THE DAILY EXAMINER

SEPTEMBER 22, 1900

"Foster makes much ado about the Government's lack of political morality, but in charging them with having increased the expenditure he is not honest enough to state that part of the expenditure has been incurred on the Yukon, which has been given back more than a dollar for every dollar expended. Another example of Conservative consistency."—Patriot, Sept. 20.

Now let us see. The total amount spent in the Yukon by the Government of Canada in the year 1899 was $1,682,842.17, whereas the increase of the total expenditures of the government last year was upwards of $10,000,000!

The attempt of the ministers and the Patriot to set off the increased expenditures of the government by the expenditures in the Yukon is, like Mr. Fielding's speech, a little too weak and thin to deceive any well-informed and intelligent man.

In point of fact there has been an increase of the ordinary expenditure in nearly every department of the government, as witness the following items:

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE INCREASES	1895-6	1898-9	Increase
Interest on debt	$10,502,000	$10,855,000	$353,000
Administration of Justice	758,000	815,000	57,000
Arts, Ag & Statistics	210,000	258,000	48,000
Civil Government	1,399,000	1,411,000	15,000
Geological Survey	134,000	149,000	15,000
Immigration	183,000	255,000	72,000
Quarantine	95,000	135,000	40,000
Indians	880,000	986,000	106,000
Lighthouse & Coast Service	466,000	545,000	79,000
Mail Subsidies	234,016	304,056	70,040
Militia & Defence	1,139,000	2,112,201	973,201
Miscellaneous	172,000	318,000	146,000
Ocean & River Service	181,000	330,000	149,000
Penitentiaries	385,000	417,000	32,000
Pensions	86,000	96,000	10,000
Public Works	1,299,000	1,992,000	693,000
Railways & Canals	126,000	384,000	258,000
Superannuation	311,000	325,000	14,000
Customs	$26,000	1,037,000	1,011,000
Railways & Canals	3,826,000	4,246,000	420,000
Trade & Commerce	9,000	88,000	79,000
Total	$369,900,000	$419,000,000	$50,000,000

In this connection, it may be interesting to quote a few of the promises made by the leading Liberals now in office:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said in Toronto:—"If we get into power we will follow the example of Mr. McKenzie (Have they?) and I will say that although we may not be able to reduce the expenditure to what they were under him, we can reduce the amount too, yes three, millions of dollars per year."

Mr. Paterson said in 1890:—"We are taking $6,115,000 more in taxes out of the people than we should. An era of economy in expenditure should at once be entered upon."

Hon. David Mills said:—"I say that the Government is not entitled to have a surplus. (What does he say now?) There is no stimulus to economy when a large surplus remains in the hands of the Government. A large surplus invites to extravagance, and has invited to extravagance in this country. The Government and Parliament of this country should inaugurate a system of economy."

Mr. John Charlton said:—"The Liberal party, if in power, could at once reduce the public expenditure and effect other savings to the extent of five millions of dollars per year."

And Sir Louis Davies said:—"The Liberal party says that several millions may be lopped off the present expenditure, without injury to the public service."

We might quote columns of pre-election Liberal promises, express, and implied, to the same effect.

The Laurier-Tarte party is now in this position: either it deliberately slandered the late Government in regard to expenditures, or it has, without necessity, failed to do that which it bound itself to do and added $10,000,000 or $11,000,000 to the expenditures in mere wanton extravagance.

SOLOMON SLOW'S ADVICE.

What I Would Do, or Have Done, if I Were Boss.

- I would keep politics out of all civic matters.
- I would keep politics out of all educational matters.
- I would let people know who has the authority to admit or exclude children from the Model School; at present I understand that nobody knows.
- I would have Queen Street cleaned at least once in a while.
- I would get up demonstrations and receptions on their merits; not by false pretences.
- I would have the city own its own lighting plant.
- I would have all the street hoodlams arrested.
- I would have matters improved at the Poor house.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Inter-est Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symptoms being profuse discharge of mucus, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in throat, sneezing, coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent watery discharges from the eyes. Treatment by local douches, insufflations, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be effected by a treatment which removes the inflammation from the blood and the mucous membrane.

A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The tablets act upon the blood and mucous membranes only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Sanguinaria, Hydrastin, Eucalyptol and similar cleansing antiseptics which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large pleasant-tasting lozenges taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth, in this way they reach the throat, fauces and the entire alimentary canal.

If desired, they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will cure the whole catarrh trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching and local application and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

THE PEOPLE WILL JUDGE.

