Canadian Nature Art 74

This annual exhibition of works by nature artists, started in 1971, is jointly sponsored by the Canadian Nature Federation and the National Museum of Natural Sciences. The exhibit opened in London during the annual meeting of the Canadian Nature Federation and will be shown primarily in associate museums and exhibit centres, within the National Museum Program. During the period from December 2 to 22, the exhibit will be in the art gallery of the Confederation Centre of the Arts.

This travelling exhibition is an attempt to make part of our national heritage available to a greater number of Canadians and to provide the artists with a showcase for their interpretation of the land and its life. The 1974 edition is extremely good; thus all members of the Natural History Society and other interested persons are strongly encouraged to visit the Art Gallery to view it.
