A. W. Court (tied).

Winner of officers' competition: Lt. L. Blaquiere.

Winner of O.R.'s competition: Sgt. J. A. Gallant.

At the conclusion of the meet Lt. Col. Rogers presented the prizes and spoke to the regiment expressing his appreciation on the fine showing at camp in August and was very optimistic regarding the training programme for the fall and winter months. Highlight of the exercise was a tank driving demonstration by the Reg't Medical Officer, Lt. Cmdr. L. E. Prose.

Guests present from the Navy were Lt. Cmdr. Robert McMillan, D.S.C. and bar; Lt. Cmdr. J. J. Thorner and from the airforce Sqn. Leader Charlie Trainor, D.F.C. and bar.

It is planned to hold another exercise late in October.

tion of general manager, which position he occupied up to the time of his death. He was also secretary of Northumberland Fisheries Ltd., ever since its incorporation in 1901, and was president of the firm of J. Kennedy & Co. Ltd.

His military career began in 1901 when he joined the P. E. I. Island Regiment of Artillery and in 1904 he received his commission as an officer. He rose steadily to the rank of Major and in 1916 he took over command of the Ives Point Battery at Halifax. Soon afterwards he was appointed to command the Artillery Fortress at Fort Sandwich. In 1920, in recognition of his military services, he was retired with the rank of Lieut.-Colonel.

The late Colonel MacKay was a Past Master of Victoria Lodge, No. 2, A.F. & A.M. and a life member of the Empire Lodge, No. 19, Knights of Pythias. He was also a Past Supreme Master-at-Arms of the Supreme Lodge, K. of P.

He is survived by his wife, the former Maude Billingsley, of Charlottetown; and one daughter, Mrs. J. C. MacKenna, also of Charlottetown.

His brother William C. MacKay, of Edmonton, Alta., predeceased him two years ago.

WEST COVEHEAD W. I.

The West Covehead W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Gideon MacLauchlan Sept. 5, with nineteen members and three visitors present. The vice-president Mrs. C. Maye called the meeting to order and opened by repeating the collect in union, followed by roll call.

Several members presented subscriptions for the Institute News and it was decided to send those on in time for the next paper. It was moved and seconded that Mrs. R. Auld ask Mr. Walter Shaw to come to the hall and tell about his trip to Denmark. It was decided to sell lunches at this and each member take four lunches. It was moved and seconded to get a Blackboard across for the school.

Mrs. Grove MacMillan was appointed to get twelve yards of cotton at around 40 to 45 cents a yard to make aprons for a bazaar. The school committee appointed Mrs. Lloyd MacMillan and Mrs. Gideon MacLauchlan. The six committee was reappointed.

The roll call for next month is to be used later for a fish pond. The president was asked to write the National Film Board to see about getting some films for the school.

The collection amounted to $2.35. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter MacLauchlan.

Lunch was served by the hostess, and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

indicated the Government will announce its policy shortly.

Effect On Trade

Fluctuation of the dollar also will have some effect on Canada's trade structure. In the main, however, officials do not believe it will mean any great change in the general pattern.

If the dollar goes up, it will mean cheaper imports for Canada for goods originating in the countries of its two main suppliers—the United States and the United Kingdom. In this way it may help bring down the cost of essential goods.

As for exports, officials believe the demand for Canadian goods in the United States—which makes 70 per cent of Canada's total exports—is so high that the possibility of a slight increase of price of Canadian goods will have little effect on total volume.

It appears possible that the United Kingdom and other sterling countries may consider cutting down still further on Canadian purchases.

P.E.I. Veterans Among Winners

A number of Prince Edward Island veterans with small holdings are among the prize winners of the Maritime Small Holding competition recently concluded by the Veterans Land Act Office.

Islanders who won $104 in prizes in the competition according to the prize list recently released by Mr. C. H. Scott, District Superintendent, Veterans Land Act, Maritime District, included the following:

In competition No. 1 (1 acre or less)—Group A: 4th place, Dennis Neal, Winsloe; 8th place, Fred Osborne, Central Royalty; 12th place, Edgar Hayes, Mt. Edward Road. Group B: 2nd place, M. J. MacMillan, Central Royalty; 8th place, Leo Whalen, Miscouche; and 11th place, G. W. Ayers, Mt. Edward Road.

In competition No. 2 (over 1 acre)—Group A: 9th place, J. J. Mustard, Central Royalty; 12th place, David Thompson, West Royalty; 15th place, C. Bell, Montague. Group B: 1st place, Freeman Eddy, Mt. Edward Road; 10th place, Lawrence Stuart, Montague; 17th place, A. Dawson, Albany.

