Clark Gable And Myrna Loy At Prince Edward

Action and romance run a race with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy as the principal characters in "Too Hot to Handle," drama-packed story of the thrills of a newsreel cameraman and a famous aviatrix, now playing at the Prince Edward Theatre. The two are teamed following their outstanding success in "Test Pilot."

Gable and his rivals scour the world for newsreel thrills. There is action in China where Gable stands amid bombs to film an aerial attack; Miss Loy as an aviatrix attempts a mercy flight that ends in a crash through Gable's efforts to gain a "scoop."

The Chinese "Big Apple," search for a lost aviator in South American wilds among savages (actually filmed in New Guiana on location), the filming of a blazing liner from the air, Gable at the camera, Miss Loy at the plane controls, are among the major thrills into which a dramatic love story is woven.

Jack Conway who filmed the successful "A Yank at Oxford," directed with deft skill, balancing the romance and thrills in perfect timing. Many amazing feats of photography add to the picture's interest.

Walter Pidgeon plays Gable's chief rival. Walter Connolly and Leo Carrillo have the principal comedy roles, and others in an excellent cast include Johnny Hines, Virginia Weidler, Betty Ross Clarke, Henry Kolker, Willie Fung and Patsy O'Connor.

Locale range from penthouses and newsreel offices in New York to the wilds of Dutch Guiana.

Fine Weather Is Enjoyed Over Weekend

Prince Edward Island's spell of fine weather continued over the weekend. Although the mercury did not reach the heights Saturday and today it did during the week, the weather was warm and the thermometer registered well over the 80-degree mark.

Gathering clouds early yesterday made ominous predictions but after a light shower of rain had fallen they cleared and the sun shone steadily all day.

Amusements were tailored to fit the weather. Baseball drew large crowds in Charlottetown at Victoria Park, bordering harbor waters. Golf and tennis also drew their devotees. Bathers swarmed to the sandy beaches on the north shore of the province while others made straight for the fishing pools.

S. Bowness, Capt. E. Hulbert, district signal officer, Halifax, and Lt. F. J. Granville, R. C. A. M. C., medical officer attached to the unit.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the morning service the Rev. Harvey L. Dexton, B.D., took as his morning subject "Cornerstones." To cornerstones in building we give important place, architecturally and as a memorial, laying such stones with impressive ceremony. And in building the structure of life, we do well to look to our cornerstones. All intelligent people build a great deal of thinking into the structure of life, looking without, looking within; there are so many questions that engage our thought, so for the cornerstone of thought, let us suggest truth. Facts and our attitude may change, truth is eternal.

Into a building may sometimes go the faulty plan of architects, faulty materials, faulty workmanship. The same dangers menace the structure of life, so for permanency and beauty and usefulness may we take the cornerstone of righteousness. In the building of life, we must consider the home and the church, so for these may we choose the mighty cornerstone of love. Life is built with relation to the nation and the world, and for the endurance of a world order and the perpetuation of national justice and well being, let us look to the cornerstone of good will. "Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief cornerstone ...groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord."

Mr. J. E. Sterns sang with rich expression "Out Of The Deep Have I Called Thee".

The preacher at the evening service was the Rev. J. Raymond Tingley, B.D., of Chipman, N.B., who is conducting one of the courses at the Church Camp for young people at Marshfield, delivering a pointed and eloquent message, What Price Freedom? Miss Vera H. M. Campbell sang very effectively, Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Appreciation From Her Majesty Queen Mary

The following letter has been received by the Secretary of the Charlottetown Branch of Queen Mary Needlework Guild from Lady Cynthia Colville, Lady-in-waiting to Her Majesty Queen Mary:

Marlborough House, S. W. 1.
June 23rd, 1939

Dear Madame:

I am commanded by Queen Mary to thank the officers and members of the Charlottetown Branch of the Queen Mary Needle Guild most warmly for their beautiful gift to Her Majesty's Maternity Home — one of the very nicest birthday presents that the Queen ever receives.

The knitted jackets are quite lovely—but everything is charming all wonderfully made, and most attractive: and enchanting collection of baby clothes for Queen Mary's Maternity Home, and one that, as you know, is deeply appreciated by Her Majesty.

The parcel arrived on June 14th, the day on which the Queen asked if it had come, because, of course, Her Majesty was not able at first, after her accident, to deal with correspondence in any shape or form.

It is really a miracle that the effects of the Queen's unfortunate mishap were not more serious, and by now Her Majesty looks quite herself, though, of course, the shock and severe bruising, have necessitated, a period of complete rest and quiet, and it will be some time, even now, before the Queen will be able to resume all the usual activities.