Sir,—The Guardian is off the fence. "Straws indicate which way the wind blows." The wish is father to the thought in conceiving preponderance of evidence in favor of the Liberals. It matters not that they have gone back on all former pre-election promises and policies. It matters not that they have adopted protection and given the lie to their former convictions and principles. What must the electors think of men who can shift their base so readily? Did the principles advocated by the so-called Liberals during the previous 23 years conduce to build up his Dominion and lay the foundations of development of our varied industries in this Canada of ours? You have to stop and take breath to hunt for the fragments of those principles that are recorded in the various speeches of Laurier, Cartwright, Fielding, Davies & Co. to show how utterly inconsistent the contentment of the party is now in taking credit to themselves for the great prosperity of Canada. In former days the great reform party made much ado about purity of elections; they harangued every settlement with denunciations of the tariff which "developed monopolies, trusts and combines," "depressed the price of farms and other property," "oppressed the masses to the enrichment of the few," "discriminated against Great Britain" and "occasioned great public and private injury." Did not the great platform of 1893 say: "We denounce the principle of protection as radically un sound, unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any satisfactory relief to the trouble under which the country labours." Will the Guardian condone this promise and fail to witness right here the distinct promise that protection would be abolished? It matters not what our public men will say. They can say one thing and do the very contrary; and yet the Guardian's moral principles will not rise to the occasion and stand by the elevation of the moral standards for our public men to walk by. Who can place any confidence in the sayings of the Liberals at the present time?

We must judge them by their public declaration, and not for taking credit for the labors of other men, greater statesmen than they are. The electors of P. E. Island are not fools. They read other papers than The Guardian, and having the advantage of free education will be able to judge intelligently of these matters. But now that the Guardian is off the fence we will be able to draw our own conclusions as to the means that changed or developed his prophetic vision.

AT THE RINK IN CHARLOTTETOWN.

Bould J —ny Qu —n
Bat the goulden tooth an
While the listening crow
And the floor and seat
At the rink in the rear.

The band on the street played melodious tunes,
The street gamin's picnic — in stirring boom.
The mind of poor Johnny — he had all too soon,
To the softening influence — very full moon,
At the rink in the rear.

But the small boy wouldn't stir from his lair,
For those musical strains in the street filled the air;
Yet within, oh how barren and bare
Were these seats midst surroundings so fair,
At the rink in the rear.

So the moon-stricken Johnnie the police implored
To coax the small boy from the secrets within doors,
For to aid them to tramp, to clap and to roar,
And to fill up the seats on that bare barren floor,
At the rink in the rear.

And the band at command was moved within
For the Fielding claptrap and Davies' stale drum,
With the drums and the timbrel could never begin
The small boys to win, those seats to fill in,
At the rink in the rear.

So the trombone and cornet rang out in the night,
An the small boys they shouted with vigor and might;
While Johnnie transported by this glorious sight
Forgot empty seats for the rest of the night,
At the rink in the rear.

A Great Reputation,

Has been Achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Not only in Canada, But in Every Civilized Country Throughout the World—Merit Alone has Given This Medicine its Great Prominence Over Competitors Everywhere.

The reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only in Canada, but through out the world, rests upon a very solid basis, which may be summed up in two words—sterling merit. The Enterprise has had occasion to investigate a number of cures effected by this medicine, and knows that in some instances at least these cures were wrought after other medicines had failed even to give relief. Recently another cure came under our notice that cannot fail to increase the popularity of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the locality in which it occurred, and as we can vouch for the facts it may well bring hope to sufferers elsewhere.

Mr. Walter H. Johnson is one of the best known residents of the northern section of Queen's county. He resides in the town of Caledonia, where he keeps an hotel, and also runs a stage that carries passengers between that town and Liverpool, a distance of some thirty miles. Mr. Johnson was in Bridgewater recently, on which occasion he gave a reporter of this paper the following facts: About three years ago he was taken very ill. He had the best of medical attendance, but made very little progress toward recovery, and the doctor told him there was very little hope that he would be able to return to his former work. The trouble appeared to have located itself in his kidneys, and for eight weeks or more he was confined to bed. He suffered from constant pains in his back, his appetite became impaired, and his constitution generally appeared to be shattered. At this juncture he decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got have a dozen boxes. In the course of a couple of weeks he noticed an improvement in his condition and he continued the use of the pills until he had taken some ten or twelve boxes, when he not only felt that his cure was complete, but also felt that in all respects his health was better than it had been for years. Since that time he has been continually driving his coach between Caledonia and Liverpool and has not had the slightest return of the trouble, notwithstanding that he has to face at times very inclement weather that might well bring on a return of the trouble had not his system been so strongly fortified against it by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If the blood is pure and wholesome disease cannot exist. The reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure so many forms of disease, is that they act directly upon the blood and nerves, thus reaching the root of the trouble. Other medicines act only upon the symptoms of the trouble, and that is the reason the trouble always returns when you cease these medicines. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make permanent cures in kidney troubles, rheumatism, erysipelas, anemia and kindred diseases. But be sure you get the genuine which bear the full name Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People on the wrapper around every box.