In competition No. 3 (Junior gardens)—Sec A (9 to 13 years): 2nd Group: 1st place, Blair Scranton, Southport; Sec B (8 years and under): 2nd group: 1st place, Robert Scranton, Southport; 3rd group: 1st place, James Craig, Jr., Bradshaw.

The object of the competition which is Canada-wide is to stimulate interest not only in the beautification of the home, but to encourage veterans to make the best use possible of their available land. It is suggested that the home be provided with all necessary fruits and vegetables, as well as earning a substantial income in the sale of surplus goods to local markets.

Tributes Paid To Late Mr. Douglas

The following tributes to the late Mr. J. Lester Douglas, M. P., have been received for publication:

Hon. A. W. Matheson, Acting Premier

Saturday, Sept. 30.

"It was with deep regret that we learned this evening of the sudden death of Mr. J. Lester Douglas. Mr. Douglas has been a member of the House of Commons for a longer period than anyone who has represented Queen's in recent years. He was never defeated in an election. This confidence in him by the voting majority in Queen's County at three elections and by an acclamation is a greater tribute than anything that I can say.

"The late Mr. Douglas was an outstanding example of one who gave all to a strenuous political life. He was a true Christian gentleman who gave unstintingly of his talents to serve his peers. The highest tribute that can be paid to anyone is the well wishes of his fellow citizens. I met several people this evening and in conversation with them about Mr. Douglas' death the general remarks were that he was a good representative whose place would be hard to fill.

"To his sorrowing wife and family we extend our deepest sympathy."

Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P.

Received by wire, en route from Ontario:

"I wish to associate myself with the many friends of the late Mr. J. Lester Douglas in paying tribute to his many fine qualities. Though on opposite sides of politics, we were closely associated as joint representatives for Queen's and worked harmoniously at all times in the public interest. Of his fairness as a political opponent I can speak from many years' experience. He defeated me in 1940 and had a good majority over me in 1945; and when in 1949 I obtained a small majority over him he was the first to congratulate me.

"Mr. Douglas commanded the respect of both sides of the Commons, and was most favorably known in all Government departments. It can be truthfully said of him that he made many friends and no enemies.

"I tender my sincere sympathy to his bereaved widow and family."

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M. P.

"It was with much sadness that I learned late Saturday afternoon of the passing of J. Lester Douglas, the senior member for Queen's and one of the members of that dual constituency continuously since April 25th, 1938.

"I will remember the many kindnesses he showed me when, as a new member of the House of Commons, I was taking my first faltering steps in the political scene at Ottawa. On many occasions he gave me very helpful advice which was of great value to me as the year went by.

"Lester Douglas had a host of friends. No appeal to him was too trivial. He seemed to find time to attend to all the numerous requests that a member of Parliament constantly receives. He was the soul of hospitality and anyone from Prince Edward Island, regardless of his political beliefs found in him a most cordial host.

"In the passing of Lester Douglas the cause of Prince Edward Island at Ottawa has lost one of its staunchest champions and Queen's County has lost one of its most faithful and conscientious representatives since Confederation.

"To his widow and his three children I extend my most sincere sympathy in their great bereavement."

Senator G. H. Barbour

"The news of the sudden death of Mr. J. Lester Douglas came as a great shock to his many friends in Prince Edward Island and also in all parts of Canada. He was first elected to the House of Commons in a by-election in 1938, and re-elected in the general elections of 1940, 1945 and 1949. He was always popular with the people of his constituency, and visitors from Prince Edward Island to Ottawa always received a warm welcome and every assistance from Mr. Douglas.

"I join with a host of others in extending sincere sympathy to Mrs. Douglas and family in their great sorrow and bereavement."

Mr. T. J. Kiekham, M. P.

"I was deeply shocked on learning of the sudden death of Mr. J. Lester Douglas. In his passing the constituency of Queen's and the Province generally has lost a genuine representative and a faithful worker. For the past twelve years he spared himself no effort in placing the interests of his riding and that of his Province efficiently and well at Ottawa. His passing has left a void in the Island's representation at Ottawa which will be hard to fill.

"To his bereaved widow and family I extend my sincere sympathy."

Mr. W. R. Jenkins, President, Queen's County Liberal Association

"I was shocked to learn of the sudden passing on Saturday last of one of our most esteemed citizens, Mr. J. Lester Douglas.

"It has been my privilege and pleasure to work very closely with Mr. Douglas down through the 15 years that he had represented Queen's County in Federal politics and his achievement in this field bears testimony of the high regard in which he was held by entered the service of the Prince Edward Island Railway in 1901 and was for several years employed as an engine driver. He retired to resume farming on the old homestead and on an adjoining farm at Head of Hillsboro.