Her Majesty thanks all members of the Charlottetown Branch of the Q. M. N. G. very much for their sympathy over the accident, and also for their lovely birthday card.

The Queen is delighted with it and greatly interested in the pleasant view of Government House.

What you say about the Royal tour in Canada, bears out all Her Majesty has herself heard, and evidently the progress of the King and Queen through Canada has been a very wonderful experience for Their Majesties. Queen Mary has heard how touched and delighted they have been, by the enthusiastic and affectionate welcome they have everywhere received and Her Majesty hopes that you all had a splendid view of the King and Queen in Prince Edward Island.

Believe me,
Yours very truly
CYNTHIA COLVILLE

P. S. This letter should have gone out a week ago, but the volume of correspondence has been so tremendous, that it has been impossible to deal with replies in their proper order.

I should also add that Lady Constance Milnes Gaskell was with Qpeen Mary when the accident happened and escaped without serious hurt—just bad bruises and a black eye.

Lady Constance went out of Waiting before your letter arrived, but I have told her of your kind enquiries, for which she asks me to thank you gratefully.

Institutes Hold District Convention

The district convention of the Institutes of New Annan, Travellers Rest, Linkletter, Belmont, Lot 16, Central Lot 16, Southwest Lot 16, and Sherbrooke, was held recently in Travellers Rest Hall.

The New Annan Institute ladies were hostesses for the day. The president, Mrs. Hopgood Rayner occupied the chair. Miss Dalton, secretary, read the minutes of the previous annual meeting.

There were about ninety ladies present and the meetings were both interesting and profitable.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session opened about 2.30 with the Institute Ode and Creed. Mrs. John Moase, New Annan gave the address of welcome which was replied to by Mrs. Charles Monkley, Central Lot 16.

Each district then submitted their reports for the year, which were most encouraging and showed that the Institutes had been functioning and doing excellent work during the year. Committees were appointed. A feature of the afternoon was a demonstration by the assistant supervisor, Miss Haszard, on needlepoint and other stitchery. Miss Haszard brought some lovely pieces of needlepoint to illustrate her talk. Miss Haszard also had some very fine exhibits of felt work which were really masterpieces in embroidered felt work. The members of the different Institutes had some lovely pieces of handicraft on display. Lovely hooked rugs, afghans, and other lovely articles, which were much admired.

The election of officers resulted in Mrs. Roy MacLean of Central Lot 16 being elected as president; Mrs. E. O. Johnson of Belmont, vice president, and Mrs. Bud Birch Belmont, secretary. Delegates to the provincial election, Mrs. George Pickering, Summerside; alternative Miss Emiline Marchbank, Travellers Rest.

Resolutions were passed asking for more rigid rules for the Prohibition Act and reckless driving; that the Department of Education would give serious consideration to the more efficient teaching of spelling and grammar in the Island schools before the reopening of the public schools in the fall; also that the T.B. test be continued in the schools.

Resolutions of courtesy were passed thanking the New Annan Institute and all others who had made the meetings such a success.

The question box led to many discussions of interest to the Institutes. Among the most important was one, why could not the provincial convention be held in Summerside?

A vote of thanks was tendered to Miss Haszard for her excellent demonstration. Supper was served at the close of the afternoon session.

Evening Session

The evening session opened at 8.30 with a general sing song commencing with the Island Hymn. Mrs. Morrison of St. Eleanors at the piano. A vocal duet by Miss Mary Marchbank and Miss Evelyn Ramsay, with Mrs. George Ramsay at the piano received tremendous applause. These ladies were from Travellers Rest Institute. A number of children from South West, Lot 16 put on a Red Cross pageant under the direction of Miss Dalton, their teacher. This number was very delightful and the children were rewarded with hearty applause.

Mrs. Arthur McEwen and George Pickering, Summerside, representing Sherbrooke Institute, sang a pleasing duet accompanied by Mrs. John Dobson, Summerside, which was heartily encored.

Two little tots, Master Enman and little Miss Moase from New Annan, sang a charming Scotch song which deserves special mention. They were accompanied by Miss Olive Dalziel. Members of the Linkletter Road Institute gave a humorous reading.

Mr. Allison Profitt

Mr. Allison Profitt of Freetown was the speaker of the evening and gave a splendid address on the farm as the proper place for the bright boy and girl. He also spoke of the tremendous part that women take on the successful farm. He placed farming as one of the highest ideals in Canadian life and predicted a great future for Canada when farming is recognized as the highest occupation. Mr. Profitt was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

The National Anthem brought the sessions to a close. S
