

TWINS ARE SEED CHAMPIONS

The Coffin twins, Fred and Frank, are shown holding the sample of Katahdin potatoes that won for them the seed championship at the Harvest Exhibition here.

Families Repeat Winners In P.E.I. Potato Championships

The winning of potato championships at the Harvest Exhibition appears to have become somewhat of a family affair. This year's grand championship winners in seed, Fred and Frank Coffin of Fortune Bridge, were the tablestock champions last year. The Dixon twins, Howard and Harold, from the same place won the seed championship last year. This year Howard took the reserve championship in tablestock. The reserve championship in seed potatoes this year went to John Aitken, Fortune Bridge. Anselm MacDonald was the tablestock champion. He is from Souris East.

Dixons and the John Aitkens' are all first cousins. It will be noted also that they come from the same district. Silver plates went to the champions from the P.E.I. Potato were presented by Elric Campbell, board manager. Department of Agriculture special prizes were presented by S. C. Wright, the Deputy Minister. H. Parker Jewell of York won the special prize for the highest aggregate winner in vegetables and also in the variety of vegetables that will be processed here by Island Frosted Foods. Charles Jones of Pownal was the winner of special prizes for winning the grain championship and reserve championship with his oats.
