WITTY BUT GRAVE REBUKE.—The following "silencer" is much in the style of "Once there was a man with one side of his face all black," &c., but it will be remarked here that the last story teller here makes a capital hit:

Mr. Clark, a gentleman well known for his propensity to fun, and his inability to resist the temptation to joke whenever the opportunity offers, was travelling by the stage a short time since, when he was led to indulge himself in this wise. He had for his companions an elderly lady, a half grown boy, and several gentlemen, one of whom was fond of retelling stories of the marvellous kind, especially those that had fallen under his immediate observation.—Among others he related a fact that has been widely published; that a man in his vicinity had been engaged in blasting rocks—that the charge accidentally exploded, driving the chisel up under and through his chin and head, coming out at the top of his skull, and yet the man got well.

The party expressed their surprise, as some of them had not heard of it before, when Mr. Clark observed that he had heard of a case much worse than that.

"Ah! what was that indeed?" asked the man who had related the first story.

"Why a very respectable citizen of ours on the Fourth of July, was firing a salute when the cannon unfortunately burst, blew both his arms out at the shoulder joints, mashing his legs to a jelly, and completely tore off one half of his head!"

"And didn't he die, sir?" exclaimed the astonished listener.

"Yes, sir, to be sure he did."

"Ah! but the man I spoke of recovered."

"And I told you," replied Mr. Clark, very innocently, "that my case was much worse than that."

Mr. Clark's "case" was pronounced the best, as well as the worst, on all hands and we heard no more incredible stories for the rest of the ride.

A GOOD REASON.—Charioti represents a Prussian General sitting on a bench in a public garden smoking a cigar. A pretty little girl, whom he has been noticing, says to him, "General my papa likes you very much." "What is your papa's business, my dear?" "He makes wooden legs."

A Doctor gave a prescription to a lady a short time ago, as follows: "A new bonnet, a Cashmere shawl, and a pair of gaiter boots." The lady recovered immediately.

A Sunday school teacher, deploring the lack of attendants upon his ministrations appealed to the few present: "What can I do," said he, "to get the boys and girls here?"

"I know," said one of the urchins.

"What is it?"

"Give 'em all five cents apiece."

"Hould on!" said Patrick, as he stood looking after the departed train, motioning it to stop. "Hould on, ye murtherin' old steam engine; ye's got a passenger aboard that's left behind."

A codfish breakfast and an India rubber coat will keep a man dry all day.

The Dress, the Pulpit and the Petticoats—three ruling powers of the day. The first spreads knowledge, the second spreads morals, and the third spreads considerable.

A WAG of a boarder complained to the mistress that the sun must have gone under a cloud when the shadow of the chicken fell into the pot where the broth was made.

A YOUNG lady reprimanded her shoemaker for not following her directions respecting a pair of shoes she had ordered; and, among others, insisted that they were not fellows. Crispin replied that he purposely made them so, in order to oblige her, well knowing the modesty of her disposition, and that she was not fond of fellows.

How to DETECT A SUGAR THIEF.—A gentleman called on a rich miser, and found him at the table endeavoring to catch a fly. Presently he succeeded in entrapping one, which he immediately put into the sugar bowl and shut down the cover. The gentleman asked for an explanation of this singular sport. "I'll tell you," replied the miser, a triumphant grin overspreading his countenance as he spoke. "I want to ascertain if my servants steal the sugar."

Let your will lead whither necessity would drive, and you will always preserve your liberty.

A picture in Punch represents a fashionable young couple, the husband searching vigorously in his waistcoat pockets. The wife inquires, "have you lost your watch, love?" and he replies, "No dear 'twas a new bonnet I had for you somewhere."

The bishop of Carlisle, who thinks that every boy and girl should learn to repeat the Thirty-nine Articles as well as the Catechism, recently asked a youthful scholar if he had read the thirty-nine Articles. "No," said the boy, "but I have read the 'Forty Thieves.'" "You may stand down, sir," said the Bishop.

"Do you think Jonah cried when he was in the fish's belly?" was the question put to an oily seaman by a sleek querist. "Don't know," replied Jack, "but should think not, as there was plenty of blubber without his'n."

An enterprising keeper of a confectionery store in Waterbury, Conn., has taught a parrot to say "pretty creature" to each person that enters the store. The result is that the store is crowded all day.

Josh Billings says:—"I am ardently opposed to ardent speakers as a beverage, but for manufacturing purposes, I think a little of it tastes good."

Quip thinks it rather remarkable that while several thousand feet are required to make one road, a single foot properly applied, is often sufficient to make one rail.

CHILDREN TEETHING. MRS. WINSLOW, An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers, her SOOTHING SYRUP, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—it will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over thirty years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medicinal virtues. We speak in this manner "what we do know," after thirty years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never failing success in thousands of cases. It not only allays the pain and soothes the inflamed membrane, but it corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve CHIPPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and sweetest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhoea in Children, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None Genuine unless the face—smile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal office, No. 48 Dey Street, N. Y. Price, only 35 Cents per Bottle.
